Fennec Doc II

Fennec Doc II:
Britt

Warning: This doc contains discussions of (in no order of importance) child sexual assault (CSA), racial slurs, transmisogyny, suicide, zoophilia and the distribution of child sexual exploitation material (CSEM).

Please continue at your own discretion.

Introduction

In light of the events of the past year, I feel it's time for me to break my silence.

The first section of this doc will be pulling double duty:

1. I'll be addressing the criticisms and allegations Britts-galaxy-brain and her community have been levying at me to discredit me and anything I've posted, as well as make me a "suitable target" for whatever abuse and anger they've wanted to vent at me.
2. It will serve as a valuable insight into how they construct their criticisms and what they consider "evidence."

These people aren't just deranged, their conjecture is both reckless and dangerous. When you see them throwing around allegations like race-faking, abuse of minors, and "supporting/defending pedophiles," you need to understand the "logic" behind those allegations.

Britt and her community are bitter, spiteful, untrustworthy, and incredibly reckless with their bad faith assumptions (which they call "logic" based on "proof"). The path she's leading her younger followers down is downright dangerous and it needs to be addressed.

If at any time you feel confused about who someone is in all of this, the "Major Players" tab is your friend (on the left sidebar). Also, if you want to jump to the different headers in this doc, you can click on the “Fennec Doc II” tab again to open up the Table of Contents).

At the same time, I fully own that my first doc had major issues. I was younger and going through some very difficult things, so there are plenty of things I would have done differently. I want to highlight what I would consider fair and unfair criticism of my work.

From there, the doc will break down criticisms of Britt into three sections:

1. How her time in my server ended and what led to her being banned. This also contains evidence of the behavior mentioned above.
2. Her attempts to frame certain conversations with Lily as “playing along” when they do more to reveal her extremely troubling perspective on minors and maturity.
3. How Britt’s penchant for cruelty and mishandling of her influence have led the to harassment of several minors, including a 17-year-old trans girl who, as a direct result of it, attempted to take her own life and ended up in the hospital. This includes how she continued to target her after being directly informed of why it was impossible for that person to do what she was accusing them of.

I will back up my allegations against Britt with the evidence my team and I have compiled. Some of it is testimony, so you’ll just have to make your own decisions there, but also keep in mind that the vast majority of Britt’s allegations are purely hearsay with little to no evidence to back them up.

As a final note, I would like to thank every researcher who aided in the creation of this document. Thank you for believing me, and thank you for believing in me.

Let’s get started.

Fennec Part 1: Criticisms of the Doc

First, I feel the need to own a lot of the pitfalls of my previous work and take accountability for my decisions that led to people not taking the doc seriously or even giving it a chance.

The Doc's Structure

The document was intended to sort out our concerns about Courtney's behavior in increasing severity. I regret doing so now because people assumed from the first entries that the allegations wouldn't be as severe as they got. Between that and the doc being longer than it needed to be to make the necessary points, it ended up getting largely disregarded as a result. Ever since, I've felt like I failed the victims who trusted me.

I also frequently debated removing my own experiences with Courtney from the document. My own experiences were nowhere near the severity of the experiences of others in the doc, and again, I feel it drew attention away from the people who had been harmed the most.

The section regarding child safety was truly the most egregious example and was intended to be the focal point. I thought it would help to ease the reader into the more disturbing aspects of the doc, but my approach failed to do so.

Britt's Involvement

Despite what Britt has said since the doc came out, she was absolutely involved in its content. While she'd been banned from my community before the doc came out, I had already been pushed to include things by Britt despite my initial discomfort doing so and did not want to anger her further by leaving them out. Instead, she threw me under the bus and used it to further discredit me.

Here's Britt strongly denying any kind of involvement in or pre-release knowledge of the doc.

You weren't involved with the fennec doc were you? Some people keep saying that but I'm not sure that's true
No. I didn't even know there was going to be a doc. His original idea was to make a video script, which I had my own reservations about and didn't want to be involved with. He dropped the doc, which was actually just the rushed first draft of the vid script, well after he kicked me and a couple of other people out of the server.
From what I understand, the video that just dropped is just a rehash of shit that's already been gone over, discussed, and condemned.
The sheer lack of research that went into it and the sources that were used are just embarrassing.

Side note: the video contains logs that have never been released publicly and was heavily researched through testimonies of people who were present through all of the events that the video discusses. Note that she's not even bothering to watch the video, just assuming that it's bunk because of what people have told her without verifying it for herself. If you're familiar with the Poppy drama, you'll remember that she did the same thing when it came to the docs against her.

Here she is over four months before the doc came out, back when I was still planning on it being a video.

For those who don't know, CybermagusNex is Britt.

Britt agreed Courtney was a groomer

Here's Britt after the document came out saying that what Courtney did "was not grooming." I'll say it's unsurprising she would publicly take this stance, as she was a moderator in Courtney's original server.

Y'all are way too lenient with Courtney.
Gettin real tired of people acting like everyone in this space is a monolith.
Just because we aren't using the grooming word to describe something that was not grooming but was still irresponsible and potentially harmful is not leniency.
"Y'all" don't know how I personally feel about her because I've tried to keep my beef with her out of the public eye.

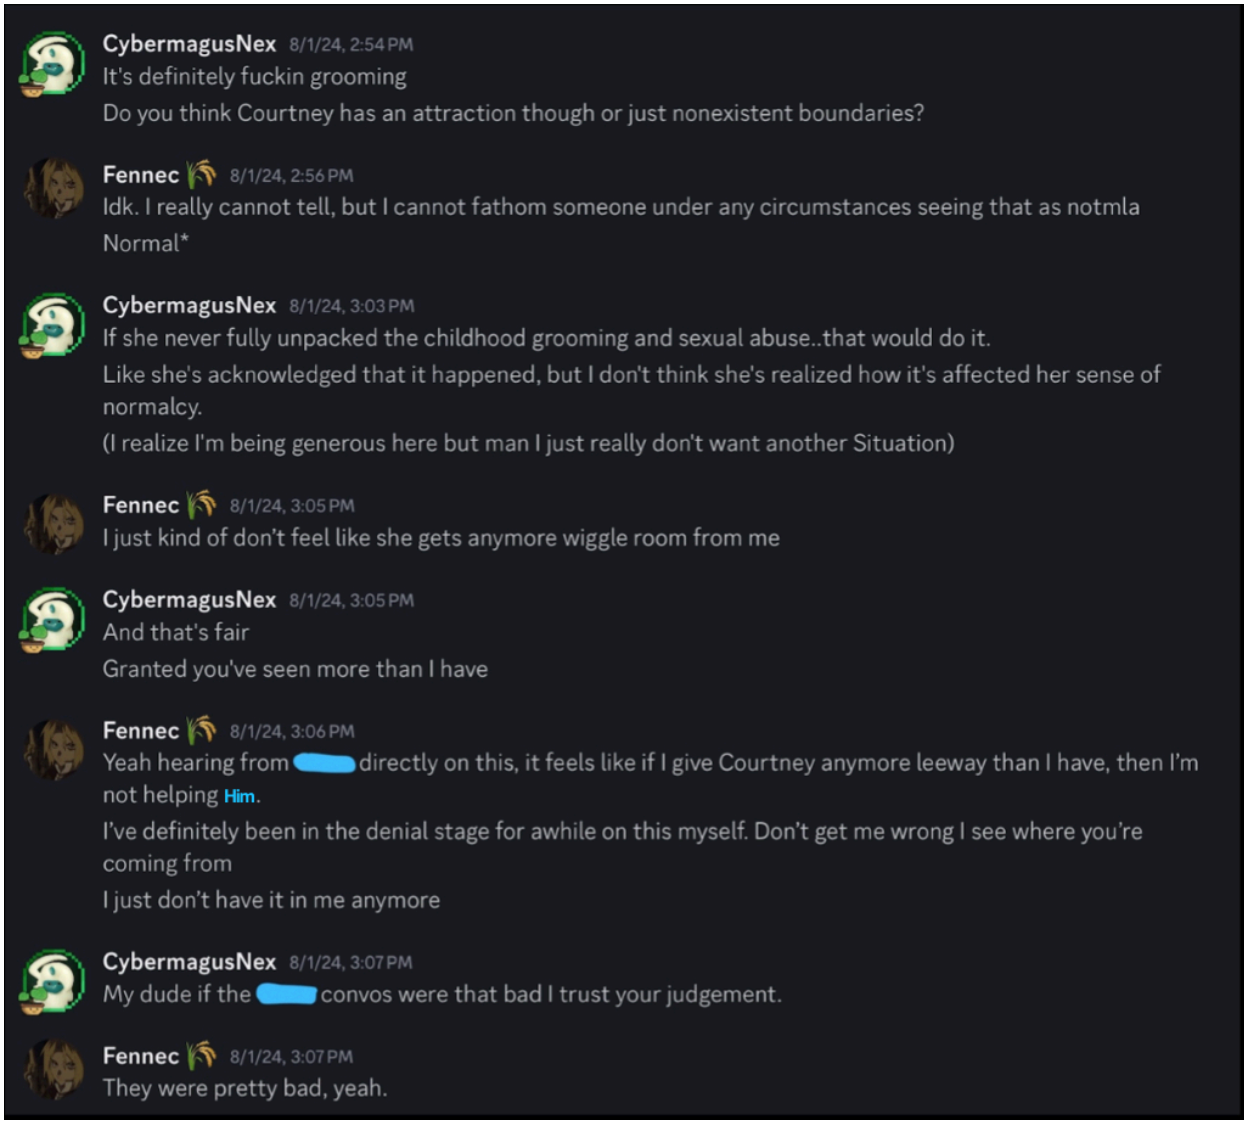
Britt a few months earlier: “it’s definitely fucking grooming.”

To be clear, Courtney’s victim uses He/Him pronouns.



CybermagusNex 8/1/24, 2:54 PM
It's definitely fuckin grooming
Do you think Courtney has an attraction though or just nonexistent boundaries?
Fennec 8/1/24, 2:56 PM
Idk. I really cannot tell, but I cannot fathom someone under any circumstances seeing that as notmla Normal*
CybermagusNex 8/1/24, 3:03 PM
If she never fully unpacked the childhood grooming and sexual abuse..that would do it.
Like she's acknowledged that it happened, but I don't think she's realized how it's affected her sense of normalcy.
(I realize I'm being generous here but man I just really don't want another Situation)

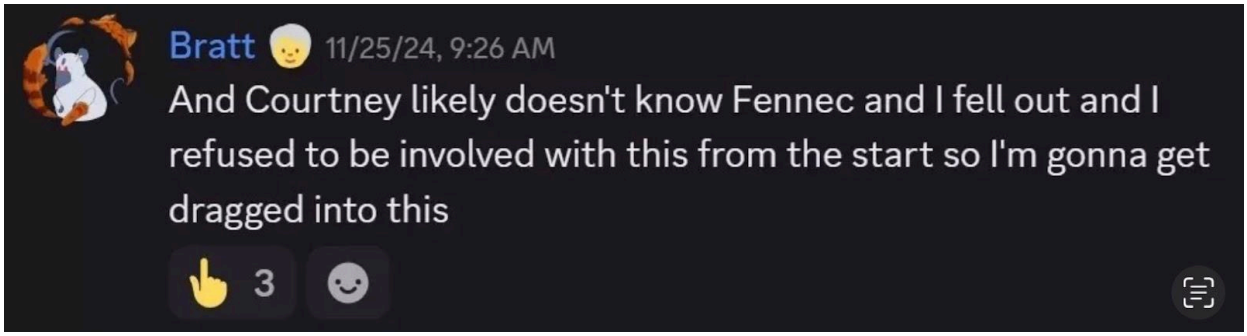
Fennec 8/1/24, 3:07 PM
They were pretty bad, yeah.

Britt was happy to be credited as a collaborator

Here's Britt after the doc came out claiming that she "refused to be involved" in the vid/doc "from the start."



Bratt 11/25/24, 9:26 AM
And Courtney likely doesn't know Fennec and I fell out and I refused to be involved with this from the start so I'm gonna get dragged into this Here's Britt almost four months earlier happy about being named as a collaborator.

@CybermagusNex She's been trying (and mostly failing) to kill my credibility and standing with people ever since we fell out.

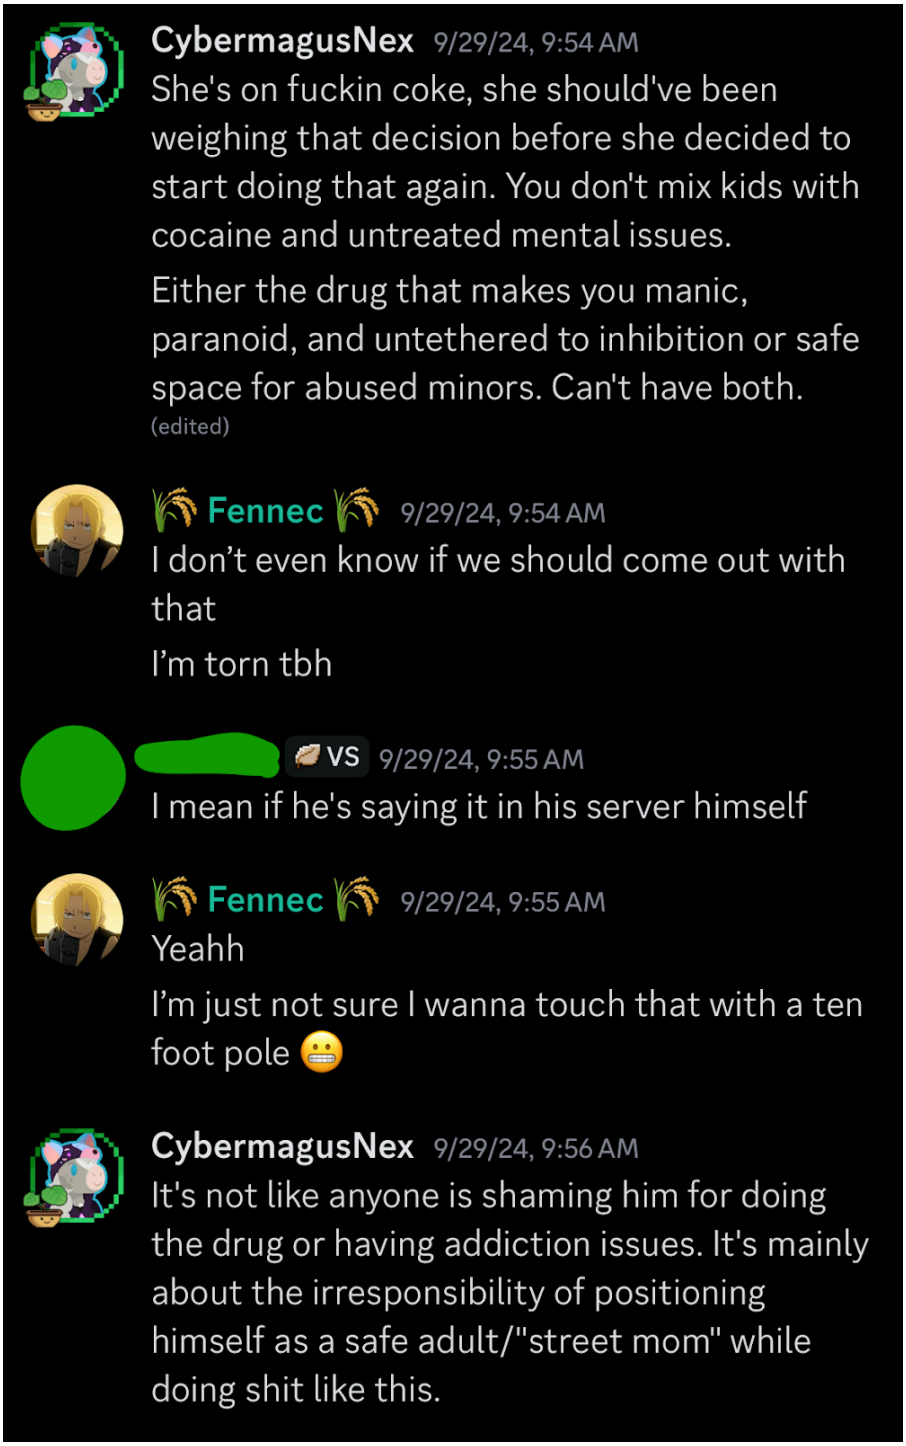
I have more, but this makes the point and I just wanted to get proving that to be a lie out of the way.

The Drug Abuse Section

Exposing Courtney's alleged drug abuse publicly made people very uncomfortable. Of course, it was at Britt's insistence.

While I do find it concerning that Courtney was allegedly abusing hard substances around minors and even encouraging already vulnerable people to try them, it didn't feel appropriate because revealing someone's addiction struggles without their consent can worsen them.



CybermagusNex 9/29/24, 9:54 AM
She's on fuckin coke, she should've been weighing that decision before she decided to start doing that again. You don't mix kids with cocaine and untreated mental issues.
Either the drug that makes you manic, paranoid, and untethered to inhibition or safe space for abused minors. Can't have both.
(edited)
Fennec 9/29/24, 9:54 AM
I don't even know if we should come out with that I'm torn tbh
VS 9/29/24, 9:55 AM
I mean if he's saying it in his server himself
Fennec 9/29/24, 9:55 AM
Yeahh
I'm just not sure I wanna touch that with a ten foot pole
CybermagusNex 9/29/24, 9:56 AM
It's not like anyone is shaming him for doing the drug or having addiction issues. It's mainly about the irresponsibility of positioning himself as a safe adult/"street mom" while doing shit like this.

I don't want to make her seem more responsible for any of the doc than she is, but I wanted to set the record straight on these lies specifically. Let's move on to the rest of the criticisms.

“Altered” Testimonies

Another point of contention has been the amount of anecdotal evidence. Most of the statements could not be backed with evidence at the time because Courtney had deleted the server they were on, something we were all deeply frustrated by.

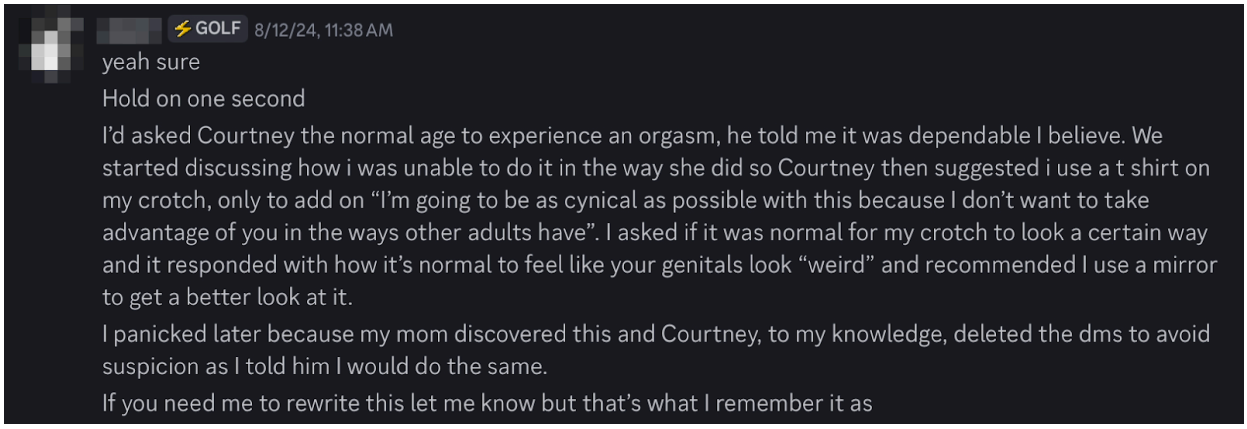
So it was a huge relief to find out recently that someone had backed up a majority of it. Even though the bigotry section was significant to the people it had affected, we had very little proof at the time. Now we do.

One of the other accusations levied here by Foxhound was that the anecdotes were heavily edited. This is simply not the case. Here are a few examples of proof.

> - Has segments with no evidence whatsoever and were ADMITTED to have no evidence other than an anonymous interview that could've very easily been faked (this was the first accusation that was placed on the document btw. Because this was more important than any harm to minors).

This one is from a minor.

“I’d asked Courtney the normal age to experience an orgasm, he told me it was dependable I believe. We started discussing how i was unable to do it in the way she did so Courtney then suggested I use a t- shirt on my crotch, only to add on “I’m going to be as clinical as possible with this because I don’t want to take advantage of you in the ways other adults have”. I asked if it was normal for my crotch to look a certain way and it responded with how it’s normal to feel like your genitals look “weird” and recommended I use a mirror to get a better look at it.I panicked later because my mom discovered this and Courtney, to my knowledge, deleted the dms to avoid suspicion as I told him I would do the same.”



⚡GOLF 8/12/24, 11:38 AM

Hold on one second
I’d asked Courtney the normal age to experience an orgasm, he told me it was dependable I believe. If you need me to rewrite this let me know but that’s what I remember it as

As you can see, I didn’t doctor it or ask for a rewrite. The only edits I made were to fix some spelling mistakes.

The following testimony is from the other minor who contributed to the doc. These were the only two minors involved and only by lending their testimonies as seen here.

“I was a member of Courtney's first discord server from roughly after the first ZP video with her in it released until she deleted it after a fight with Britt. For the context of this, I am transfem.
During my time in there, Courtney often made comments about Poppy bordering on transphobia that made me very uncomfortable. Now to be clear, I have no good will towards Poppy, but Courtney’s comments were just thinly veiled transphobic insults. On at least a few occasions, she'd talk about how it was hypocritical of Poppy to criticize others for their appearance/say that she was pretty and then get FFS (Facial Feminization Surgery). He was saying that FFS didn't really do anything, and that Poppy was still ugly. This made me, as someone who is relatively dysphoric about her face as well, very uncomfortable, though I never really voiced my discomfort out of fear of an argument breaking out. She also often made fun of Poppy’s makeup, and seemed to just generally want to pick on Poppy for her appearance, which in hindsight strikes me as slightly transmisogynistic at the very least. Another instance of them being transphobic towards Poppy was calling Poppys neo-vagina a "hole that shouldn't be there". He defended this by saying that he would also call a piercing a "hole that shouldn't be there", but again in hindsight this strikes me as very transphobic. On the whole, while I enjoyed being in the server, I often felt like I was walking on eggshells to not offend or set Courtney off. Those are my experiences with Courtney and her transmisogynistic behavior.” - anonymous

“courtney's server didn't have a proper nsfw section (which in retrospect is kinda odd because many conversations in there definitely leaned nsfw), but instead had a channel called 'stoner clubhouse (18+)'. despite being called 18+ there was no actual restriction of the channel to only 18+ members, which i know because i joined the server when i was 17 and spoke in it several times (not intentionally: i just clicked on notifications that turned out to be from that channel). courtney claimed in the announcements channel that anyone underage who used the channel would be banned, which i personally don't perceive as the correct way to run an 18+ channel to begin with (the correct and normal way to do so being to make a channel that underage people can neither see nor speak in), but regardless it simply was untrue, as again i spoke in the channel several times when i was 17 and didn't so much as receive a warning.” - anonymous

That's like saying "black people are lazy" or calling them "porch monkeys"

I still think Courtney’s racism was important because Lily allegedly fetishized black teenagers, and a large portion of her (alleged) victims in Courtney’s server at the time were black or otherwise POC. I wanted to at the very least create distance between them and Courtney for their safety.

As far as Courtney’s tweets about breeding go, they were only significant because she encouraged minors to pay attention to her and knew that some followed her. I should have communicated this better. Courtney is an adult and can have whatever kinks she wants, but her consistent exposure of said kinks to minors should absolutely be criticized.

I stand by my belief that Courtney is a danger to children and adults. She has left nothing but a trail of misery in the wake of her coming into the public eye. While her initial testimony was a huge blow to Lily’s brand and credibility, everything she’s done since has done nothing but damage the credibility of the anti-LO movement.

I am embarrassed to have ever been publicly associated with her or her channel, and I hope that if nothing else she is permanently de-platformed for the sake of herself and others.

I want to continue addressing criticisms, but first, we need to talk about who many of them are coming from.

Fennec DMed me asking me to do this after the literal first voice call I ever had with him in it. I'm willing to admit I am at fault here for not completely knowing the shallowness of Fen's claims when agreeing to voice act for him. I also don't know how many other people he asked to do voiceovers for him.

This is Nicole, one of Britt's group. They were both in my server and got banned for reasons I'll explain soon in the "Britt Part 1" section.

When I requested her assistance, the doc was going to be a video. That changed when I realized I was in over my head as far as editing videos and my computer was not up to the task.

By this point, I was already exhausted by the Courtney situation and wanted to move away from the space and public discussions of grooming altogether. You can see it in this earlier conversation.

In this context, “that bitch” refers to Lily. While I do not have anything good to say about Lily or wish to defend her in any way ever, the intensity of Nicole’s language is important to note.

The way that she mentions “the thrill of the hunt” is an emblematic example of her deeply unhealthy approach towards this kind of thing, and shows that she actively gets a rush from it. This comes through in her own blog posts about me; whether or not it’s out of any sense of justice or protecting anyone, she’s clearly focused on “the thrill.”

This also shows how extremely she words things, using a lot of hyperbole to stress her points, as you can see here in her defense of Courtney (link to the post).

So we all know that Fennec crashed and burned after his callout document on Courtney failed because it was spiteful and he didn't care about victims. That being said was there any actual evidence of Courtney doing any concerning behavior beneath all of Fennec's bullshit.
Kindof? Nowhere near on the level Fennec was suggesting, but there were definitely things Courtney has handled poorly from what I saw and knew. Courtney has issues but ones that are an actual, persistent problem weren't really examined in Fennec's document.
Is Courtney a groomer? Absolutely not. Has Courtney said stupid things around minors they shouldn't have? Yes. Are those things callout document worthy? Not really. Courtney's not a danger in that way as far as I know.

Courtney specifically tried to make her servers a “safe space” for minors. The fact that she was doing things like this is absolutely worth discussing and documenting.

While I do consider what Courtney has done to Bonabelle to be a form of non-sexual grooming, it doesn't matter what label you want to place on it. Even if you don't want to call it abuse, it's objectively inappropriate behavior for an adult to engage in with a minor they know exclusively through the internet..

Beyond that, the most damning testimony is inarguably something that needed to be exposed. Look at what this kid went through because of her.

[redacted] 8/1/24, 7:07 PM
Courtney often times made me feel like I had to be more adult than I really was with how he'd encourage me to act just like them and stuff

07/31/2024 10:06 AM
Hey so I don't know if you understand the full context of the orgasm talk but the full context as to what Courtney suggested was something I didn't recognize was inappropriate until very recently
I'd told them about how I didn't know how to do it right to which Courtney recommended using a shirt and asked me if I have a mirror to look down there
They told me it was going to talk about it to me as cynical as possible to avoid taking advantage of me like how others have (her exact words)
I wish I had the messages now to prove it

And yet Nicole still tried to frame any association with me as being enough reason to discredit HiddenHeroine's recent video on Courtney.

> Fennec's document being used as a source alone should be put up for scrutiny, but on top of that trusting Fennec with reaching out to individuals and gathering information should immediately be a red flag for anyone curious about the video.

The "Fennec doc" is the sole source for this kid's testimony. There is no other documentation regarding this from anywhere else that did not originate from my doc.

What Nicole is saying here is that the evidence provided should be dismissed because I was the messenger. While I fully own that that document had many problems that I would now handle differently, the kid's testimony is not one of them. The fact that Nicole thinks I should be ashamed for sharing it speaks volumes.

Victims' Consent

On that note, let's address another reason she tried to push to dismiss victim testimonies: the accusation that I violated victims' trust and shared things without their consent.

Is there any history of Fennec being weird or problematic himself?
There's a few things I'll probably be making later posts about, but one thing I can talk about as an example is how Fennec treated the minors' testimonies for his Courtney research.
I really hate how this is how a lot of victims are going to find out, but the truth is that there was no anonymity. Fennec shared EVERYTHING with us unprompted in a courtney-vent channel he had in his friend server. Fully uncensored testimonies and chat logs of any incident he wanted to discuss. If you were someone that trusted Fennec with sensitive information regarding your experiences with Courtney, it is very likely Fennec then shared that information with users that you never met.
Including me, someone Fennec apparently hated and tried to say had a "history of racism."

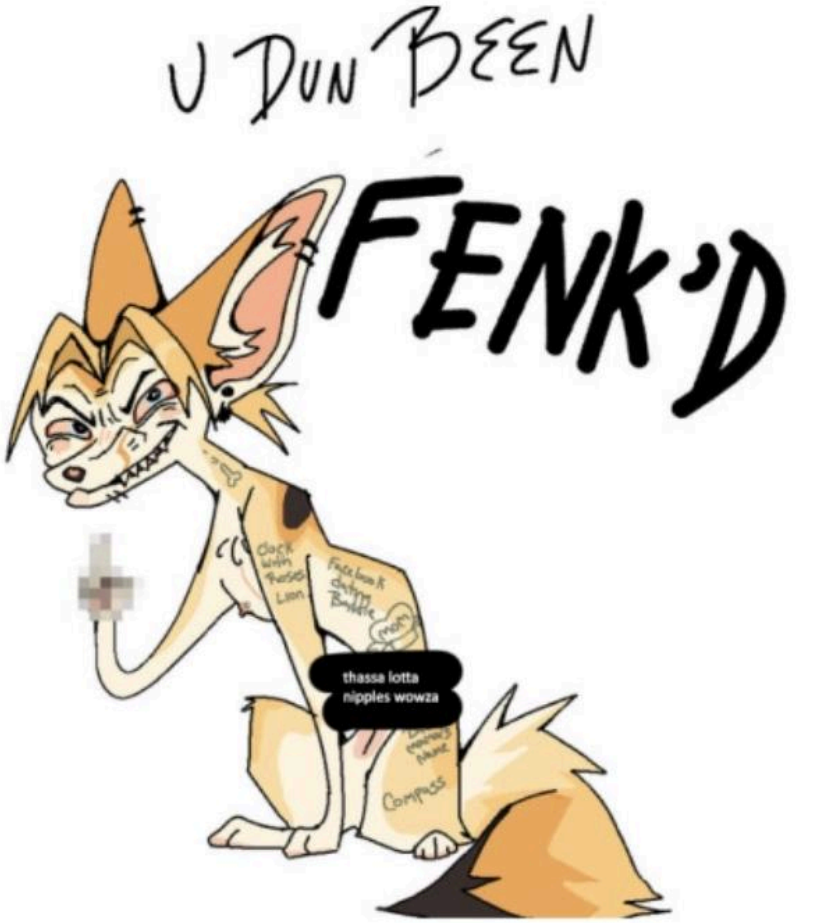
By the way

While I left some out for brevity and relevancy, there were plenty of things I was not permitted to share, and therefore have never become public information. Nicole is proving once again that she doesn't actually need proof to make claims on her blog.

The Website

Let's talk about the website.



I didn't make this image for Courtney. It was specifically made to be as ugly as possible and passed around among my friends as a joke because of its gross-out humor. Basically, it was an edgy shitpost and I admittedly included it to troll her.

While it was partially out of spite, it was mainly to keep her retaliation focused on me rather than the victims who came to me. I did not consider how it would be used to discredit me.

As an example of how the joke existed in other forms here's a far less hideous version.

Courtney's Birthday

I still don't regret releasing it on her birthday because:

1. I don't think it's that big of a deal
2. Fuck her

However, I realized a little while after making the site that it would be in poor taste to actually post it the day of the doc's release. I didn't think to take it down because I didn't figure anyone would post it themselves. Foxhound dropped it with the intent to sabotage the doc.

Hey kids, you wanna see something else Fennec thought was more important than half the testimonies he received?
sike!
I DID BEEN FENK'D
If you're confused by what you're looking at, this is a webpage Fennec made that was supposed to pair with his expose. It can be found here, check it out while you still can before Fennec inevitably sees this post and deletes the page.

I tried taking it down about six months ago only to find that I no longer had access to the account I made it on, but even if I could, I wouldn't because I don't want to hide that I did it. I want to own this mistake.

A Note to Courtney's Victims

I used every testimony from people who responded about the doc, if I left someone out and they would like me to share their story, please let me know.

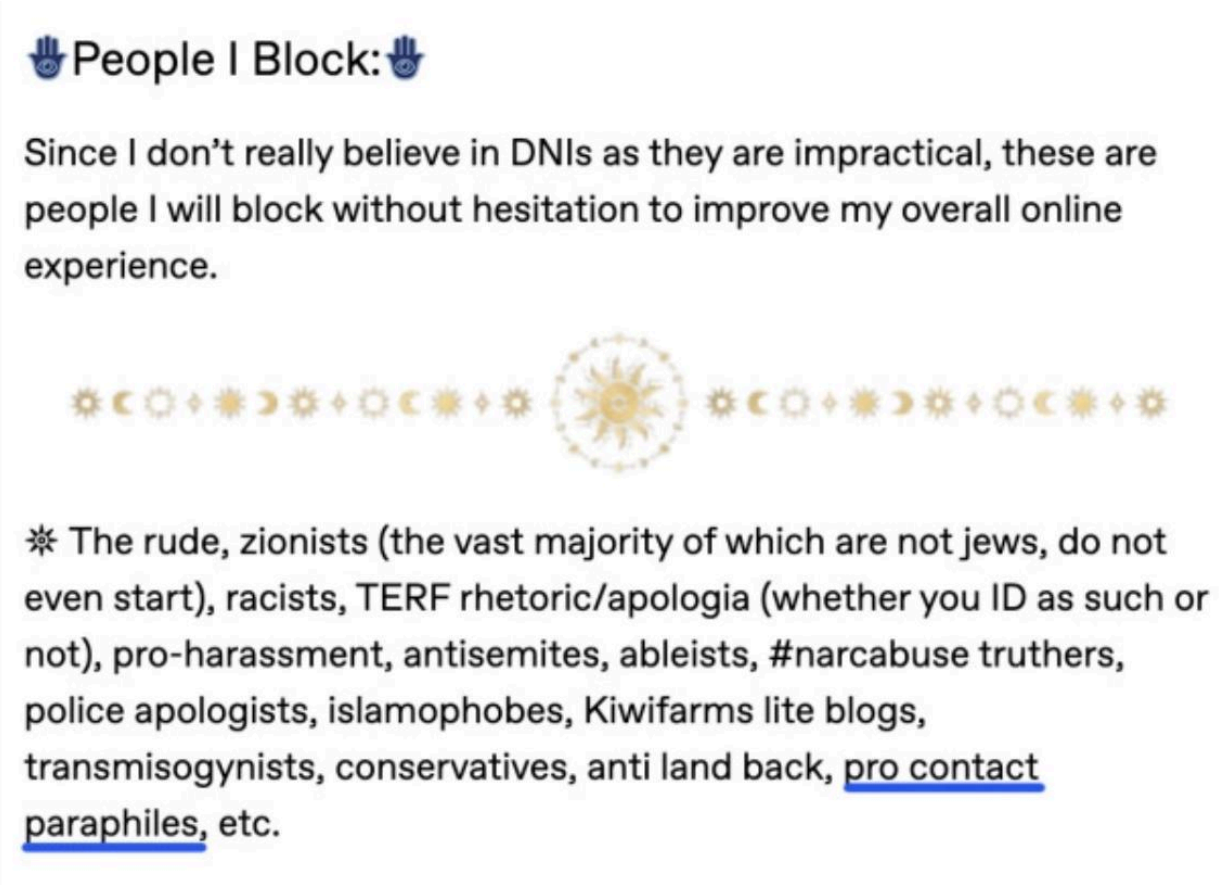
Fennec Part 2: Criticisms of Me

At this point, many of you are aware of how the original doc was treated by various community members publicly vs privately. This section will address some of that, but mainly, it will be addressing how the arguments against my document were generally centered around trying to discredit me via character assassination. This is very much a normal methodology for them and is relevant later.

I would like to finally respond publicly to the claims that have been made about me. I have been working through exactly how I wished to speak on this for some time, and I've finally reached a point where I feel I am able to give a proper rebuttal.

To start with, this is one of my accounts:

I have seen people show concern over my block list because I state that I am a psych abolitionist and that I block pro-contact paraphiles.



People I Block:
Since I don't really believe in DNIs as they are impractical, these are people I will block without hesitation to improve my overall online experience.
The rude, zionists (the vast majority of which are not jews, do not even start), racists, TERF rhetoric/apologia (whether you ID as such or not), pro-harassment, antisemites, ableists, #narcabuse truthers, police apologists, islamophobes, Kiwifarms lite blogs, transmisogynists, conservatives, anti land back, pro contact paraphiles, etc.

This is potentially a misunderstanding of psych abolition as a whole and what it means in practice, but it's very normal for these people to take the worst possible interpretation of a concept and use it to make increasingly inaccurate and negative assumptions about their target.

Remember that because it will come up again.

"Fennec supports psych abolition"

This accusation is from Nicole. We will get to the other accusations here in a bit.

The blog's name is @sunteasonnets and has both a Tumblr and this carrd.co link to other socials. Fennec's original accounts were more reserved all things considered, but the things he has posted and the people he's interacted with are questionable at best and very, very concerning at worst.

The biggest red flags for me were the new inclusions in his public intro for the blog, especially when knowing about his history of manipulating vulnerable minors for personal gain.

So this adult who has:

- Purposefully riled up minors to have them fight for him.
- Lied to and manipulated minors for personal gain, both about adults and other minors that they were friends with.
- Created a server that was exclusively for minors that were victims.

is now saying that he doesn't like psychiatric systems and needs to make the distinction of "pro contact paraphiles" in his block list. That latter point is a HUGE problem for someone who has dedicated a lot of his time to be around minors. This isn't even considering that the majority of people interacting and being friends with his new blog and persona are all self-identified proshippers of varying degrees. A lot of them reblogging posts defending specifically incest and pedophilia ships.

Psych abolition is one of those subjects where there are a lot of different interpretations of it, so of course they ran with their worst assumptions. Here's my actual perspective.

I believe in psych abolition as a stance against the carceral threat that looms over suicidal and psychotic patients. Psychiatric incarceration and police brutality are often hand in hand. I've known many POC who were personally afraid to seek help for suicidality because they send police to do welfare checks. People are often punished by the system for seeking the help they so desperately need, and they shouldn't be.

The additional risks faced by POC in seeking care should absolutely be acknowledged and validated. When I was in the mental hospital, most of the people in the unit were black. Black women who were drowning in themselves with virtually no support at all. The system had failed them, or rather, was never designed to help them in the first place. It radicalized me in ways there are no words for.

There are people who work in the field of psychiatry who are psych abolitionists and treat patients with this framework in mind. More than anything, it is about dignity and respect for the patient and their needs.

I am avidly pro-treatment for anyone with any condition. I personally love my therapist and her perspectives. My antidepressant medication has helped me significantly. I would never discourage someone from seeking therapy or medication. My issues with the field lie elsewhere.

If you would like to support someone who actively treats people and follows this ideology, you are welcome to engage with this therapist here. She makes wonderful content and deserves more attention.

Fennec I do advocate for psychology a lot but I fully understand why people are abolitionists
Fennec 9/5/24, 4:13 PM
A lot of the required reporting shit just leads to incarceration and violence etc

I've had these beliefs even before I knew that they aligned with the term "psych abolition."

Britt even commented on how much I love my therapist because she doesn't fully understand exactly what I believe or even the range that Psych abolition can have.

“Fennec is pro-paraphilia”

My stance on paraphilias is complex and based in research. My interest in psychology isn’t limited to disorders like PTSD, it’s genuinely something I dig into and ask professionals about whenever possible.

To be clear, yes: I do block people who are pro-contact.

That being said, the category of paraphiliac disorders is huge, ranging from the mundane to the disturbing. Many don’t realize that any “weird” kink they might have probably falls under the “mundane” part of that spectrum, i.e. foot fetishes, furries, etc.

One of the issues often raised even within psychiatric circles is that isolating people struggling with harmful paraphilias runs the risk of them forgoing care altogether. This can lead to perpetuating harm.

A significant distinction to make is that I’m talking about people having thoughts, here, not active abusers. If someone in treatment spoke to me, I would not put that person in a situation that would put them at risk of offending. Impulse control is a significant part of symptom management and avoidance of environments that cause a safety risk for the focus of the paraphilia is an important step in recovery.

Whether or not you agree with my stance on paraphiles, you should know that Britt publicly agrees with it. She says she actively embraces those who are seeking treatment.

"Fennec is a proshipper"

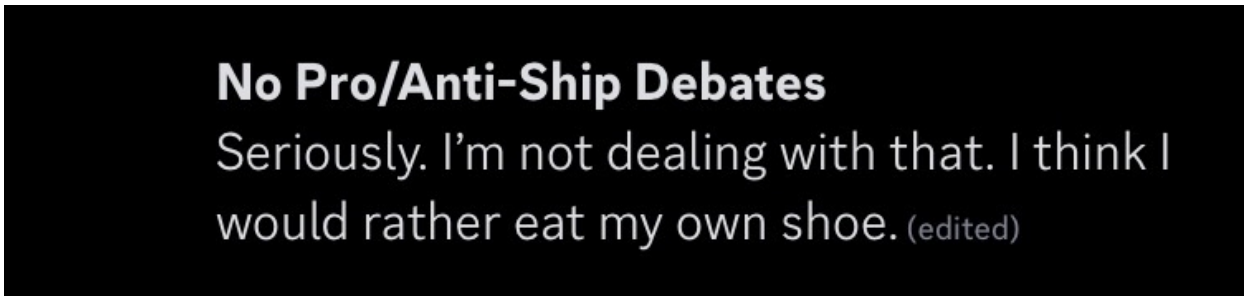
This one's simple: I do not care about shipping discourse.

I am friends with people who are anti-ship and people who are pro. I used to be staunchly against it, and then I found that some of my friends identified as proshippers and were too afraid to tell me. I asked them follow-up questions, wanting to understand how someone I trusted and respected could possibly believe such a thing. I discovered the focus of the communities I was part of were the worst of the worst and not reflective of proshipping as a whole.

They leaned into anti-censorship, and since my local library is being shut down over concerns about books depicting sex and the transgender experience, I'm inclined to sympathize with that perspective.

However, I also think that lolishota should be illegal and specifically criminally actionable in circumstances where other more concerning material is present, which is how the law approaches it in most of the US and Canada.

Just because I feel this way does not mean that everything that other people have said on their own personal accounts on the subject is reflective of my beliefs or interests. Even in my personal spaces, I do not allow any problematic ships because they can be potentially upsetting for some people, myself included. Here's the rule, as written in my servers:



This has been a rule in both of them since their inception. "Debate" would also include anything that would stir up arguments, like posting fan art or expressing enjoyment of ships with controversial or dark themes. We try to keep a more positive space and something like that would likely ruin that for some people.

Considering suntea makes the distinction of "pro contact paraphiles" and this one says "I do not advocate for anything I post in real life" and this one got suspended
I bet there's pedo shit

1. Nicole sees what clearly meant “I don’t tolerate actual harm” and “my posts are shitposts and fictional scenes” as an admission of guilt.
2. Nicole sees that the account is gone and assumes it was suspended.
3. Nicole assumes that it was suspended due to “pedo shit” and concludes that I’m a sexual predator of children.

I would hope that I don’t need to explain how stupid this is, but just in case:

This is an entirely speculative approach and she doesn’t even wait for actual evidence before deciding that something is a fact. They found archived posts and shared them in Sai’s server, none of which contained underage characters.

Most importantly, this shows exactly how presumptive their logic is and how rickety the foundations of their criticisms are. The moment you actually look into their accusations, they fall apart.

The saddest part is how this affects the credibility of alleged victims they choose to support.

“Fennec the racefaker”

I think this may actually be my favorite accusation. It thoroughly amuses me and I will show you all why.

This is Britt reposting a post from “thetepes” (a blog belonging to Sheev, who will come up more later) calling it racefaking.

This is also the person who contributed in trying to convince a bunch of people, two of which I considered friends, that I'm racist for checks notes having a disagreement with a black person over something that had nothing to do with race.

While I do have evidence to back why I see Britt as explicitly racist, for now, I want to address the allegation that I'm "race faking," or "lying about my ethnic heritage for credibility."

I had actually spoken about my family background many times in my server. My dad is Spanish but I'm white-passing, was not raised in the culture, and don't personally identify as Hispanic. I have never said I was Latino because it would be inaccurate to my family history as they are European (Spain). I simply opted to speak Spanish primarily because I wanted to find an excuse to practice more as well as hoping it would make people leave me alone. And yes, I am still white. You can be multiple things at once.

Ooh, so this is what it's about.

Even though TheTepes is one of my loudest critics, they do not deserve to have racism hurled at them. If you're doing the same thing you're accusing them of, are you really against it?

When fighting back, don't let them pull you down to their level (or even what you perceive as their level). It's important to do better.

That being said, these people have a history of accusing actual POC and white passing folks of racefaking.

According to Sheev, Patch wasn't confirmed or claimed when the aforementioned abuse was going down, and regardless, if he only got claimed just so he could use it as a shield, that's still unbelievably scummy behavior.

“Patch” is one of Lily’s public alleged victims. You can see his testimony here. He is Tsalagi, from the Cherokee nation, and was claimed in 2019. His relationship with his culture has been a highly personal and private journey, and it is none of Britt’s business.

More on this later.

“Fennec lies to minors”

Nicole claims that I “lied to a minor to keep them in my server”.

This is not the case.

> I don't even wanna lay into you further about the 13 year old in your group you're actively trying to lie about the context around present day. I'm not sharing the screenshots of a minor and bringing his name out into the open because you're trying to cover your own ass.

This is a situation born out of another that I’ll go into more in the next section. It’s a little hard to follow, so I’m going to make this as easy as possible.

Brittney and Nicole were kicked following a fight with kid A, also known as Eazy. Kid B announces they are leaving because of the fight. I ask kid C, a friend of kid B, to check in. Kid C was exclusively in the teen server, and the fight took place in the mixed age server.

Kid B talks about the fight, and kid C asks kid A, who was directly involved. Kid C fills in the blanks where they were missing information and argued the assumptions as fact.

Kid C never liked Britt, so it wasn't exactly a shock that they didn't care when she was kicked. Here kid C and I both allude to Britt's more... let's say "ignorant" tendencies.

The inaccurate assertion here is that the mods were busy. We were in fact watching the fight happen.

This whole situation was poorly managed and I have no intention of repeating any of the mistakes that were made.

And this is where we get to Britt.

Britt Part 1: Banning Britt

Alright, with all of that finally out of the way...

Let's discuss the months leading up to her being kicked from my server and the release of the document.

Let's talk about why I banned her from my server.

Britt's Racism

While I would later discover that Britt had been making POC in my server uncomfortable for a while, this was the major incident that started to push things towards a breaking point: when Britt suggested that Patchwork Heart might be getting claimed by his family's tribe in order to shield himself from allegations. This started an argument.

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:13 PM
That wasn't really the point though, the point was proof of Patch being an abusive dickweed before Lily and the Senate, and proof of him being into the same sort of zoophile shit Lily is into

For those who don't know, Patchwork-Heart is a public alleged victim of Lily Orchard. He came out with a video accusing Lily of financially coercing him into drawing sexually explicit artwork of people... let's say "with" animals. You can find his testimony linked in the "Major Players" tab.

Britt will continue to defend this by saying we're ignoring the larger "point" that she's making against Patch, a mistake that many non-POC make when people try to hold them to account for a shitty off-handed comment.

Associating Patch's journey to connect more deeply with his ancestry with the debacle around Lily is taking two events that happened around the same time (correlation) to imply some kind of causation. Anyone who knows enough about this kind of work knows that you have to be very careful about mixing up correlation and causation. It's one of the biggest concepts in statistics and data analysis that needs to be kept in mind, and I don't just mean professionally, I mean when looking at information in general. Just Google "correlation vs causation" to see.

This is one of many examples of the level of "evidence" that she likes to form theories around, which naturally attracts people who commit to a similar level of due diligence, i.e. barely any at all.

While it is worth mentioning that Britt says "if" this was the case, it would be "unbelievably scummy," she commonly uses this as cover to get people talking about ideas she knows aren't based in solid evidence and test the waters, a very common (and obvious) method that shady people use to try to slip questionable things into conversations. If more people are open to it, she keeps going. That didn't happen this time.

"Proof"

You might have noticed that Britt said that there was "proof" that Patchwork was into zoophile shit. Remember, this is the "proof" that Britt has presented:

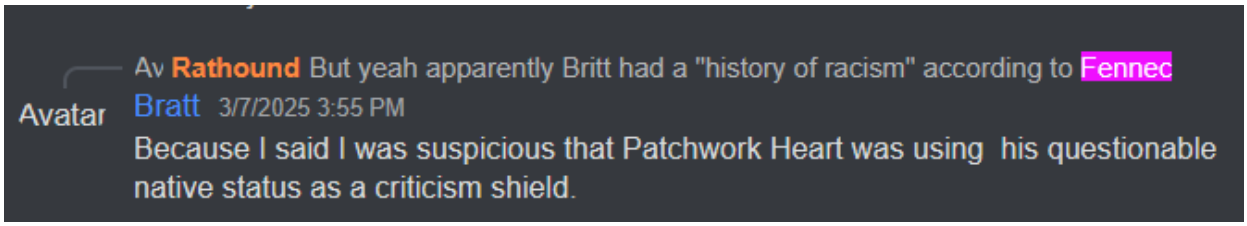
“Doing the Native American thing” is referencing how many people feel that Lily Orchard used her (heavily questioned by claimed natives) indigenous heritage as a way to shield herself from allegations. While that link is not explicitly outlined here, Britt does make it explicit in screenshots that are included a little further in this doc.

Lily’s claim to native ancestry is not relevant or remotely related to Patch or his journey.

I want to make it absolutely clear: we are not.

Britt and Sheev have been saying that Patch is essentially pretending to be Native just to somehow use it as a shield against criticisms. Britt got far too much pushback to fully admit that’s what she believed. Here, you can see that she frames Patch’s “native status” as “questionable.”



Avatar
Av Rathound But yeah apparently Britt had a "history of racism" according to Fennec
Bratt 3/7/2025 3:55 PM
Because I said I was suspicious that Patchwork Heart was using his questionable native status as a criticism shield.

Do better, white girl. Touch some grass outside of Texas.

Beyond that, zoophilia isn’t even mentioned in this screenshot, so I wonder what Britt thinks she’s talking about here.

More importantly, this has been a repeated issue with Britt’s standard of what she considers “evidence.” She had done similar things with other people before, and this time, it broke my trust in her entirely.

But let’s see what Patch has to say for himself here, because it’s relevant to understanding how Britt and her cronies function.

The Allegations Against Patch

This section is going to be a pretty big detour, but regardless of how you feel about Patch and his behavior online, all of this is important because it gives context to their claims here and explicitly addresses how they’ve leveraged the same methods they've used against me to literally harass him and ruin his life for years, despite being one of the most prominent alleged victims of Lily.

You know, the victims they make a grand stand of doing all of this for.

Before we continue, we should discuss the allegations being leveled against Patch here. One of the ways that conspiracy “thinking” like this flourishes is by having zero input from any other source. Groups have to be careful when discussing things like this to make sure that they don’t descend into stacking bad faith takes one after another.

So I got in touch with Patch myself and asked for the story behind some of these.

While I know that Patch is a controversial figure in the LO-critical sphere (for publicly being a repeat abuse victim and being sensitive about his trauma, as far as I can tell) and has bumped heads with quite a few people over years, but I’m going to ask anyone reading this to put aside their issues with him and just listen to his side of these.

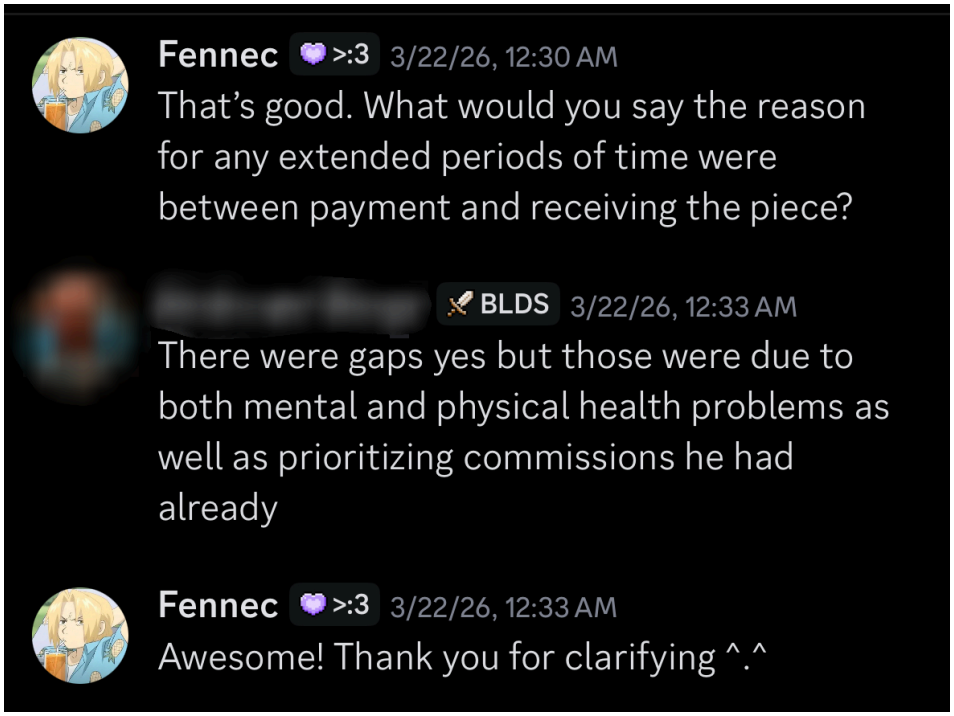
Yes took a bit of time but i never felt like it was never going to get Done



Fennec >:3 3/22/26, 12:30 AM
That's good. What would you say the reason for any extended periods of time were between payment and receiving the piece?
BLDS 3/22/26, 12:33 AM
There were gaps yes but those were due to both mental and physical health problems as well as prioritizing commissions he had already Fennec >:3 3/22/26, 12:33 AM
Awesome! Thank you for clarifying ^.^

Disability is a factor to many of these clients and they consider it when assessing the time it took. They seem happy with the quality of his work.

As a result of looking into this, we did find that Patch hadn't completed a few commissions from when he had lost his client list a few years ago. He has made a public statement about rectifying the situation.

Hey, party people, let's get real for a sec.
It's been brought to my attention that some folks have levied accusations of me being a scam artist. That I will take money for comms I don't intend to finish, and hide behind the No Refunds policy.
I'm here to tell you that's not the case.

DentedSpork @dentedspork.bsky.... · 2d
I have multiple physical disabilities, mental illness, and real life struggles like poverty, conflicts, and deaths. And because of that, sometimes projects can get delayed months, or even years. Hell, sometimes I'll lose paperwork, or lose track of which comms I still need to do.

DentedSpork @dentedspork.bsky.... · 2d
I'm working on ways to prevent this in the future- Limiting the number of slots I have open for commissions, working on Comms in call so my friends can keep me accountable, and using KoFi's commissions system so I can keep a proper roster of my queue.

DentedSpork @dentedspork.bsky.... · 2d
All I ask is that my clients communicate with me, and have patience. I promise, I'm just a bit scatterbrained.

While I think his disabilities making using his hands difficult is understandable, I do believe transparency on this is always the best move. From what I've gathered in our private discussions regarding the issue, he agrees with me, and has taken to adding warnings in his ko-fi TOS about said disabilities slowing him down.

Bottom line: Every artist has to go through the process of figuring out the pace they can complete work at. Having that shift as life gets hectic and disabilities flare up isn't scamming.

Grooming

I haven't seen any specific accusations regarding any individuals he may have groomed, which initially made this section difficult to write.

However, upon further research, it seems to have been pulled entirely out of thin air.

Always check the tags. “Grooming I can’t confirm. In spaces where grooming happened? Absolutely.”

By this logic, anyone who’s ever trusted Lily or Poppy is worthy of this accusation, particularly Britt, who has actively associated with both Poppy and Lily for extended periods of time. This is so intellectually dishonest that even one of the parody blogs began discussing it.

Sheev backtracking on the accusations of grooming against Patch is interesting. Months ago he was calling Patch a scam artist zoophile groomer, but now it's "He was hanging out with groomers!"
You mean the groomers that financially and emotionally abused him, love-bombed him, and made him codepen-dant on them?
Can't keep your lies straight Sheev? No wonder he's buddybuddy with Britt.
imunna be real sheev is boring and also a dumbass swallowed up by the circlejerk so I dont follow them but itd be better to show this with screens to rub the blatant hypocrisy in there faces 😂😂😂

Funny enough, even Lily uses that tactic to smear Britt, albeit (seemingly) sarcastically.

The biggest proof that Patricia Taxxon wasn't a pedophile is that if she was, Britt's Galaxy Brain would have been friends with her.
Brittany Johnson loves pedophiles. She hangs around with them all the time. FNGR, Vida, Courtney Peet, Blake Diamond, she was buddy buddy with all of them and resisted any attempt to uncover their violence against children.
Why would Brittany harass an actual pedophile? Those are her best friends.

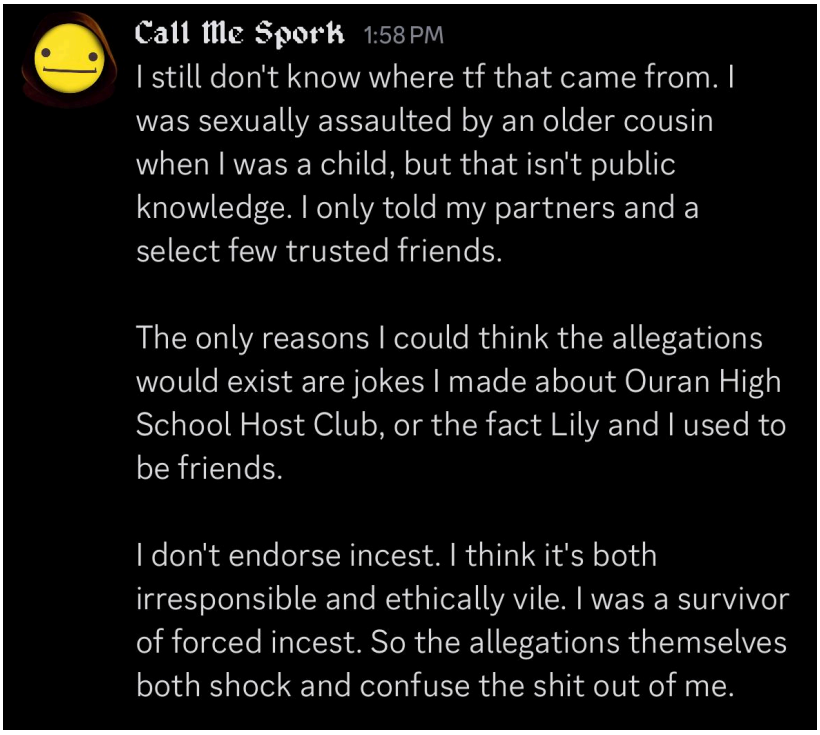
In the end, this is one of those “receipts or it didn’t happen” situations, as it should be with every piece of information that comes out of this group ever again.

Incest (Weaponized Trauma)

This one is rough. CW: light mentions that this happened; no explicit details.

Patch has relayed to me and given me permission to share that he was a victim of incestual CSA.



Call Me Spork 1:58 PM
I still don't know where tf that came from. I was sexually assaulted by an older cousin when I was a child, but that isn't public knowledge. I only told my partners and a select few trusted friends.
The only reasons I could think the allegations would exist are jokes I made about Ouran High School Host Club, or the fact Lily and I used to be friends.
I don't endorse incest. I think it's both irresponsible and ethically vile. I was a survivor of forced incest. So the allegations themselves both shock and confuse the shit out of me.

He had divulged this to a former close friend who used to support him when he was having mental health troubles, but when they got on bad terms, this person twisted that knowledge it into something hurtful and began spreading rumors.

This weaponized version of events has made its way to Britt and Tepes/Sheev, and they continue to levy this as an accusation of some kind.

Interestingly enough, I've experienced something similar from these people, too.

Sai Scribbles is a YouTube art commentary streamer who Sheev is a moderator for. Britt would consistently use it as a space to speculate wildly about my personal life and sexual interests. This ended up turning into an echo chamber where Britt, Nicole, Sheev, and their other friends would reinforce each other's bad faith paranoia (about me and others), and other server members would get pulled into it.

This screenshot is from another member of the server.

Just a warning- Fennic (the guy who wrote the Courtney doc) is sliding up to Hidden Heroine for probably another vid.
Fennic is on record of being pro-paraphile aka Pro-zoo/pedo/necro and has talked about wanting to fuck his brother

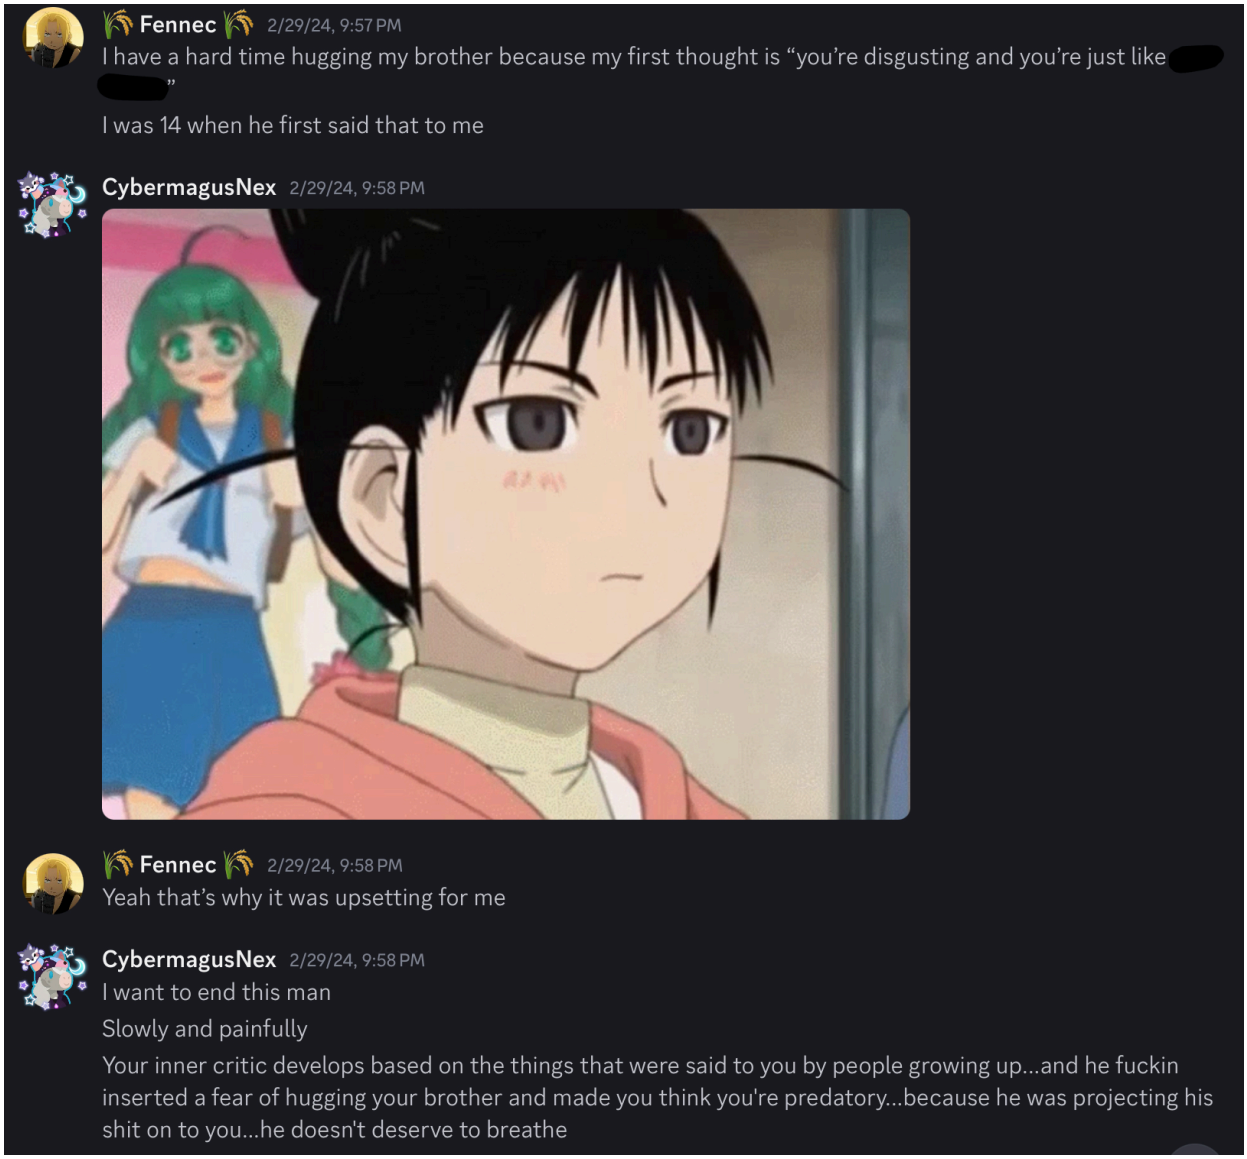
When I was in Courtney's server, a server Britt moderated, I told Britt about my experience as an incest survivor in her dms. This was a common type of communication in private dms between server members and moderators. I told her my brother and I were abused by the same person, and that person went on to tell me I was a danger to my siblings due to being bisexual. I began to convince myself that I was a future predator and spent years in isolation.

My brother refused to allow me to keep isolating myself, in part because he needed me, and because I needed him. I struggle with physical closeness as a result of this fear that I will become my abuser.



Fennec 2/29/24, 9:57 PM

This is the only possible conversation this could have come from.

Britt was supportive of me, or at least I had believed she was at the time. Now, it’s clear to me her support was conditional on my loyalty to her.

Now, Britt has warped my very real CSA trauma into this story where I want to inflict that kind of horror on my brother, another CSA victim who had nothing to do with our personal beef.

Britt had even discussed my own personal diagnosis in a public discord server full of strangers following our falling out. “Bratt” is Britt, for the record.

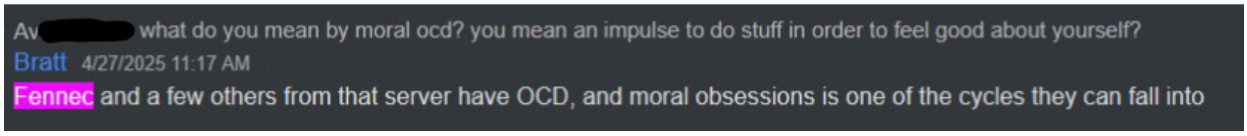
I have a theory that a lot of people like that have moral OCD and don't realize it. Especially people that come from spaces like Fennec's server.



Av what do you mean by moral ocd? you mean an impulse to do stuff in order to feel good about yourself?
Bratt 4/27/2025 11:17 AM
Fennec and a few others from that server have OCD, and moral obsessions is one of the cycles they can fall into Anyone who's still friends with Britt should know that if things ever sour between her and them, anything they trust her with on a personal level is something she'll see as fair game to hurt them with.

Zoophilia

One of the things Britt and Tepes have stated was that they believe Patch is a zoophile.

This is likely due to the allegations that Patch put forward regarding being financially abused by Lily Orchard and coerced into drawing zoophilic artwork. I will not show it here, but I will link the original doc with the evidence here.

If there is some other allegation attached to this, it's unknown. They have not clarified the full extent of what they are accusing Patch of or why.

Again, this screenshot is the only "evidence" that Britt provided when asked about it:

Okay, never mind, that is just a fuckin' wolf.

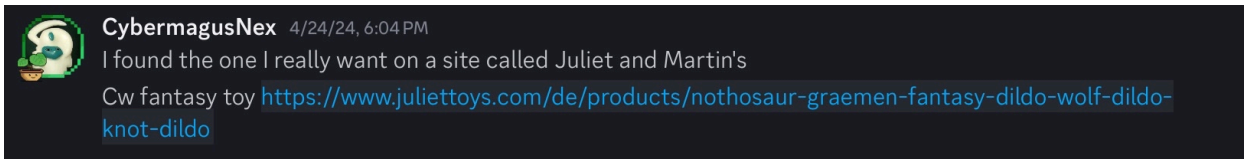
Unfortunately, since she seems so intent on aggressively throwing potentially life-ruining allegations against a victim of the figure she's centered her life around attacking, this is to expose the hypocrisy of her aggressive attacks against others. It feels necessary to show that she's a fucking hypocrite and she needs to stop trying to cover for herself like this.

Britt makes it a point to intensely campaign against paraphiles indulging in taboo fictional material (explicitly including zoophilia), but it's pretty clear that this is one of those situations like a firebrand anti-gay politician being caught screwing twink interns in empty conference rooms. It's overcompensation to cover for her own interests, I'm assuming in the hopes that nobody who cares will look at her NSFW blog.

Britt's Wolf Dildo

If we're going by Britt's standards and someone is a zoophile because of art they were most likely groomed and coerced into drawing, I wonder what it means when someone wants to see what a [REDACTED] feels like in real life?

She made this post in my server full of people in their late teens and early 20s. Yeah, the one I made to give the former members of Courtney's first server a place to go after she rage-deleted the "safe space" she'd made for CSA survivors and people fleeing Lily's fandom. Including minors.



CybermagusNex 4/24/24, 6:04 PM
I found the one I really want on a site called Juliet and Martin's
Cw fantasy toy https://www.juliettoys.com/de/products/nothosaur-graemen-fantasy-dildo-wolf-dildo-knot-dildo "fantasy dildo wolf dildo knot dildo"

Now to be fair, this was in the age-gated NSFW section of the server, but why were we the group that she wanted to share this with? Even if there were no minors, why was Britt sharing the fact that she "really wanted" to see what a knotted wolf dick dildo felt like?

Normally, this wouldn't even be something I'm worried about. After all, Bad Dragon is an extremely popular sex toy brand that specializes in different dildo shapes, including many animal-based ones for weird furry shit. It's easy to dismiss it as just fantasy and wanting to try new things.

Is this relevant enough to be appropriate to share? Well, it will be more in a bit, but it's worth bringing up here because Britt has recklessly thrown around potentially life-ruining accusations about multiple people with zero evidence, just her own conspiracy-brained armchair predhunter "logic."

And to be absolutely clear, I don't think her wanting a weird dildo is proof of her wanting to actually have sex with animals.

I just don't like abusive hypocrites. ;3

Victim-Blaming Patch (Zena and Poppy)

One last thing about Patch before we move on: this same group has attacked Patch every chance they get, even going so far as to speak on other non-Lily situations. Here's how thetepes/Sheev tried to flip a situation where Patch was a victim to make him liable somehow.

Patch never said shit to Poppy and Zena about their abuse. Never confronted them. Period.

This is factually untrue, but that's what happens when you take a perpetrator's testimony at face value just because of some "enemy of my enemy" mindset. This is tantamount to believing Lily over one of her alleged victims just because you don't like the victim. Seriously, if you're familiar with the ZP situation, imagine unquestioningly taking Poppy for her word. If you're unfamiliar, know that there are many, many, many documented instances of her lying about people accusing her and doing her best to smear them, no matter how unverified the source.

I know several former ZP community members and was able to find out that the truth was the exact opposite: Patch did confront Poppy and Zena (following his conversation with drama commentary stream Beckett) and was promptly met with a collective effort to manipulate him into staying.

Another former community member, Dusk (AKA NightWyld) offered to speak on the matter:

"Patch had every reason to silently leave- but he didn't do that. He asked Poppy questions, and Poppy doesn't like questions. I know what happens when you question Poppy, I've seen people chewed up and spit out and they either ran away or folded and did everything to make up and atone for their sin like I did. I know some will not easily believe testimony with no evidence so here is proof that they did actually talk about things.

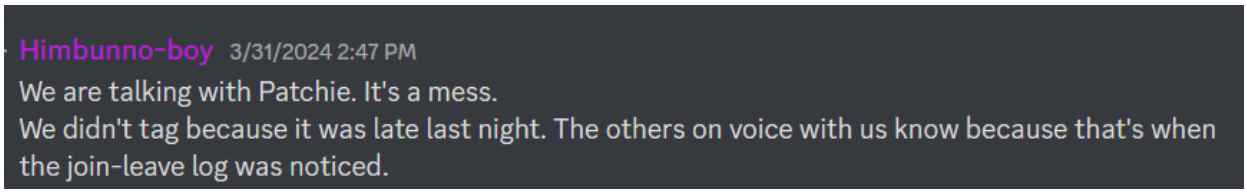
This is Zena.



Himbunno-boy 3/31/2024 2:47 PM
We are talking with Patchie. It's a mess.
We didn't tag because it was late last night. The others on voice with us know because that's when the join-leave log was noticed.

Patch left on his own, after a talk on the same night he was on Beckett's stream after Poppy verbally berated him in it. Poppy went hard against him for it, and told the rest of us about it in depth. She used all the same language that she did when I did something to upset her and portrayed him as a weak willed and unreliable person who was daring to question our pure and infallible leader.

Poppy had successfully rooted out the evil that had corrupted him- of course that wasn't actually what happened. Poppy berated and abused Patch into coming back. People were spiraling and I think it was very likely upon coming back that Patch saw the messages left in the Keter VC chat which I sadly failed to grab the logs of before leaving Poppy's server in September of 2024.

Oh and for those taking the idea that Poppy was welcoming to Patch coming back with open arms…

This is me talking with her in one of the mod chats. This is a demand, even if she phrased it as a request. Patch was added to the blacklists. If I or anyone contacted him we would have been kicked and harassed."

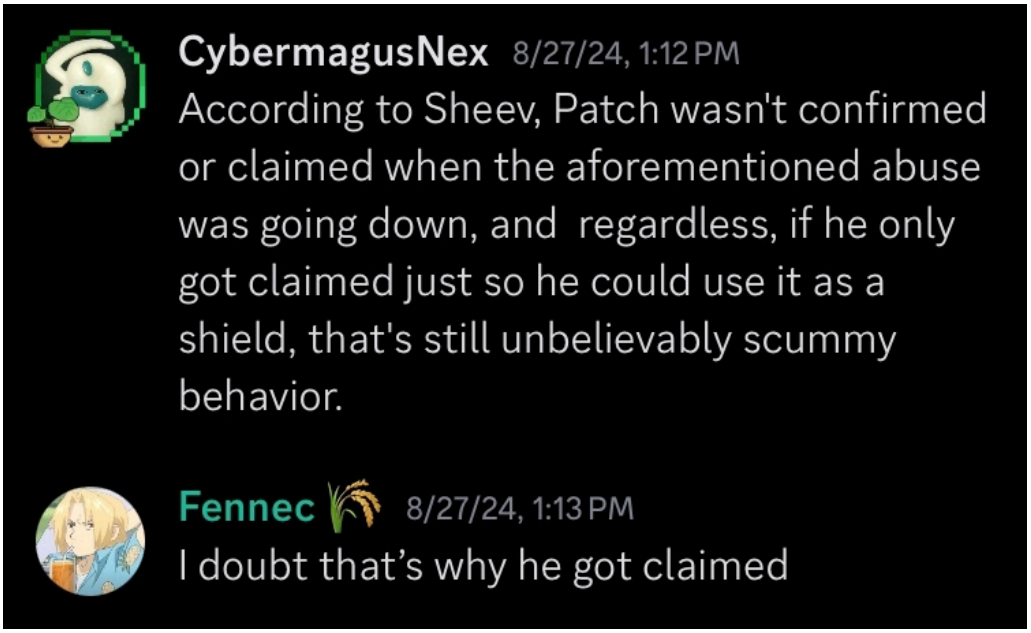
The point here is that Britt and her circle feel entirely too confident about speaking authoritatively on matters that they are minimally informed of and have no business speaking on, even going so far as to boost an (alleged) abuser's narrative just because it fits into theirs.

In other words, they care so much about hurting an abuse victim that they hate that they'll boost and support their abuser's defense against them. Taking Poppy's words at face value when so much evidence of her abuse, lying, and gaslighting exists is mind-boggling.

This combination of bad faith conjecture and being willing to listen to disreputable sources is indicative of a much bigger problem for them: their penchant for Q-anon-level conspiracy theory "logic."

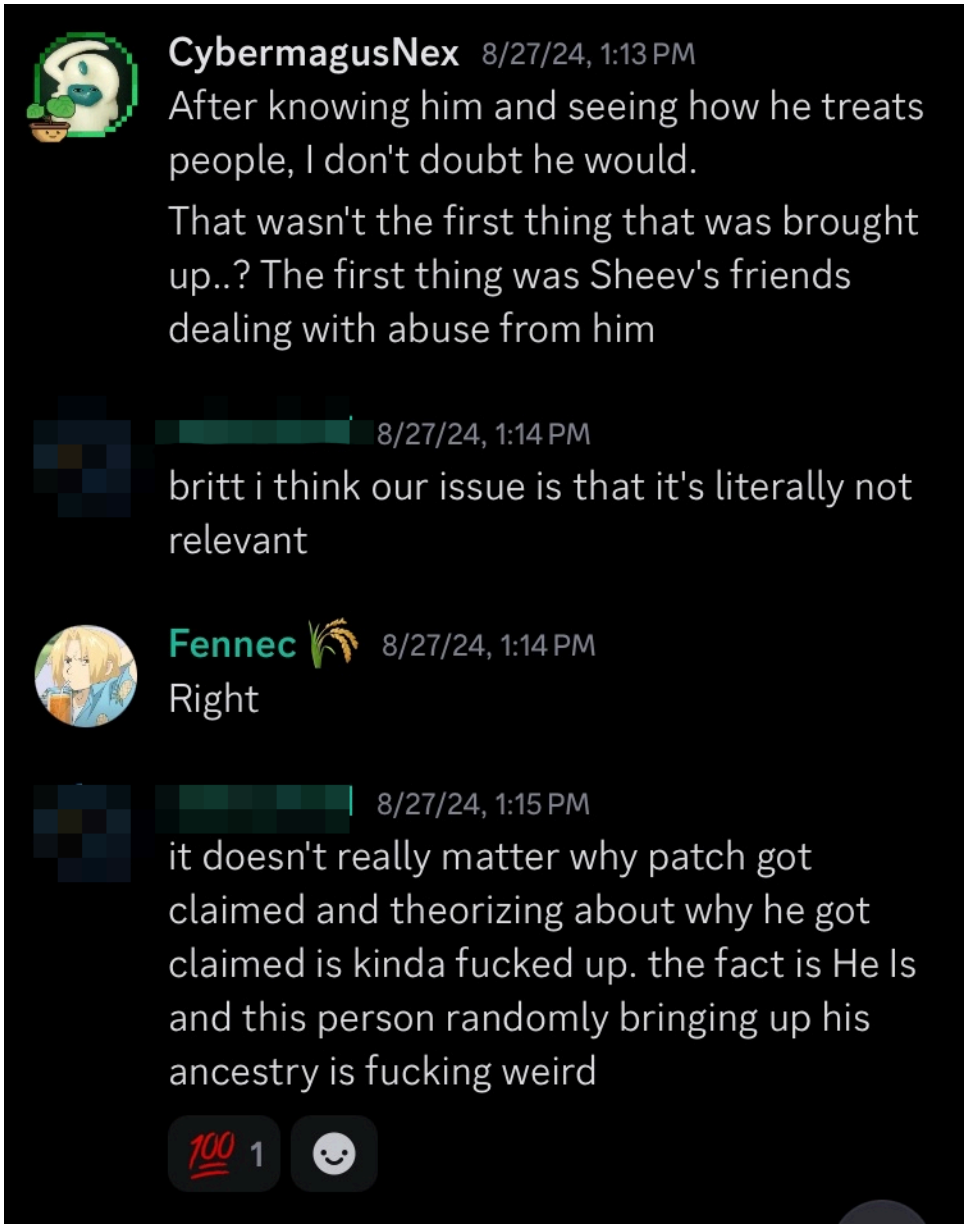
Back to the Racism

Alright, that was it about Patch. Back to this conversation.



CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:12 PM
According to Sheev, Patch wasn't confirmed or claimed when the aforementioned abuse was going down, and regardless, if he only got claimed just so he could use it as a shield, that's still unbelievably scummy behavior.
Fennec 8/27/24, 1:13 PM
I doubt that's why he got claimed

The conversation that followed really showcased how Britt refuses to engage with the problems that people have with her and how that hurts her credibility.



CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:13 PM
After knowing him and seeing how he treats people, I don't doubt he would.

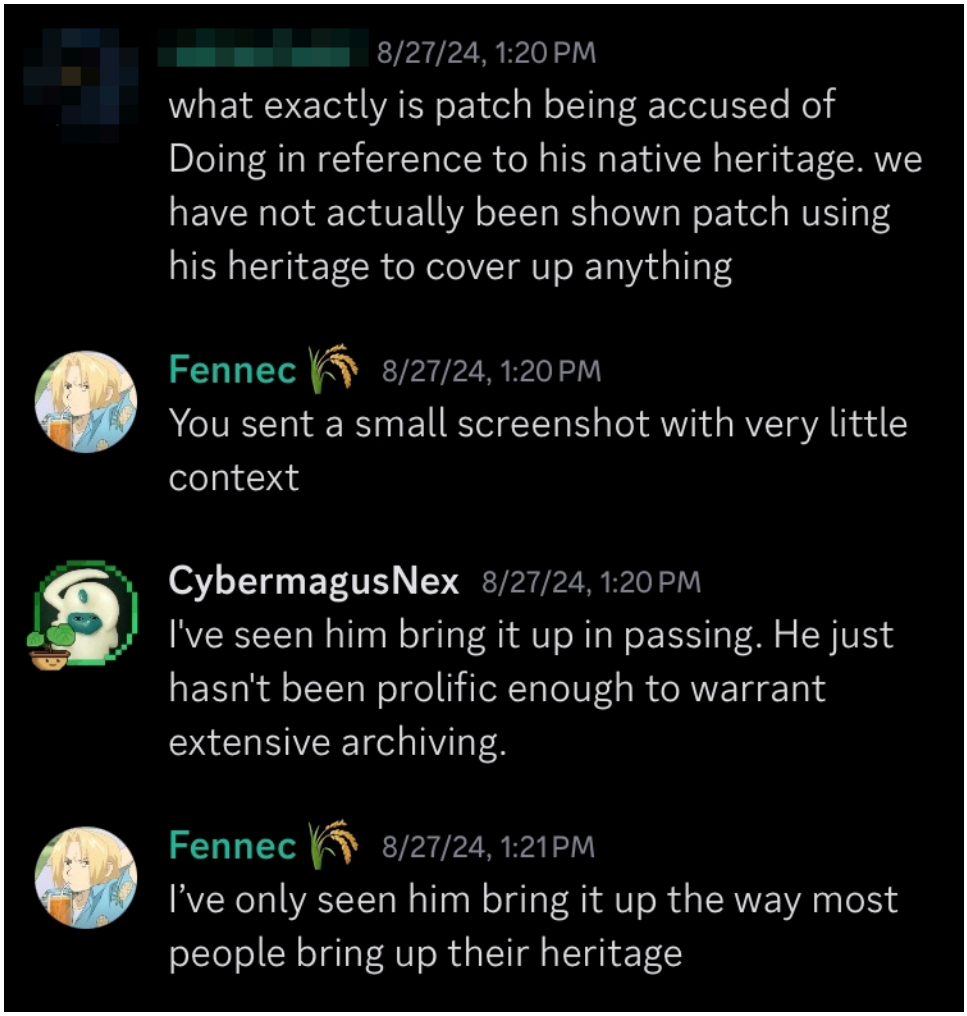
i'm not even doubting that patch is fucked up. i've met the guy, he seemed like a shithead
CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:19 PM
Okay so why can we all agree that when Lily does it, it's fucked up and disrespectful, but when someone else with a similar pattern of abusive, manipulative, ass-covering behavior does it, it shouldn't be called out?

This shows how she relies on previous bad experiences to make assumptions about completely different people. The fact that Britt is a white Texan really doesn't help.

Note how her basis for this is "he's been a dick to us, so I have no problem believing that he would get claimed specifically to avoid accountability." Drawing a direct line from "he was rude to us" to "he's faking his heritage to elude justice" is a stunning leap of non-logic to make.



8/27/24, 1:20 PM
what exactly is patch being accused of Doing in reference to his native heritage. we have not actually been shown patch using his heritage to cover up anything
Fennec 8/27/24, 1:20 PM

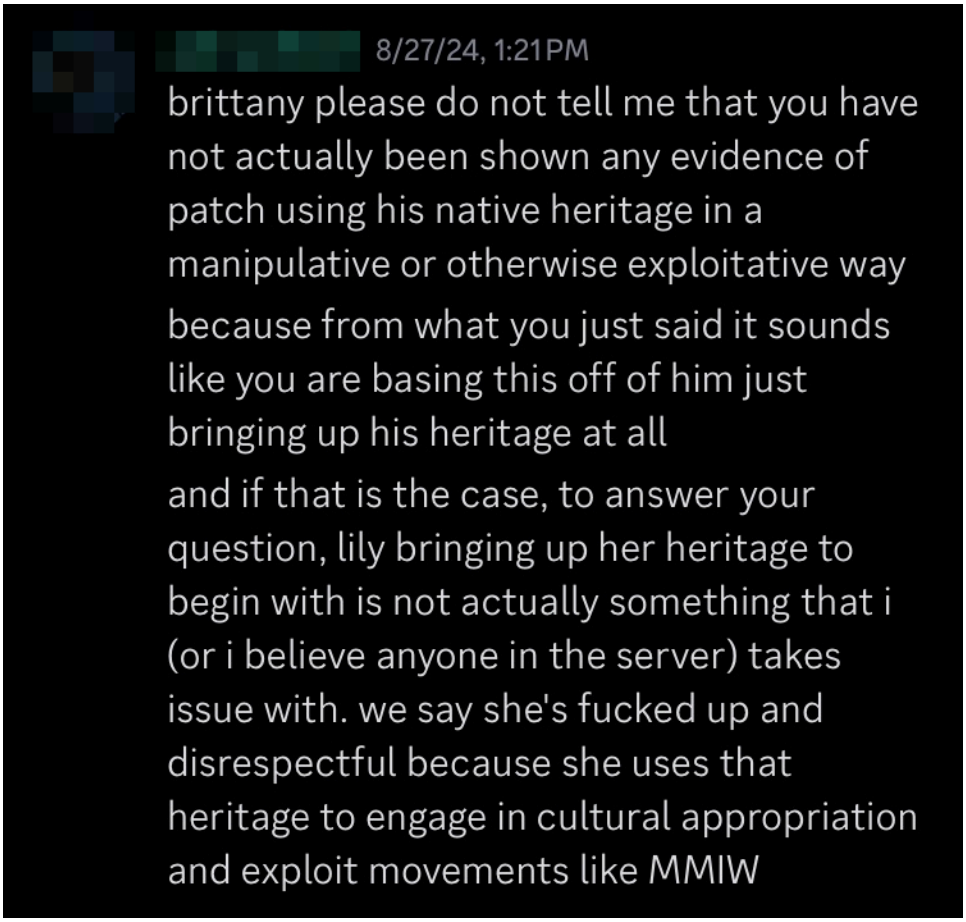
CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:20 PM
I've seen him bring it up in passing. He just hasn't been prolific enough to warrant extensive archiving.
Fennec 8/27/24, 1:21 PM
I've only seen him bring it up the way most people bring up their heritage

This next response is from a Native American person and is just a really direct condemnation of Britt's behavior.



8/27/24, 1:21 PM
brittany please do not tell me that you have not actually been shown any evidence of patch using his native heritage in a manipulative or otherwise exploitative way because from what you just said it sounds like you are basing this off of him just bringing up his heritage at all and if that is the case, to answer your question, lily bringing up her heritage to begin with is not actually something that i (or i believe anyone in the server) takes issue with. we say she's fucked up and disrespectful because she uses that heritage to engage in cultural appropriation and exploit movements like MMIW

At this point, I could tell it was upsetting the Indigenous American members of my server and Britt clearly wasn't listening to what I thought was very clear feedback about what the problem was. I asked Britt to continue our discussion over DMs, hoping to help her understand why what she was saying was so upsetting.

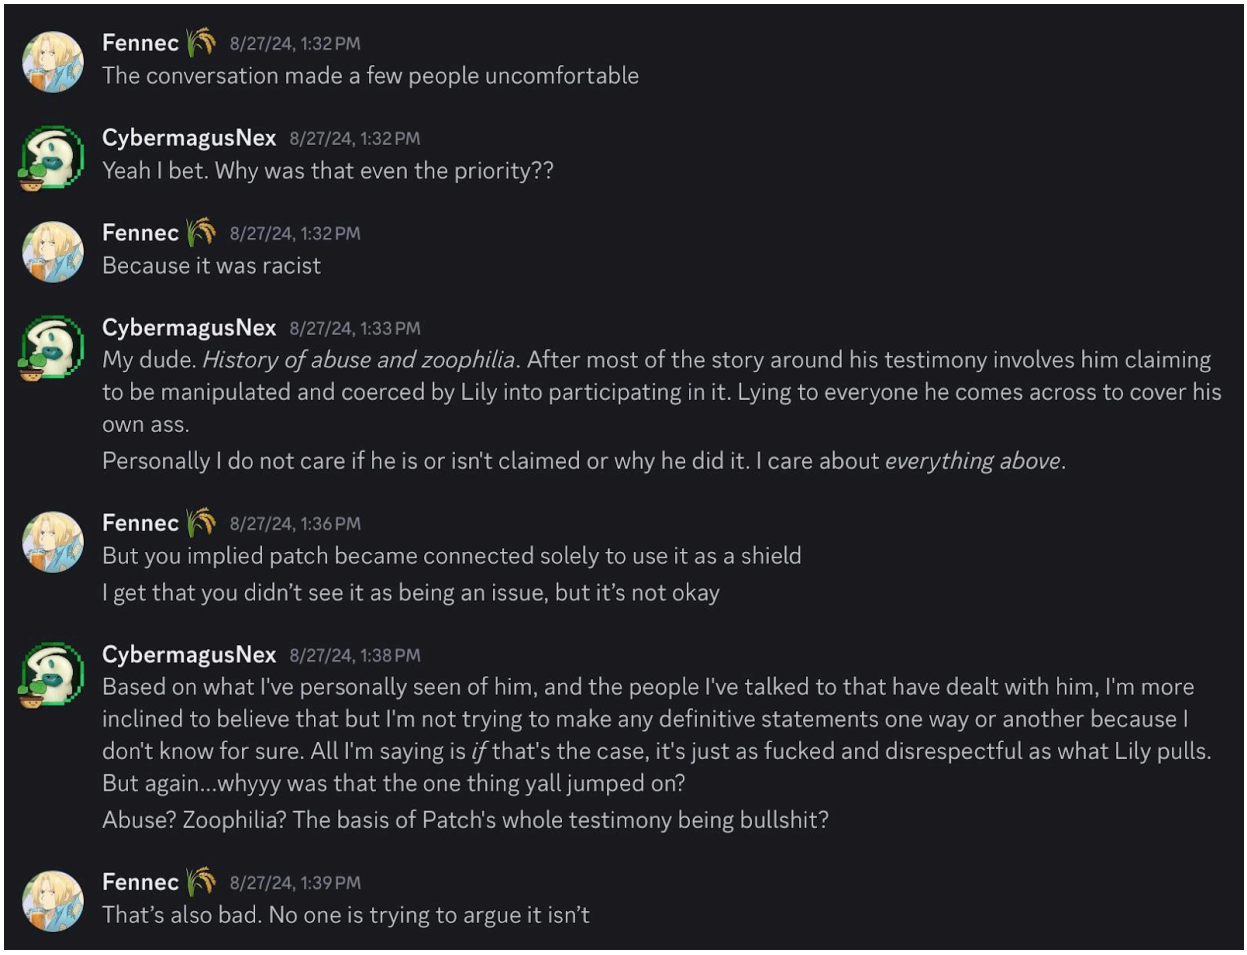
I'm editing this down for brevity, but if you look at the time stamps, you'll see that this argument lasted about an hour and a half.



Fennec 8/27/24, 1:32 PM
The conversation made a few people uncomfortable

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:32 PM
Yeah I bet. Why was that even the priority??

Fennec 8/27/24, 1:32 PM
Because it was racist

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:33 PM
My dude. History of abuse and zoophilia. After most of the story around his testimony involves him claiming to be manipulated and coerced by Lily into participating in it. Lying to everyone he comes across to cover his own ass.
Personally I do not care if he is or isn't claimed or why he did it. I care about everything above.

Fennec 8/27/24, 1:36 PM
But you implied patch became connected solely to use it as a shield
I get that you didn't see it as being an issue, but it's not okay

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:38 PM
Based on what I've personally seen of him, and the people I've talked to that have dealt with him, I'm more inclined to believe that but I'm not trying to make any definitive statements one way or another because I don't know for sure. All I'm saying is if that's the case, it's just as fucked and disrespectful as what Lily pulls.
But again...whyyy was that the one thing yall jumped on?
Abuse? Zoophilia? The basis of Patch's whole testimony being bullshit?

Fennec 8/27/24, 1:39 PM
That's also bad. No one is trying to argue it isn't

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:43 PM

So despite Patch's history of using shit to deflect accountability for anything he does, we're just going to assume an account from someone who's dealt with it directly is being racist..?

I feel like guns were jumped really hard.

Fennec 8/27/24, 1:46 PM

That isn't what you said though. You said patch connected to use it as a shield, as opposed to patch just being a dick

Guns were jumped because there are a lot of native people in the server and this is meant to be a safe environment for them

Today it did not feel like it

My first priority here is protecting the people in my server. My second is everything else outside of here. That applies to protecting and defending you as well.

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 2:00 PM

I mever outright stated he did. I said if he did, that's fucked and disrespectful.

This is the same logic Lily uses when she accuses everyone who calls her a groomer of being transphobic. Yes it's something innocent people deal with which is fucked, and it makes it twice as fucked when someone takes advantage of it.

I was dancing the line between listening to someone who had been harassed directly by Patch give their account, and taking into account the behavior I've personally witnessed, and the behavior I've been told from others who have dealt with him directly.

This is not a racism thing, this is specifically a Patch's patterns of behavior thing.

Which, again, I never even made a definitive statement about. Just said it's something within the realm of possibility given his history.

Fennec 8/27/24, 2:07 PM
Okay but saying that's a possibility is racist. You know that, right?

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 2:07 PM
....but it's not with Lily??
Is it also inherently transphobic to call Lily a groomer?
Like I said if I was basing this on nothing, yeah I could see it. But that's not the case.

Fennec 8/27/24, 2:08 PM
Lily has made no effort to connect, is not a member of the tribe, and actively fetishizes native women.

> CybermagusNex Is it also inherently transphobic to call Lily a groomer?

Fennec 8/27/24, 2:09 PM
I think I've made my stance on this perfectly well known.

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 2:09 PM
If you knew nothing about Lily's situation, you'd be calling everyone who questions her racist.
That's the logic you're working off of here

Fennec 8/27/24, 2:09 PM
No, you just aren't listening to me

CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 2:10 PM
No I'm hearing you perfectly well. You're telling me that questioning Patch at all is inherently racist regardless of anything else because he's been claimed.

Fennec 8/27/24, 2:10 PM
That's not what I said.
I said questioning the intentions of patch connecting with his own culture is racist and made native people in my server uncomfortable around you.

She refused to take any accountability for how her comments had made the Native American members of the server feel, instead digging in and doubling down on it being okay because it's directed at Patch. I tried very hard to stay civil and respectful in these messages.

After everything had gone down with Courtney, she had been the safe person that a lot of us went to for what Courtney had promised. She was almost a kind of maternal figure to a lot of us, or at least a trusted “big sister” or “cool aunt” that we didn’t have to be worried about being betrayed by like we had been by Courtney. The implications she was throwing at me hurt a lot.

There’s a lot more to the argument, but it’s the exact same exhausting back and forth for over an hour and a half. Just imagine this same argument for hundreds of messages.

Instead, I’ll skip ahead to the end: where she finally realized and accepted why what she’d said was a problem and had upset people.

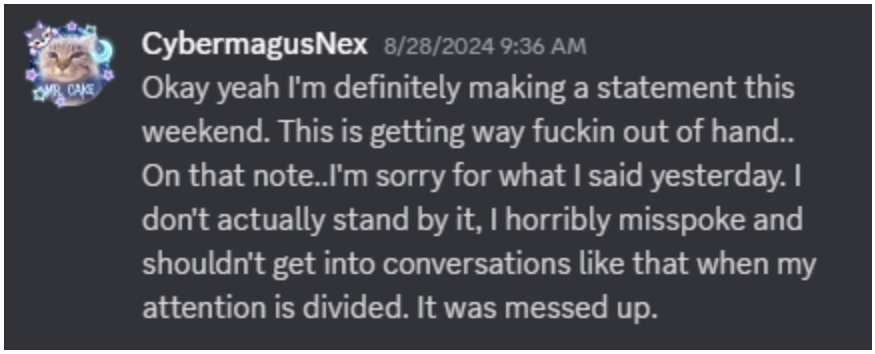
Fennec 8/27/24, 3:11 PM
That sounds like a good idea

It shocked me how quickly in this discussion that Britt seemed ready to say I was defending predatory behavior. Her "apology" was so lukewarm and noncommittal that nobody in the server even reacted or responded to it.



CybermagusNex 8/28/2024 9:36 AM
Okay yeah I'm definitely making a statement this weekend. This is getting way fuckin out of hand.. On that note..I'm sorry for what I said yesterday. I don't actually stand by it, I horribly misspoke and shouldn't get into conversations like that when my attention is divided. It was messed up.

The people I spoke to about it later found her defense of "misspeaking" unsatisfactory.

Given this recent post by Britt where she is intentionally vague about the identity of the native person she is fake claiming (it's very obviously Patch), it looks like she wasn't very sorry. Oops.

From the post:

> Making bullshit accusations against me in public is where I end up having to respond. First off, in case it even needed to be said, I'm not racist against Natives. I know exactly where you got that idea, though, considering you seem to be friendly with that lying little prick that also tried to blame me for shit he insisted on doing. The context he's leaving out is the fact that that conversation involved an individual that had been CAUGHT NUMEROUS TIMES outright lying about being Native to deflect from the racism and harassment said individual had been spreading through multiple communities.

Or this message from Sai's server, in case it wasn't immediately obvious how fake that apology was.

Because I said I was suspicious that Patchwork Heart was using his questionable native status as a criticism shield.

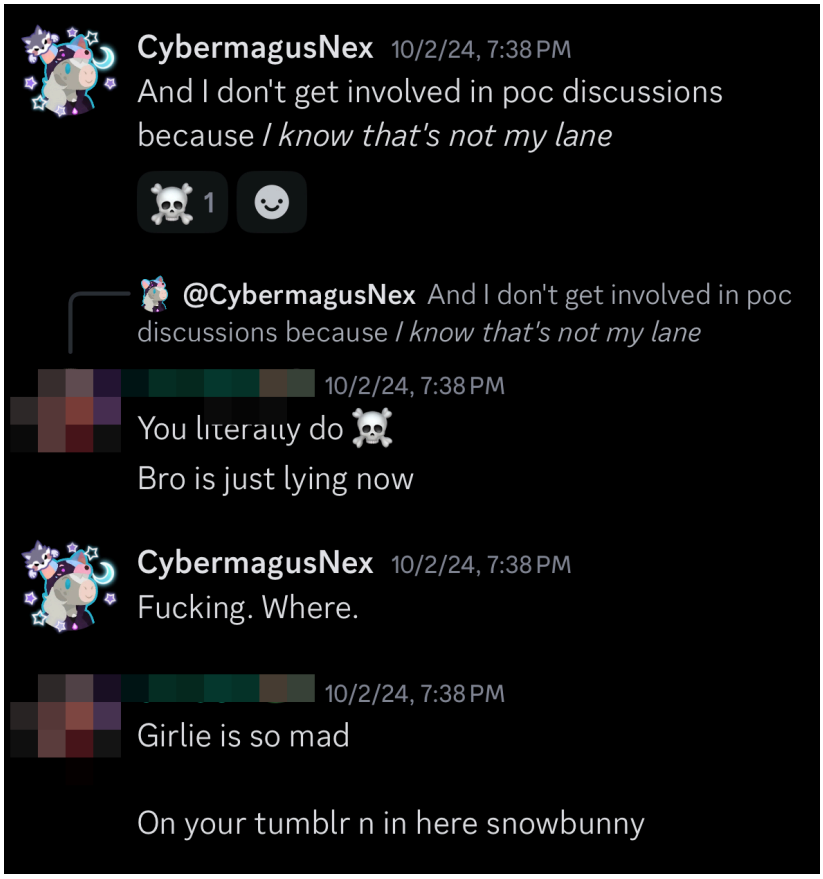
“questionable native status”

Unfortunately, because I cared about Britt and wanted to help her learn from her mistakes, I didn’t realize that I was making the server deal with Britt’s ignorance and bigotry to the point where they felt like they couldn’t talk to me about it. I regret this deeply and have worked to make sure it doesn’t happen again.

The Breaking Point

This was also not the only instance of her making POC uncomfortable in my server, just the most significant. This is a screenshot from the proverbial straw that broke the camel’s back, when a black 17-year-old trans girl named Eazy decided she’d had enough.

Britt had shown little regard for staying in her lane on racial topics and continued to speak over the experiences of people in demographics that she wasn’t a part of. The way that Britt and Nicole handled this argument ultimately resulted in me finally banning them from the server.



CybermagusNex 10/2/24, 7:38 PM
And I don't get involved in poc discussions because I know that's not my lane

This led to her assuming that anonymous harassment she received on Tumblr was Eazy, which she escalated it into harassment of Eazy. This is something I'll get into more in the "Britt Part 3" section.

If you want additional context for this specific argument, I've provided it in the side tab "Britt vs Eazy," but the focus of this is what people said afterwards.

Once I'd banned Britt, many more people came forward about how she'd been making them feel. They expressed that they had been hesitant to bring it up before because of how close I'd gotten to her.

Only one person felt comfortable coming to me prior.

No you're fine. I try to be proactive about that stuff before y'all need to come to me about it but some things do slip through the cracks unfortunately. I just wanted to make sure it wasn't something recent that I needed to talk to her about
9/24/24, 2:39 PM
Yeah I just dont wanna get in trouble or anything since I knkw u & her are close

The more I thought about this, the more I sought to hear people out about anything they'd been hesitant to tell me before. It was a big learning moment for me, but mostly it illuminated just how uncomfortable Britt and Nicole had made the POC members of my server feel.

Let's move on to the last major incident that involves me: the reactions to my first doc.

The Doc Drop

Following the release of the doc, Nicole became public with the Foxhound blog. The blog immediately received a flurry of vitriol from her inbox and it was again all blamed on Eazy or possibly others.

While it's easy to say that they could have just lied about their involvement, I have my own reasons for believing that it's very unlikely that they would do such a thing. I know them personally and it's completely out of character for them to engage in this kind of bullying or harassment, so I believe them completely on this.

Some of the anons were nastier than others. This in particular was one of the worst ones she published.

I hope this is Eazy or someone else from Fennec's close inner-circle. Because the alternative is that Fennec is telling random kids I don't know about my personal life. Enough so for them to send an ask to tell me to kys by referencing my deceased mother.

Fennec and everyone else in his circle that are now quickly deleting their accounts and hiding are vile, vindictive pieces of shit. Keep my mother's name out of your fucking mouths.

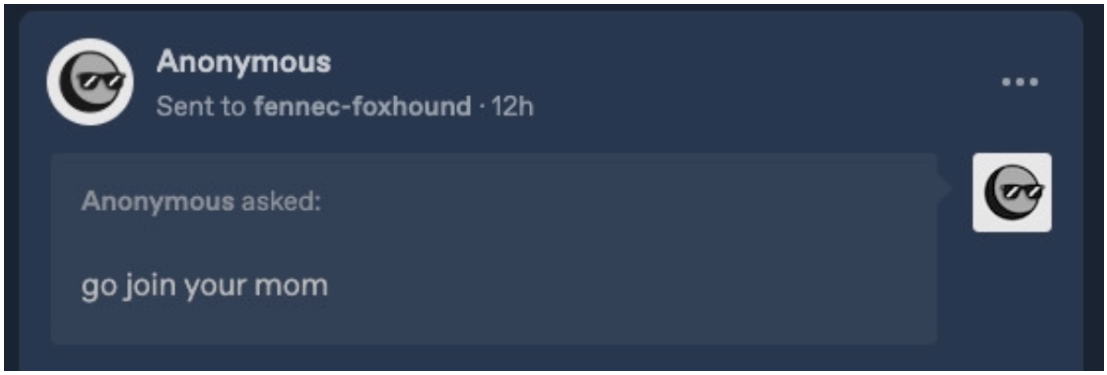
I can see why she would think this was me/us because of the usage of “suntea” and “antisemite” (I’m Jewish), but this is beyond the pale:



At this point, I was certain this wasn’t someone in my camp doing this. I know all of them well enough to know that none of them are this cruel and heartless. Granted, there’s no way to know for sure about 100% of the anonymous asks (at some point it just comes down to speculation and perspective), but there’s a 0% chance of this specific cruelty coming from them.

I don’t think I need to explain why attacking someone like this is unacceptable, or that I absolutely wouldn’t tolerate this kind of behavior from someone in my community. If someone even spoke favorably of this kind of cruelty, I would shut them down immediately. There’s no good reason to bring the unfathomable trauma of a person losing a parent early in life into bullshit Tumblr drama.

But Nicole said that she wants me to suffer “for that one alone,” even while stating that she’s holding me responsible for the supposed actions of someone in my server.

Avatar Rathound 6/6/2025 9:24 AM
I really don't wanna let up on him considering one of those fucking kids that is sending the anons decided to bring up my dead mother
He's gonna fucking suffer for that one alone

I had initially theorized that Nicole had spoken about her mother’s passing in a public space online. However, she's specifically stated differently.

Or how about 10 days later when I received death threat anons? Including one that mentioned my deceased mother. A deceased mother only you and your circle knew about at that time.

I have done everything in my power to prevent Nicole from being harassed by anyone in my circles. When I saw harassment that could be them, I immediately investigated it with them myself.

This means that it's someone who was no longer in my server, close with Nicole, aware of the situation, and likely benefitted from Nicole being in distress.

And I know that there's no way that Nicole can possibly believe this, but I don't put it past Britt to drop an inflammatory anon into a friend's inbox just to cement their allegiance against someone. I'm not saying this as a cheap shot: I genuinely believe this.

After all, we've already shown how she weaponized foundational trauma against me and Patch.

We don't do things like this. Britt does.

Learning from my mistakes

With some "get your shit together" guidance from my therapist, I've taken more responsibility and ownership of my role as the community leader. Since the release of the doc, I've made a lot of changes to the server in light of these events and we have had zero significant incidents.

I intend to keep it that way and continue to work to do so.

But enough about me.

Britt Part 2: Lily

Let's get a little deeper into why Britt's "logic" isn't to be trusted and why she shouldn't even be trusted as a source without explicit evidence proving her allegations.

More importantly, let's get into why she's not a safe judge of what's appropriate for minors to be exposed to and involved in.

But mostly, this section is about why she is and has always been the wrong person to lead the charge against Lily.

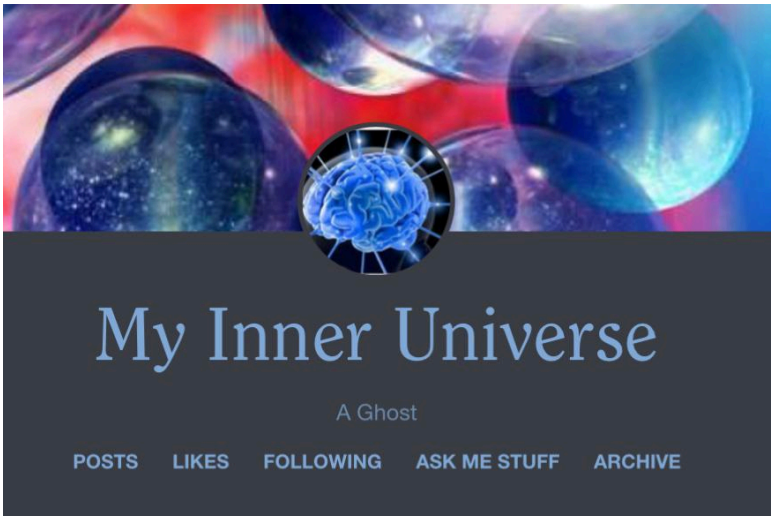
I feel the need to offer yet another content warning for the following: CSAM (Child Sexual Abuse Material), sexualization of minors and animals, suicide, and rape. This part is magnitudes worse than everything I've listed so far, so continue at your own discretion and take breaks if you need to.

This is going to get into some hard stuff, but I promise that it's important.

Transphobia

For those who don't know, KiwiFarms is a forum-based website that's mostly notorious for its rampant transphobia. It's like if the worst trickle-down from 2010 4chan got organized.

Britt has been fairly open about using KiwiFarms from the beginning. In fact, she originally put her KF username "aGhost" in her Tumblr bio.



Here she is being tagged and named directly.

This was posted to the Lily thread in 2022. Here, Britt claims to stifle her shitty opinions about trans women around other trans people so that they actually listen to her. One of the main subjects that she felt more free to discuss on KF was how she doesn't consider Lily a "genuine trans woman." Here, she explicitly categorizes it as another fetish and explains her reasoning behind it.

It's always a little frustrating to me when they mention Jerry's past as being Jerry and not "Lily" because to me it sort of misunderstands why people don't call him "Lily" or address him by his current gender identity.
There are very specific reasons people are skeptical of his GI because of the circumstances in which they came up and the situations that Jerry found himself in at the same times he started associated himself in such a way. People like myself get very suspicious when he came out to individuals like Brittany and Lizzy almost immediately after they said they weren't sexually interested in him, and the way he continues to use his transition to beat people down, abuse it as a symbol of authority on certain talking points, as well as behaves with his audience and the people around him make people Click to expand...
What makes that conversation even harder is the fact that genuine trans women are often accused of the very things Lily has displayed. Lily's history is such a convoluted clusterfuck that explaining the context behind why she's questioned would take an entire video essay on its own, explained in the most ideal way possible. That's why I don't "misgender" her. I want people to be open to hearing the other side of this, so if they smell transphobia at all, they're going to immediately shut down and unfortunately I can't blame them for having that reaction. I'm sure Lily took that into consideration as well and that's why she uses it as a gotcha so often.
There was a recent post on here explaining that Lily doesn't experience dysphoria, she only experiences "gender euphoria" when people refer to her as a woman. Gender euphoria is a real thing that happens with trans people. However, given how Lily acts, her overall view of trans people and trans issues, and well...everything else about her history regarding her sexuality and GI, it sounds like a fetish called "sissification". The men who participate in this fetish are not transgender nor do they claim to be. They get off on a form of male bimbofication. It can be completely consensual or pseudo-forced.
I get nervous even bringing that up because again, that is something genuine trans women are often accused of being, so it makes sense for people to get defensive about it. Much like her "Native Heritage", the way she presents herself as transgender should be considered a HUGE insult to the transgender community.
Lily, if you're reading this, please remember that I have screenshots from both our Skype chats and the Tara dms of you fishing for information on whether I'd be attracted to you if you were a woman, along with images of you flat out saying you would "pretend to be a woman" to get with me. I fucking dare you to say some shit on your blog about this.

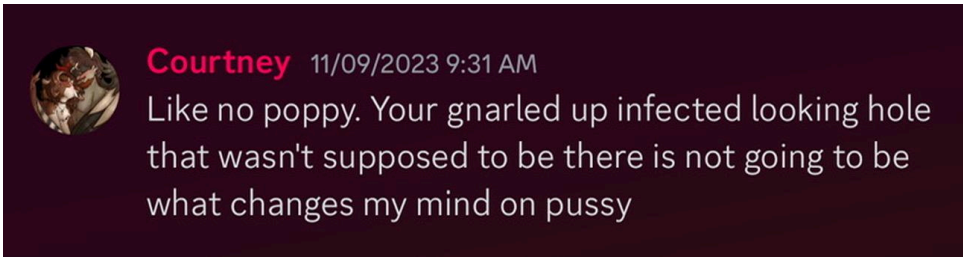
It's also worth noting that GI (or GID, as in Gender Identity Disorder) is a massively outdated term, as being transgender has not been considered a disorder in itself since the introduction of the DSM-V in 2013. It was replaced with Gender Dysphoria as a diagnosis to avoid treating trans identities as mental illnesses. In America, mental health professionals don't consider dysphoria a requirement for someone to identify outside of their assigned gender.

To some of you, this may seem like a relatively minor issue, but it's important because many of Lily's alleged victims who are looking for a safe person to go to are also trans. This says a lot about how she thinks about transness, especially when it comes to someone she doesn't like or see as valid. This is likely why she was so comfortable with Courtney's transphobia in their infamous first server.



Courtney 11/09/2023 9:31 AM
Like no poppy. Your gnarled up infected looking hole that wasn't supposed to be there is not going to be what changes my mind on pussy

As long as it's aimed at a "deserving" target, right? Even if it's in a server where the target will never see it but a bunch of young trans CSA victims will?

This is the equivalent of seeing racism as okay as long as it's not against "one of the good ones."

Unfortunately, even if it makes people uncomfortable, the power dynamic basically ensures that they won't bring it up, especially when Britt and Court scramble so hard to justify posts like this when confronted on them.

They are not a safe haven for trans victims, and even for those who aren't trans, they normalize the idea that this kind of language is okay as long as they're "a bad one."

And as we'll get into soon, Britt doesn't just think that it's okay for minors to see what she says, she thinks it's important.

Violating Victim Confidentiality

[Note: The individual this section is about would like to remain anonymous. Please respect that request.]

So what happens when a victim comes directly to her?

A teenager messaged Britt on Tumblr, looking for someone to talk to about their experiences with Lily. Britt didn't even wait until the conversation was over to post screenshots in my server.

Yesterday at 11:31 PM
What the fuck
I don't think I ever gave that
And even if I did I don't want her to fucking screenshot it?

So... no.

In case I need to explicitly state it: the thing about sexual trauma is that a victim's testimony is where they get to reclaim their autonomy and power. While the public discourse around these things can easily veer into gossipy territory, if you're the person the testimony was provided to, you've been entrusted with something extremely sensitive and private.

Sharing it with friends without permission just to go "omg" is a gross violation of that trust and responsibility.

The "Missing" Lily logs

I had heard rumors of some questionable materials in Britt's archived Lily logs that were no longer public. The Skype logs in particular were incredibly difficult to get a hold of, which is strange considering how thoroughly Britt has archived and posted everything else.

We found [a blog post archived online] (CW: active misgendering in the main post) that links to incomplete archives of the very selective Tara Callie logs, where Britt was interacting with someone widely believed to be Lily Orchard behind an alt.

More complete archives can be found [here (1.5)] and [here (The End)]. The logs linked as “2.0” in the blog post are complete.

The odd thing is that while there are definitely screenshots in there that reinforce her allegations against Lily, many of the logs aren’t really relevant to that purpose. They seem to be more to reinforce her innocence or even just venting her bitterness over Lily downplaying their friendship.

It’s kind of jarring to go from screenshots of Lily apparently actively gloating about “breaking” a woman by raping her to this image bitterly captioned “I was such a bad friend.”

To be fair, this made sense at the time. Britt was deeply hurt by this betrayal and she was only 25 when she released these logs. There were bound to be personal feelings mixed in.

But how does this affect her credibility when it comes to things she supposedly wasn't actually okay with?

"Playing along"

For those who are not aware, Britt has accused Lily of catfishing her under the alias "Tara Callie".

She provided both proof it was a sockpuppet and evidence of coercion from "Tara".

Britt has frequently stated that she only "played along" with Lily's more questionable interests. The descriptions included for context with the original Tara log screenshots largely seem to be to back this up. There comes a point where it stops being “gayopping” and starts being complicity, or even something she was actively agreeing with.

For example, this can easily be accepted as her trying to fish for some kind of verification that Tara is a real person and not just Lily. All of these screenshots were taken by Britt, so Tara/Lily is (are?) the grey bubbles and Britt is the blue ones.

CRITICAL POINT. At this point, I'm starting to get suspicious of Tara's existence due to the perceived extreme shifts in Peet's character. Britt and Minors

UPDATE: After seeing the initial public response to this section, I've decided to remove some parts of it that some people have taken as permission to start calling Britt a pedophile. With the context of hindsight and people's reinterpretations, I realized that some moments could have been interpreted as pushing that narrative.

I thought my point was apparent, but it looks like I was incorrect, so I've adjusted accordingly.

And remember: just because Britt still doesn't see anything wrong with some of this doesn't mean that it's not wrong; it just means that she still hasn't grown enough as a person to see that it is.

What follows is from July 19, 2015.

Brittany Johnson	XD One of my talents.	03:57
	Anywho, so I left work early last night since I had personal time to spare and there's been fuck all to do ever since we cleaned the place out for Prime Day.	03:58
	This girl I've been hanging around showed up at lunch and took me to see her Creepy friends (she works at a haunted house).	03:58
	We eventually ended up at another girl's house and shared a couple of blunts. The younger sister of this girl was freaking omg gorgeous. Really adorable, perfect body, flirty, had this subtle way she'd look at you, ect. Like, damn. Well, we piled into this dude's car and took a trip to 7-11, and while we were standing in line I casually asked how old she was.	04:00
	She gave me that look and that slight shoulder twist and said, "I'm 15. ;3"	04:01
	In my head, there was an immediate cacophany of record scratches, screeching brakes, and large vehicles going in reverse.	04:01
valkyrstudios	ABANDON SHIP! IT'S A TRAP! RED ALERT! SHIELDS UP!	04:01

	Also this face	04:02
Brittany Johnson	EXACTLY! XD This girl is the fucking poster child for jailbait. XD	04:02
	The girl that took me out said she had a similar experience with her, only it was at a pool party with alcohol involved and said jailbait was feeling all up on her chest before she realized how young she was. xD	04:03
valkyrstudios	This girl is evil	04:03
Brittany Johnson	I know! And she hangs out with the creepies since she works at the house too, so she seems really mature for a 15 year old.	04:03
valkyrstudios	What is it about minors that so many people find tempting?	04:04
Brittany Johnson	I normally don't find minors tempting at all. But if they're mature for their age, my eyes wander. -_-	04:04
	But I ain't touching them with a ten foot pole.	04:04
valkyrstudios	I know you wouldn't actually, but have you ever had that fantasy?	04:05
Brittany Johnson	Of?	04:05
	To me, a mature minor is just a person.	04:05

It's one thing to play into someone's fantasies to stay on their good side, but this goes beyond that. This is detailed sexualization of a minor. She and Lily are BOTH freely using the term "jailbait" to describe a 15 year old girl. Britt describes how good her body looked, and how flirtatious she was. This is after she found out they were 15 years old.

It's important to establish how old Britt was here.

How old were u when u stopped talking to lily?
edit: I have no idea why it made the 23 so huge.

Her own published logs clearly show that her and Lily stopped speaking in 2015, which means that Britt was 23 at the time of these messages (since they happened in 2015).

Obviously, her not engaging past that point is the correct response. Nobody in their right mind would argue that it isn't. My issue is not that she accidentally hit on a teenager, but rather, the way that she goes on to discuss it with Lily.

Brittany Johnson	I haven't had any fantasies actually involving innocence and whatnot.	04:06
valkyrstudios	Alrighty then	04:06
Brittany Johnson	But now you've got me curious.	04:06
valkyrstudios	What?	04:06
Brittany Johnson	What were you getting at? x3	04:06
valkyrstudios	I meant have you ever had a fantasy about being with someone who was underage? That seems to be common these days.	04:06
Brittany Johnson	Psh dude I was a booty call for someone who was underage in high school.	04:07
	There was only a 3 year difference between us, though.	04:07

Brittany Johnson	XD	04:09
	I was underage when I dated Sean. He was 18, I was 16.	04:09
	I chased a 23 year old on Guild Wars when I was 16, but nothing ever came of it.	04:10
valkyrstudios	Looks like Texas just breeds Jailbait, doesn't it?	04:10
Brittany Johnson	I've been fucking with age gaps for a while.	04:10
	Which is why in some instances I find the current age laws annoying, but I completely understand why they need to be in place.	04:11
	The mature ones are rare.	04:11

	Correction, I've been CHALLENGING age gaps for a while. xP	04:12

While I think the age gap between two high schoolers Britt presented here is an acceptable one, the way she describes it here is a cause for alarm.

Lily Orchard, charming as always, cropped the message to focus exclusively on what Britt said.

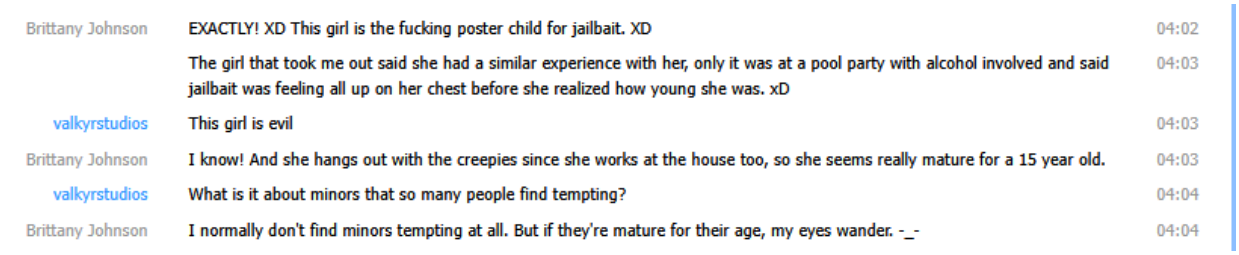
The first one was a conversation that's been ripped out of context. I don't expect Lily to remember.
I had a coworker years ago that took me to meet her haunted house buddies (she was a scarer) and there was a 15 year old on crew. Coworker warned me that the kid was troubled and would constantly flirt with the adults (her older sister was also on the crew and didn't do much to stop it for some reason). I didn't know what she looked like. We hung out with the whole crew for a while, went to a Shell to get drinks, and someone starts getting really close and flirting with me. She was wearing a lot of makeup and I couldn't tell how old she was, but since coworker had warned me, I immediately asked. Sure enough it was the girl and I stayed far the fuck away from her for the rest of the night.

This doesn't address what she actually said. Remember:



Brittany Johnson EXACTLY! XD This girl is the fucking poster child for jailbait. XD 04:02

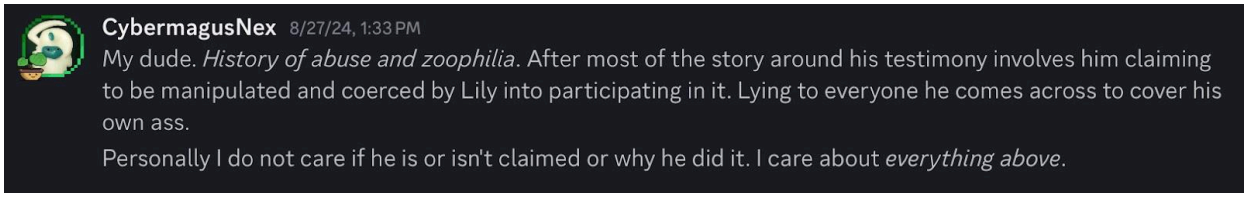
Why was Britt hanging with people who were comfortable with letting a minor come to a party with young adults and alcohol?

Why was Britt using “jailbait” as this girl’s nickname?

Why did she say she found “current age laws to be annoying”?

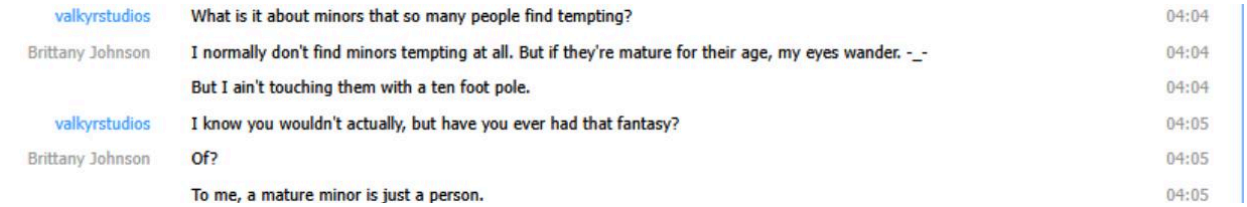
It’s also important to reiterate that Britt believes that Patch is lying about being abused and manipulated by Lily into playing into her more extreme sexual interests. Remember:



CybermagusNex 8/27/24, 1:33 PM
My dude. History of abuse and zoophilia. After most of the story around his testimony involves him claiming to be manipulated and coerced by Lily into participating in it. Lying to everyone he comes across to cover his own ass.
Personally I do not care if he is or isn't claimed or why he did it. I care about everything above.

So when Patch says that he was pushed into these things by Lily, she thinks he’s lying, but when she uses the same reason as a blanket shield against things that it doesn’t explain, it’s valid?

Now, putting aside the worrying notion that Britt couldn’t recognize a girl as being nearly a decade younger than her, the point here isn’t the weirdness of 23-year-old Britt’s perspective on the viability of minors for relationships with adults, it’s how she views them as people versus adults.



valkyrstudios What is it about minors that so many people find tempting? 04:04

Odd, but With the additional context of the screenshots I have already provided, it takes on concerning implications: there is a clear line from this kind of thinking about the autonomy of minors to why she thinks it’s okay to expose minors to extremely inappropriate topics.

“A mature minor is just a person”.

For almost the entire time her blog has been up, she has insisted that it’s important for minors to continue to have access to her posts.

Somehow, Britt still doesn't understand that the discussion of sexual abuse of children is a "mature" topic, or that there are ways to educate minors on safety without exposing them to harmful materials.

I should also mention that this was the same problem that several members of Courtney's first server encountered when they expressed concerns about a 15-year-old having access to chat rooms that actively discussed subjects like rape, child predation, and bestiality.

To preface, this is a callout blog for Poppy and Zena:

I notice Courtney and Brittney tend to completely and utterly flip out and burn bridges against anyone who disagrees with them slightly and treat them all as if they were another Lily or Poppy. How do they expect anyone to stay on their side or feel safe when they so often flip on a whim?

I said I was uncomfortable with the presence of a 15 year old in channels that discussed intense sexual topics, to the point where I purposefully stepped away so I stopped contributing. I said nothing about the receipts Twitter account, and that is what they focused on when that was not my point. I told that 15 year old in my messages to stop contributing, because a 15 year old should not be involved in any capacity.

Is it "infantilizing"? Yes. Because a 15 year old cannot have an offical drivers license. A 15 year old cannot drink or smoke. A fifteen year old cannot vote. A 15 year old does not have the intellectual capacity to understand that their continued involvement in this situation, private and public, will contribute to mental health issues as they mature. They do not have the capacity to "consent" or understand the ramifications of being exposed to what Poppy, Zena, and Lily have done.

I say this as someone who had an adult penpal in Youtube dms when I was 12. I say this as someone who entered an internet writing community with primarily adults and did not disclose my full age of 15 out of fear of being treated like a child. I say this as someone who was exposed to traumatic, gorey content when I was far too young to process it.

And I was lucky I wasn't groomed.

Lucky. Not smart. That's the key takeaway. There is no mature child, no mature 15 year old.

I don't care about the receipts twitter or whatever that mess is. That's not my circus. I care about the fact that this kid is being treated on par with adults when ten years from now, this may as well be something they will have to contend with in therapy. There has been content I've read, things Poppy and Zena have done that have emotionally harmed me, especially when it came to Spawn. I have cried and raged, stayed Someone had even argued with Courtney about it at the time.

I was in Courtney's server before moving to Poppy's. It was a small community at first and we'd frequently talk about explicit stuff. I wish I kept the screenshots, but there were moderators saying things along the lines of "we go by the honor system" when it came to preventing minors from accessing certain spaces (the 18+ stoner club and Spicy Selfies channels).
I left after realizing that the purpose of the server was not to effectively cope with trauma, but to dwell on it for entertainment. The Lily venting channel was mainly gossip about the latest tidbits from LO critical blogs. I went to Poppy's server believing that it would be better-moderated because Poppy was a therapist and established youtuber that surely knew how to run a community (lol).
I should also mention that ILoveKimPossibleALot was allowed to be in an impromptu group call with no prior planning and minimal moderation

I should also mention that ILoveKimPossibleALot was allowed to be in an impromptu group call with no prior planning and minimal moderation when she was still on the fence about associating with Lily Orchard (in an LO victim discord). This is when we were trying to keep things on the down-low so that we could potentially take Lily to court. While KP had the right to do that call, the call itself was incredibly reckless and hurt our cause. Nothing against KP. She didn't know about this. This was the mods' fault.
Anyway, I've decided to never consider anyone online a real friend. The end.
Thank you for reaching out. I was not in the server when PZ were so the testimony is enlightening.

Most of this is bullshit

> - The stoner chat was exactly what it sounds like. A chat for some of us who smoked weed to chat while stoned. That's it.
> - The "spicy selfies" thread was locked and only accessible by Poppy, who was the one who insisted on it, mods, and one other person. Whom I assume is the one who sent this anon since they left with Poppy. If it's who I think it is, they didn't leave "because they thought Poppy's server would be managed better". They left because Poppy had been flirting with them.

First off, any assertion that Britt makes about someone else's motivations should be taken with a grain of salt. If she doesn't provide tangible proof, chances are she's just assuming it based on her own bad faith interpretation. She's done this to many former friends and people in general, and to assert that one of the people who were being (allegedly) harassed by Poppy into choosing a side did it "because Poppy had been flirting with them" is incredibly gross. It's literally tossing aside any evidence of emotional abuse and coercion out the window in favor of, what, infatuation?

Dropping all pretense for a moment: this is fucking vile behavior, and one of my main goals with this doc is to make sure that nobody takes her at her word for shit like this again.

As for the main point: there were sexual photos in the stoner clubhouse channel prior to the creation of the "spicy selfies" thread, so this is not accurate.

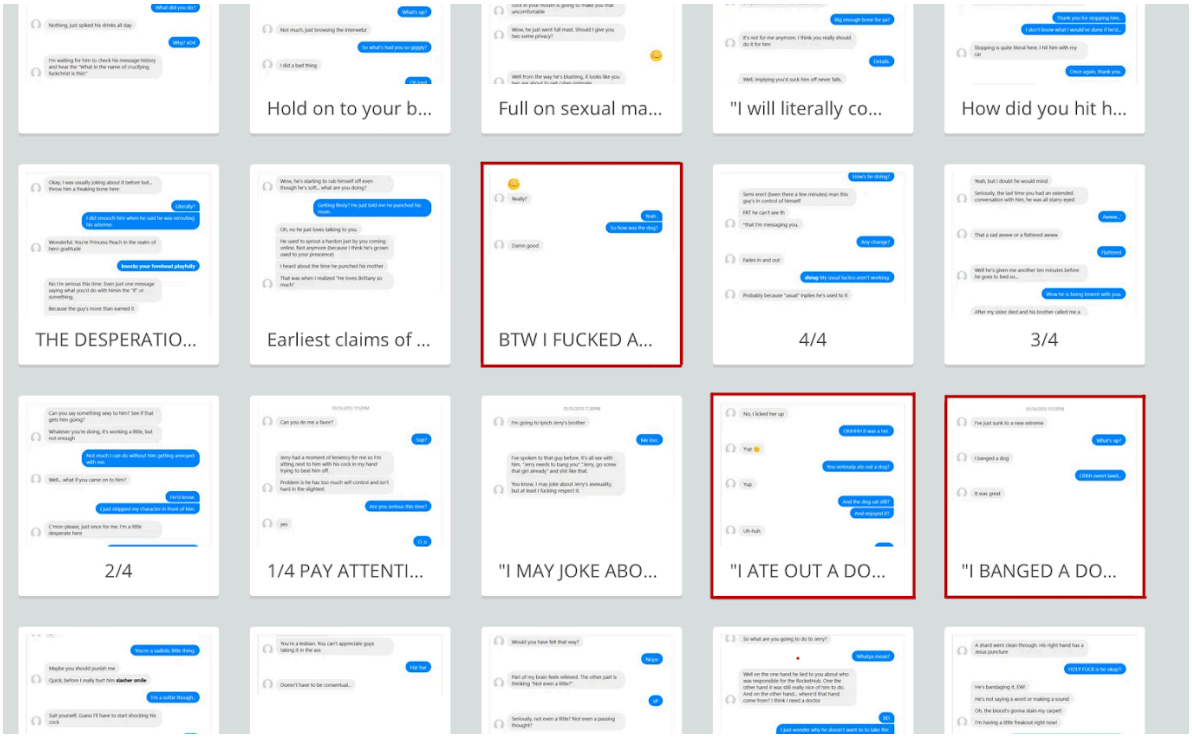
With this new information brought to light, we decided to re-examine the other logs put forward with the additional context this message lays out. We began with the Tara logs. We started grouping the messages by subject and found that several of the screenshots may have been from one conversation, separated in the archive by Britt.



There appear to still be parts of this conversation missing, but this is still plenty bad enough. The blue bubbles are Britt, the grey ones are (allegedly) Tara/Lily.

CW again: discussion of actual bestiality.

These screenshots are partial due to Britt's own cropping. While she's tried to pass off her edits as sparing us boring and irrelevant conversation, I don't see how the rest of this conversation could possibly be irrelevant.

The only person with access to the rest of the context is her. That ball is in her court.

It is important to note that Lily and Britt are the same age, and were both adults in these messages.

The rest of the Skype logs are accessible via the "Additional Evidence" tab in the sidebar. For now, let's get to the main point of this.

Looking for another Lily

Aside from making pred-hunting her brand, it's still a problem because she's using it as a way to regain some kind of relevance by latching onto whatever the next pred-hunting bandwagon is.

I need to stress that this is NOT a defense of any of the subjects of this criticism. There are many very real and valid problems with people like Lily, Patricia, and ISFF.

The issue is that Britt's approach towards these kinds of investigations and campaigns come from the wrong kinds of motivations, use the wrong methods, and are ultimately deeply and actively harmful to their credibility and efficacy.

The initial information drops that she and Courtney made were extremely important and significant blows to Lily's popularity and influence; the problem is that they both attempted to ride these moments into long-term relevance and validation. From Courtney's DMs to me:

Courtney 4/2/2024 2:29 PM well most social media sucess is based off of "going viral" which you cant make happen, it has to just happen
I had always figured that id never stumble into going viral, and then Lily fell into my lap

They actively tried to take over the kind of movement that should prioritize the well-being of victims over all else and hijacked it for their own personal grudges and egos, prioritizing their own victimhood instead. The way they've handled it has actively harmed victims who have trusted them and set awful examples for all of the younger people who looked up to them for safety and leadership. Including minors.

Courtney's actions are their own pile of problems that even Hidden's video doesn't fully cover. She didn't even get into how Courtney has burned through ally after ally by being extremely shitty to other survivors and their communities in general (like CrimsonEnder, Sai Scribbles, Anthony Gramuglia, and Lio Convoy), or how casually she throws around accusations of pedophilia towards people that she hates.

Speaking of which.

Britt distributed CSAM

The Lily Critical Sphere came to possess a potential link between Lily and several accounts on Sankaku Complex. Sankaku is known for hosting extreme hentai, and has been involved in multiple investigations and arrests for possession of CSAM. The community began sharing links, archives and even a Google Drive full of images from the account allegedly belonging to Lily.

Britt reblogged the post linking the drive, clearly knowing it was potentially criminally actionable.

One of my ex friends is a Lily stan and she says the reason you're not linking to the Sankaku accounts is because there's actually nothing incriminating in there. It's just "big boobied anime women", allegedly.
I'm sure I'll need eye bleach after this but can you please debunk this? Because 1., both you and I are in the US, posting the link doesn't count as violating the law and 2., Lily stans really need to understand just how bad this actually is. It's not just being horny for people with big breasts. If it was that, no one would be mad.
See the problem with that is I literally can't link the drive with the Sankaku content because it would get me put on a list and I refuse to subject anyone to the content in it. Plus even the archive links show some of the uncensored favorites, and have porn ads all over the place. The most I can do publicly is post the screenshot of the Alchorative profile information showing the favorite tags, artists, ect. and a small snippet of the ElethynAscentia favorites page.
If you or your friend want to dm me to see the archive links, assuming you're both adults, I'll show them. But it's not something I'm willing to post publicly. I also refuse to link anyone to the google drive containing the uncensored content due to it likely being bad enough to be considered illegal even by U.S standards.

Now that she mentions it, it should be noted that this content is, in fact, illegal in Britt's state.

[Viewing the link, sharing the link, zooming in on images, or having a Google Drive full of images is enough to face criminal charges.]

> This brings us to Texas child porn laws.
> According to Texas Penal Code 43.26(a)(1), a person commits the offense of possession of child pornography if that person "knowingly or intentionally accesses with intent to view, visual material that visually depicts a child younger than 18 years of age at the time the image of the child was made who is engaging in sexual conduct." As of March 2025, viewing hentai or AI-generated content depicting minors under the age of 18 (including deepfake porn) is also illegal in Texas.
> Note the distinction of when a person "accesses with intent to view" as opposed to actually having physical possession of such material. Under Texas law, simply having access with the intent to view could be construed as possession.

It's really, really important to note that it does not matter that she signposted the content with a warning as to what it was, which is an actual argument I've heard people use to defend this. I need those people to take a second and realize what they look like.

Sensible person: "She shared a link to child pornography!"
Weirdos: "Yeah, but she labeled the link as child pornography, first!"

If you think that sharing CSAM on fucking Tumblr is okay if you just put "tw cp" in the tags... the fuck is wrong with you? Think for two seconds what you'd think if someone else did that. Maybe someone you don't like.

Okay, just needed to get that out.

Now, you may be thinking that there's no proof she actually viewed the images themselves. This isn't the case, because she admitted to it herself.

A lot of it was worse than drawn..

Under the “Additional Evidence” tab in the sidebar, I’ve included screenshots of an anonymous contribution to Britt’s blog describing the contents of the folder, which is clear evidence that her sharing the information led to others going through it. I felt like it was important to include as proof, but also it’s extremely upsetting to read, so I’ve opted to leave it out of the main text here.

You can proceed without reading it, but if you feel brave/strong enough, remember that Britt has repeatedly insisted that it’s essential for her blog to be accessible to minors. The idea that she posted that with the direct intention of minors seeing it is something I don’t have strong enough words for.

Even worse, by her own admission, she likely received these links to CSAM from a minor who apparently checks those sites “to report images to the authorities.”

most pedophiles were pedophiles' victims at some point. i'm now 100% convinced the anon who "found" (read: probably made) the sankaku account is a pedo. they're on there because they get off to it and they want to fuck kids.
They've already addressed that concern. They were a multi-year victim of a groomer/3D loli artist in their childhood and they're terribly afraid of images of themselves ending up on that website. They scroll tags to report images to authorities.
Also I'm pretty sure they're a minor still.

I hope I don't have to explain why this child should be getting help to resist these urges.

But Britt still chose not to report it. Why?

You might think that it was because "the kid was already reporting it." If that was the explanation, the follow-up question should be, "Why didn't you also report it because you're an adult and can make sure it's done correctly?"

But it's not. Britt's explanation for not reporting these illegal images was that she wouldn't be able to prove that it was Lily.

Okay, genuine question here. But have you or anyone else since you discovered the EbraTara account, reported THAT to Canada's cybercrime tip line? I just want to know.
Because all we have in the eyes of law enforcement is a random username that isn't solidly linked to Lily. I could Pepe Silve connect all the dots to them until I'm blue in the face but law enforcement will not care unless there's an easy link with her name explicitly attached.
It's hard enough to get law enforcement to care when the perpetrator outright publicly admits to what they're doing. Look at fuckin Hypnotist Sappho's history and tell me why she's still walking free.

Let's take a second to think about that. If the account was actually owned by Lily, then Britt wouldn't have to prove it was Lily because the cops would have tracked down the account owner and arrested them whether it was Lily or not.

Even worse, Britt doesn't seem to be interested in reporting child pornography to law enforcement unless it directly serves her goal of taking down Lily.

If Britt is actually concerned about the safety of children, why wouldn't she report child pornography regardless of whether the account owner was Lily or not? To venture even further, why would she share these links on her Tumblr knowing that minors followed her and she deliberately refused to age gate it?

Oh yeah.

"Oh my god, kids, I found child pornography! Here, look!"

The most disturbing part is that, based on her descriptions of those images, many of the drawn or 3D images in the folder are very likely to have originated from real children.

Real children who got sexually abused for real in real life by real predators.

So this was real child predation being put on display for the public. Britt passed around children's real trauma and pain as the latest ammo against Lily and deliberately refused to report it to the authorities.

The worst part is that the authorities who could have actually done something about it and tracked down the account owner will never be able to because Britt's anti-LO group decided it would be better to pass around Tumblr instead of reporting it, which, like I said before, resulted in the accounts getting deleted soon after. They did eventually report it, but Britt was not the one who filed it.

So just know that when these people tell you it's about child safety, they're lying. They're not in it to protect victims or help them heal. They're in it for their own egos and to feel like vigilante heroes.

Britt Part 3: Harming Minors

This loops back around to the section regarding my harassment allegations, serving as a conclusion to it. As long and arduous as it's been, the context is directly relevant to this section.

So far, we've seen that Britt just views any "mature minor as just a person," doesn't think that they should be protected from explicit content, and doesn't understand that there are ways to educate them without exposing them to NSFW content.

This section shows that that lack of a line extends to who she directs her aggression towards.

The 15-year-old (2026)

During the writing of this doc, Britt found a 15-year-old girl mocking her on tumblr, and promptly posted the anon that sent her the full archived link of the kid's blog.

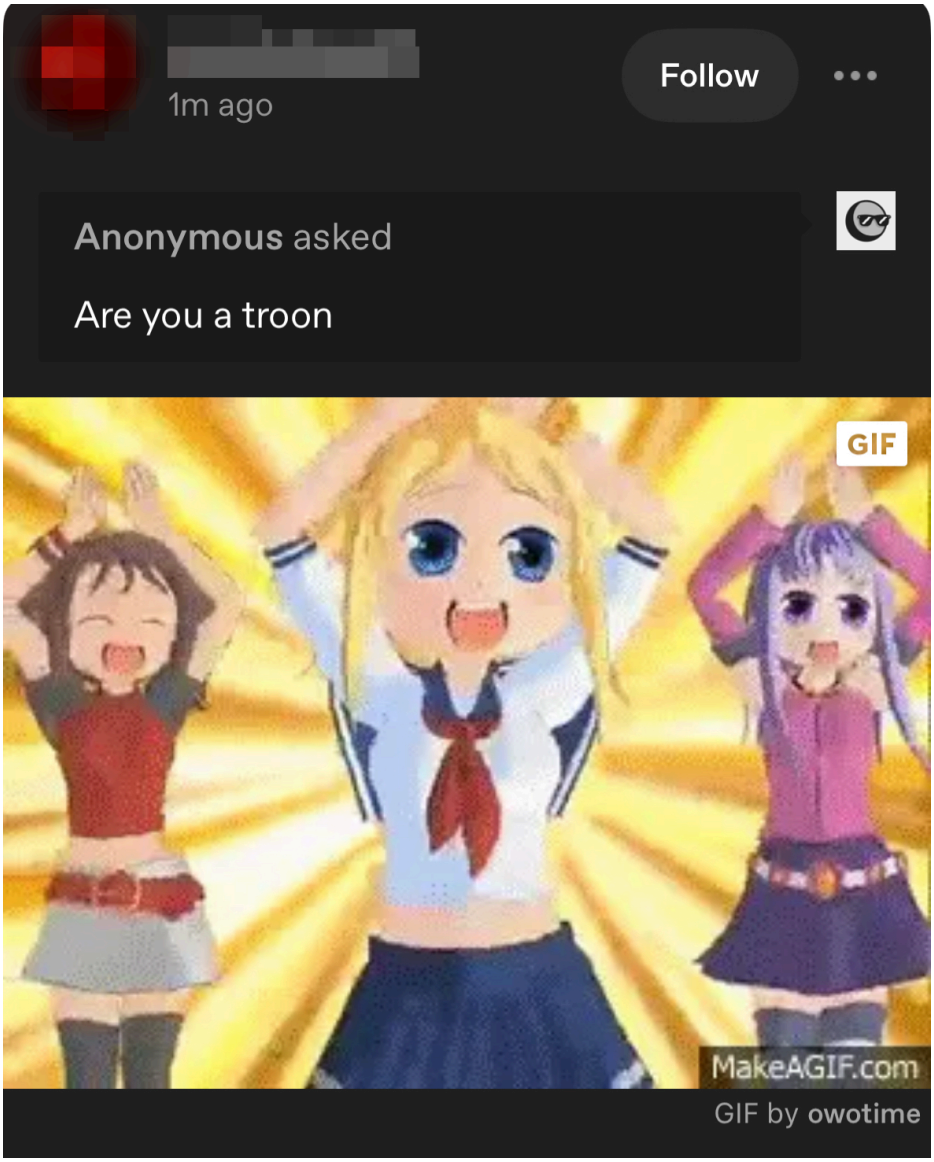
While I don't think doxxing is acceptable, Britt's full name has been publicly available since she published it in her Lily logs in 2018. Britt calling attention to this is incredibly dangerous and could put the minor in question at serious risk at being targeted by her audience. Given her track record, I was appalled to see that it directly led to the kid being harassed.



When her audience attacked, they immediately jumped to calling her slurs. Remember, this directly followed Britt attacking her publicly, so while this could be potentially argued as an assumption, the correlation is pretty blatant.

Fortunately, the kid is hilarious and took it in stride.

I don't really care what the 15 year old is saying online, but if those Rape Threats and Racial Slurs aren't them just sending anon hate to themselves I think the people who are doing it need to take a step back and actually take an objective look at what they are doing.
That is a child. Acting like a Child online cause they think it'll be cool or whatever.
The threats and slurs aren't going to do what you want outside of chasing them directly towards the kind of people you want them to avoid.

The problem is that she's cultivated a following that thinks this kind of behavior is appropriate because of how she acts. It's the example that she sets for them when she's deemed someone a suitable target, so she should have learned a long time ago that when she publicly draws attention to them, she's directing that kind of behavior towards them.

Okay but, you're not making trans women kill themselves. You're just bringing attention to the predators in the community. What they do after that is on them. Is it tragic someone takes their life? Of course! But you are not re-sponsible for their actions.

These people know that. They just need outsiders looking in to believe this is a bigotry issue so they can keep getting away with it.

At this point I genuinely wonder if some of them have managed to convince themselves that their only options are "normalize sexualizing kids so I can keep doing it" or "kms". The thought of a secret third option doesn't even enter into the equation because it's not what they want.

That is the reality of having influence and a platform. It's imperative that you handle this responsibility with care.

This was a situation where Britt should have taken accountability for directing harassment, not waffle about it maybe not being real anyway and also definitely not her fault.

If this has established anything, it's that Britt is a danger to children and should not under any circumstances be involved in "stopping" predators.

If you have any remaining doubts or are just interested in them, be sure to check out the rest of the Britt/Lily Skype logs.

The 16-year-old reposting nudes

It's also important to note that this is not a defense of the subject of Britt's criticism here, it's about the falloff effects out of her actions here.

First, a reminder that Britt fully intends for her blog to have a child audience.

This is significant because an inevitable consequence of her pushing minors to engage with her blog is that, at some point, a traumatized minor looking for catharsis will start to imitate Britt's behaviors (which are clearly focused more on catharsis than actual effective action and consequences). This is what happened when this particular minor tried to follow in Britt's footsteps attacking someone on Tumblr.

While the target of this has some decidedly "questionable" takes, the importance here is not whether or not they're innocent of criticism; it's that a child decided to model herself after Britt and get directly involved.

The post below was by a 16-year-old and contains a photo of the nude ass of someone that Britt had been publicly targeting for criticizing her (pixelization censorship is mine).

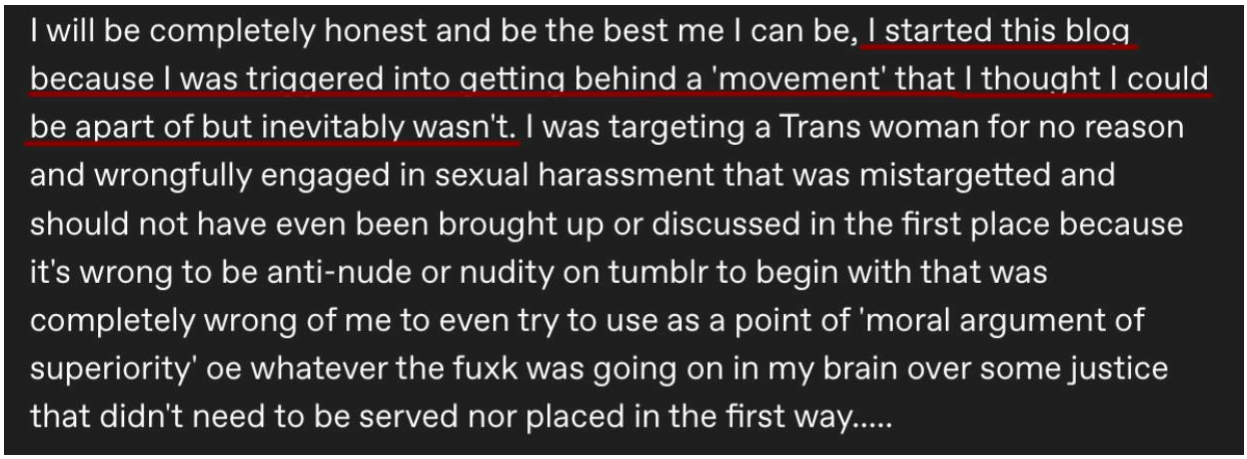
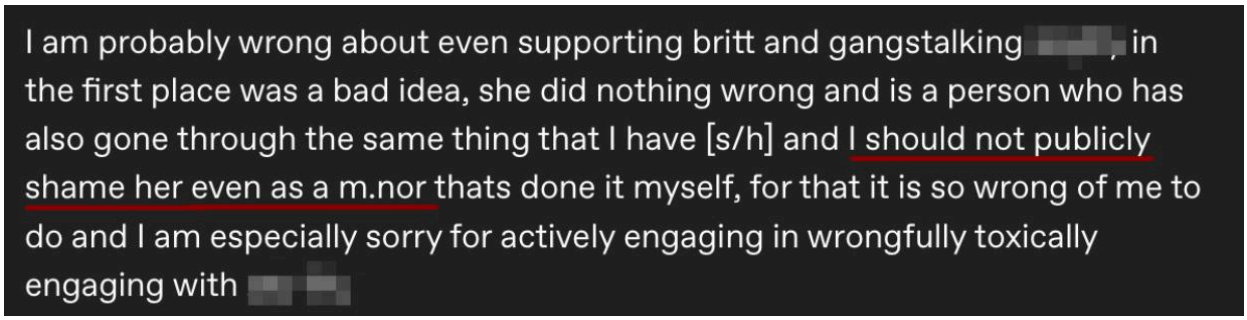
#cw butt????

The minor went on to create a post apologizing for distributing the poorly cropped nude above.



I will be completely honest and be the best me I can be, I started this blog because I was triggered into getting behind a 'movement' that I thought I could be apart of but inevitably wasn't. I was targeting a Trans woman for no reason and wrongfully engaged in sexual harassment that was mistargetted and should not have even been brought up or discussed in the first place because it's wrong to be anti-nude or nudity on tumblr to begin with that was completely wrong of me to even try to use as a point of 'moral argument of superiority' oe whatever the fuxk was going on in my brain over some justice that didn't need to be served nor placed in the first way.....

The word “triggered” is noteworthy to me because of just how much Britt’s posts hinge on sexual abuse and trauma. The young people who engage with her content become increasingly retraumatized and radicalized through it. Being exposed to discussions of kink, incest, and rape at an early age creates a damaging worldview, especially when they’re as reactionary and rooted in trauma responses as Britt’s.



I am probably wrong about even supporting britt and gangstalking [redacted], in the first place was a bad idea, she did nothing wrong and is a person who has also gone through the same thing that I have [s/h] and I should not publicly shame her even as a m.nor thats done it myself, for that it is so wrong of me to do and I am especially sorry for actively engaging in wrongfully toxically engaging with [redacted]

Here, the author confirms they are underage, and likely shouldn’t have been looking at any of this content to begin with.

Remember, Britt wants and encourages minors looking at her posts. The exposure of kink and sexual violence through Britt's blog directly led to this outcome. Here, she acknowledges that the kid is a minor, but immediately pivots to how it's a point of guilt for her target, not how it's inappropriate for a child to be in these spaces or engaging with these subjects.

I hope I don't have to explain any further why this is dangerous for a 16-year-old. These situations are exceedingly toxic and harmful towards people with mental health issues, especially if they're that young. Britt is actively encouraging this kind of harm under the guise of "keeping them safe," but the idea that a child looking at this kind of material every day makes them somehow "safer" is clearly grounded in justifying her own self-righteousness.

The original anon author was out of commission, as his mother had taken all of his devices away and had not returned them. It couldn't have been him. To this day, we have no idea who it could have been.

I should mention that some of the black people I spoke to regarding these anons pointed out where they used AAVE (African-American Vernacular English) incorrectly or in a way that felt unnatural, like a non-black person pretending to "sound black" to cover their real identity.

The Harassment

Even after Britt was notified that she was accusing the wrong person of harassing her, she continued accusing them publicly. This person was a minor named Eazy that was in my Discord server intended to replace Courtney's original support server for CSA survivors.

As a result of the actions of Britt that I detail in this section, the server has since been made 18+, and the youngest people in that server were moved to the teen server exclusively.

Britt and Nicole refused Eazy the decency of anonymity. They repeatedly insinuated she was an adult when she was 17 years old and, again, innocent of the accusations they levied against her.

A snowbunny is a white woman who only goes for black men. In no world it can be interpreted as a non-sexual insult. This is sexual harassment, and at the very least really fucking weird and creepy to say, especially to someone you know is a lesbian.
Thank you. That's what I was under the impression of as well, hence why I felt squiked the hell out on multiple levels.
But no apparently me pointing that out makes me even more racist and potentially weird toward a minor.

The term “Snowbunny” is, in fact, used by black lesbians within the community. It’s also generally used by younger black people to call someone an annoying white woman (“white woman (derogatory)”). While not the traditional way the term is used, it does get used that way.

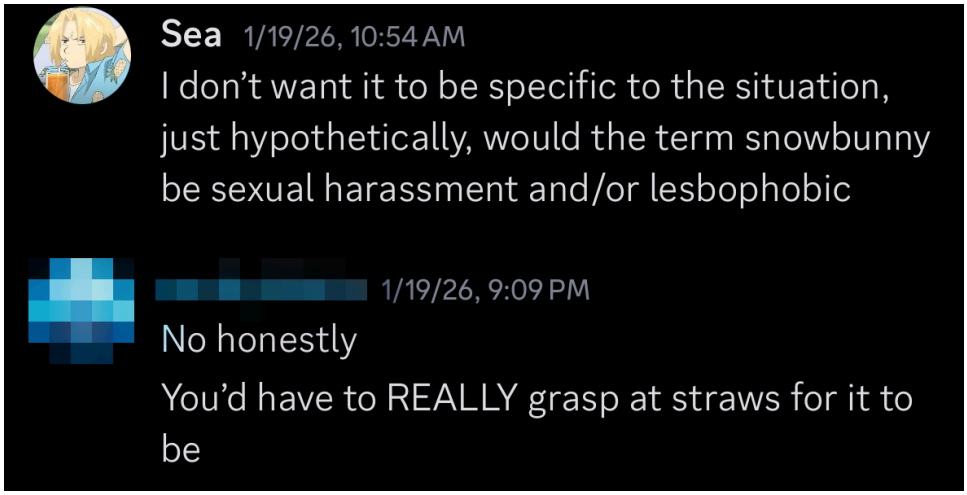
she. literally has evidence that it wasn't Her .She deactivated Her tumblr account

I also tried getting statements from black lesbians on the matter, but they had very little to say because of how ludicrous they found the situation.



Sea 1/19/26, 10:54 AM
I don't want it to be specific to the situation, just hypothetically, would the term snowbunny be sexual harassment and/or lesbophobic
1/19/26, 9:09 PM
No honestly
You'd have to REALLY grasp at straws for it to be

Britt actually had a black person reach out with the intent to educate her, both about the situation at hand and the contextual nature of the term “snowbunny”.

He isn't but he sure as hell doesn't see anything wrong with a lesbian being called that by a 17 year old.

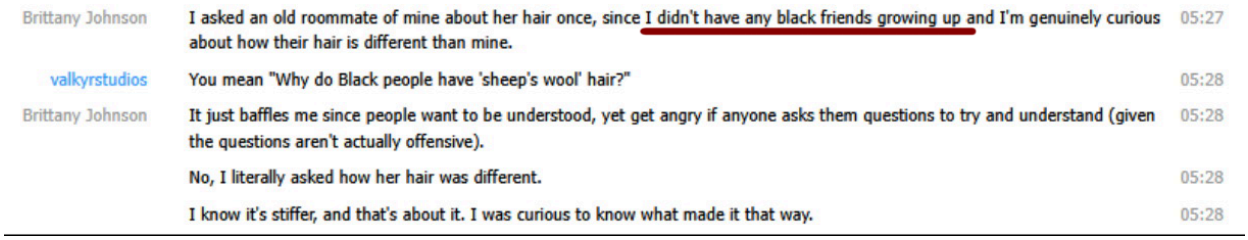
She immediately tried to insinuate that they were lesbophobic.

I'm going to go out on a limb here and say that Britt isn't exactly a person whose perspective on black culture should be given much authority.



Brittany Johnson
I asked an old roommate of mine about her hair once, since I didn't have any black friends growing up and I'm genuinely curious about how their hair is different than mine.

valkyrstudios
You mean "Why do Black people have 'sheep's wool' hair?"
05:28
Brittany Johnson
It just baffles me since people want to be understood, yet get angry if anyone asks them questions to try and understand (given the questions aren't actually offensive).
05:28
No, I literally asked how her hair was different.
05:28
I know it's stiffer, and that's about it. I was curious to know what made it that way.
05:28

Britt has been open about her lack of experience surrounding black people and their culture in the past. It's safe to say she wasn't aware that the connotations of the term have shifted over time, despite being repeatedly informed of exactly that.

She had even linked posts in Sai's server to make the situation more visible.

both Britt and sai have a history of transphobia. Britt beat down on a poc minor to the point of publicly humiliating her and getting her fans to stalk her
This question may surprise you, but: Sourc...

Then Britt made it even weirder by making an absurd amount of posts about this. I'm not even going to include all of the full screenshots, just look at the preview images for this batch of seven. Remember, this is about a seventeen-year-old black trans girl calling her an annoying white woman.

Minors can very much sexually harrass older women & someone who happens to be black calling a lesbian woman a snowbunny isn't just sexual harassment, but also feels kinda homophobic? Correct me if I'm wrong on that assumption
I had the same suspicion.
A snowbunny is a white woman who only goes for black men. In no world it can be interpreted as a non-sexual insult. I find it even more revolting as you are a lesbian and I've never seen this word used for a white woman only attracted to black women. This is sexual harassment, and at the very least really fucking weird and creepy to say, especially to someone you know is a lesbian.
Thank you. That's what I was under the impression of as well, hence why I felt squiked the hell out on multiple levels.
But no apparently me pointing that out makes

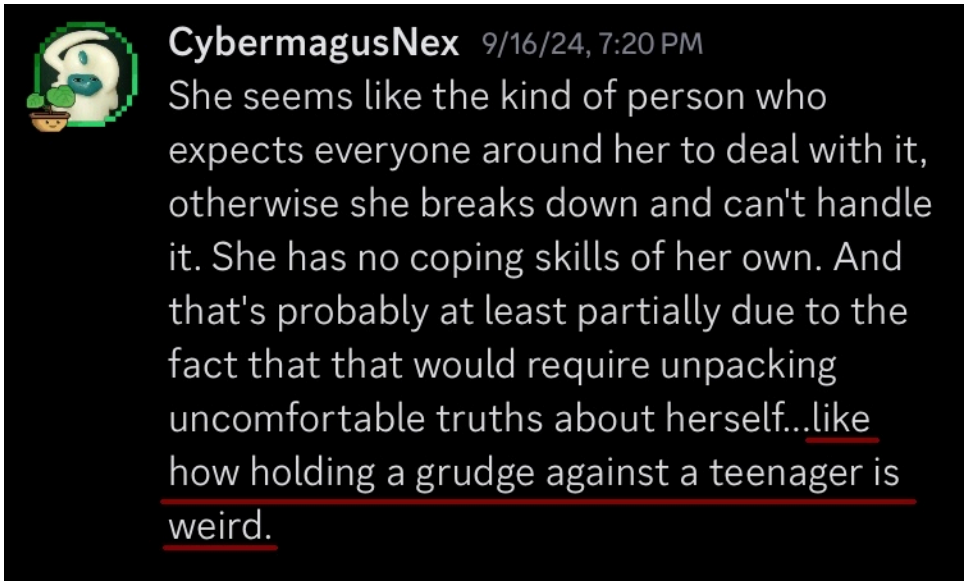
It actually makes me sad to see people have gotten so deep into the Tumblr discourse spiral that they're sincerely trying to argue that someone being black and 17 means they, what, can't be rude? Can't not be rude? Like holy infantilization, Batman. How is it not more racist to act like he's just a little kid who can't understand or be held responsible for throwing around names and jeering at people in a clear attempt to rile them?
^^^^

This isn't even all of them. This is just a handful I found offhandedly. Somehow she doesn't have the self-awareness to see how obsessive this is even though she recently called KP out for beefing with a teenager.



CybermagusNex 9/16/24, 7:20 PM
She seems like the kind of person who expects everyone around her to deal with it, otherwise she breaks down and can't handle it. She has no coping skills of her own. And that's probably at least partially due to the fact that that would require unpacking uncomfortable truths about herself...like how holding a grudge against a teenager is weird.

The teenager this is about has zero online presence, but she's continuously posted about it for over a year with the apparent intent to paint a teenager as a sexual harasser and cyberstalker.

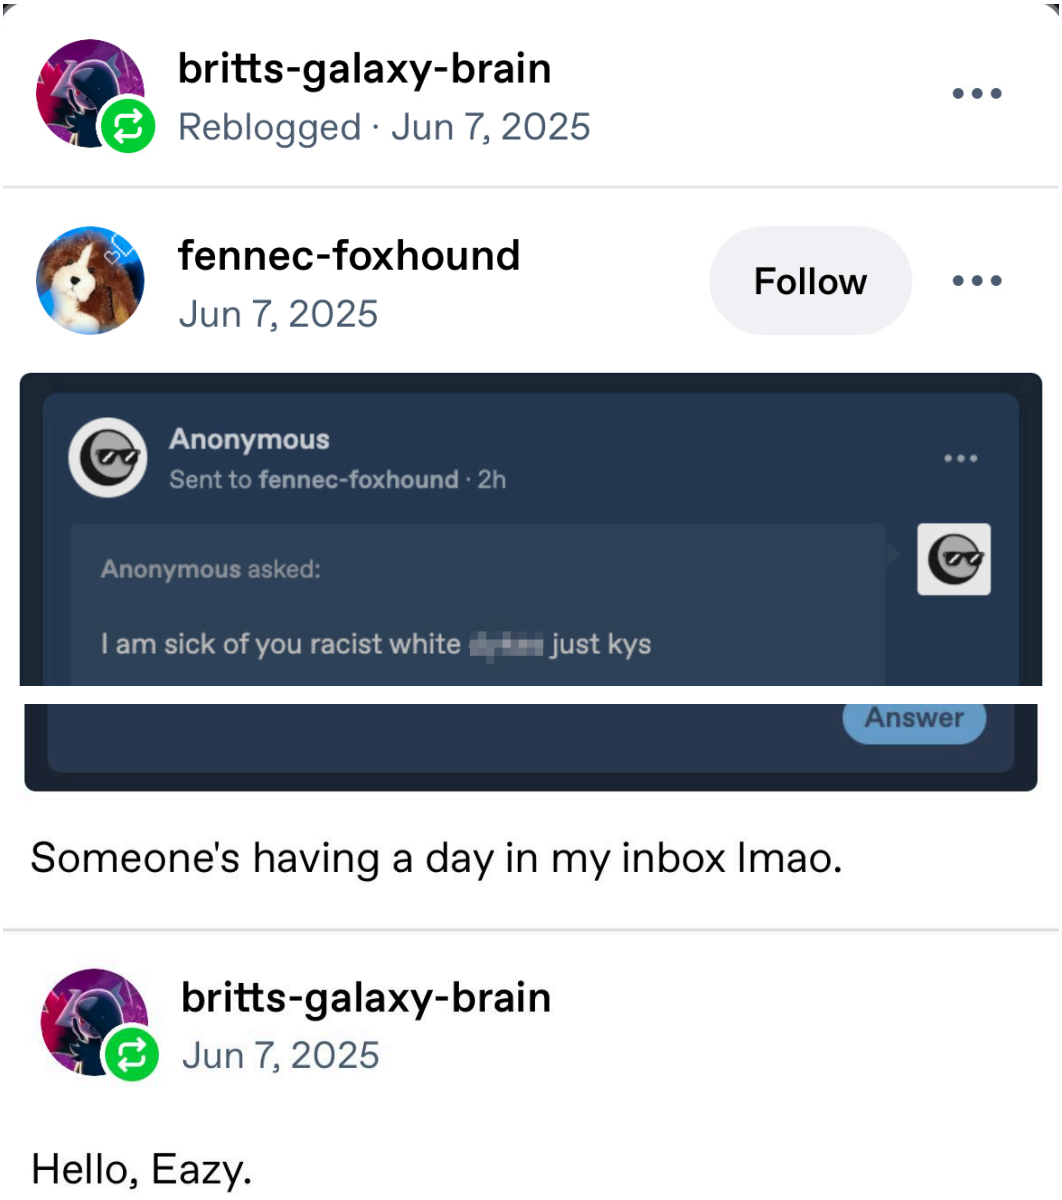
I had the same suspicion.

The last time she made a public post about Eazy was June 7, 2024. Remember those nasty anons that Nicole got? She was accusing Eazy of sending those solely because they were directed at Nicole.



Britt accuses just about everyone she personally beefs with of anonymous harassment, so it's not a surprising tactic coming from her. What's disturbing to me is her inability to use restraint when a teenager is involved.

The Harm

These accusations affected Eazy deeply. The continued piling on that she saw online from Britt and others led her to feeling like she was predatory for having an emotional outburst.. She grew up in an extremely abusive home environment (which Britt was aware of) and this situation worsened her existing mental health issues drastically.

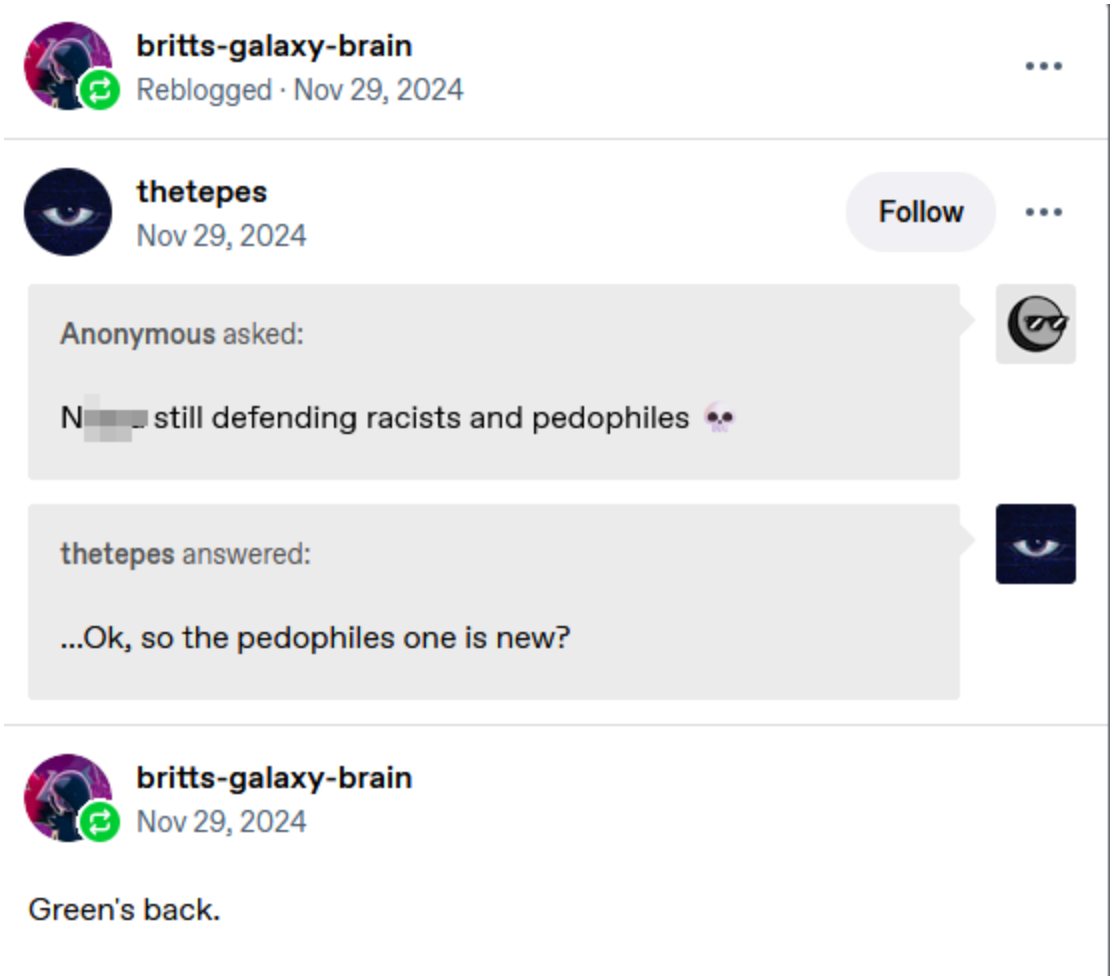
Then, following the release of my first doc, Britt reignited the campaign surrounding me and Eazy by proxy with this post. It brought extra attention to the situation that hadn't existed prior.

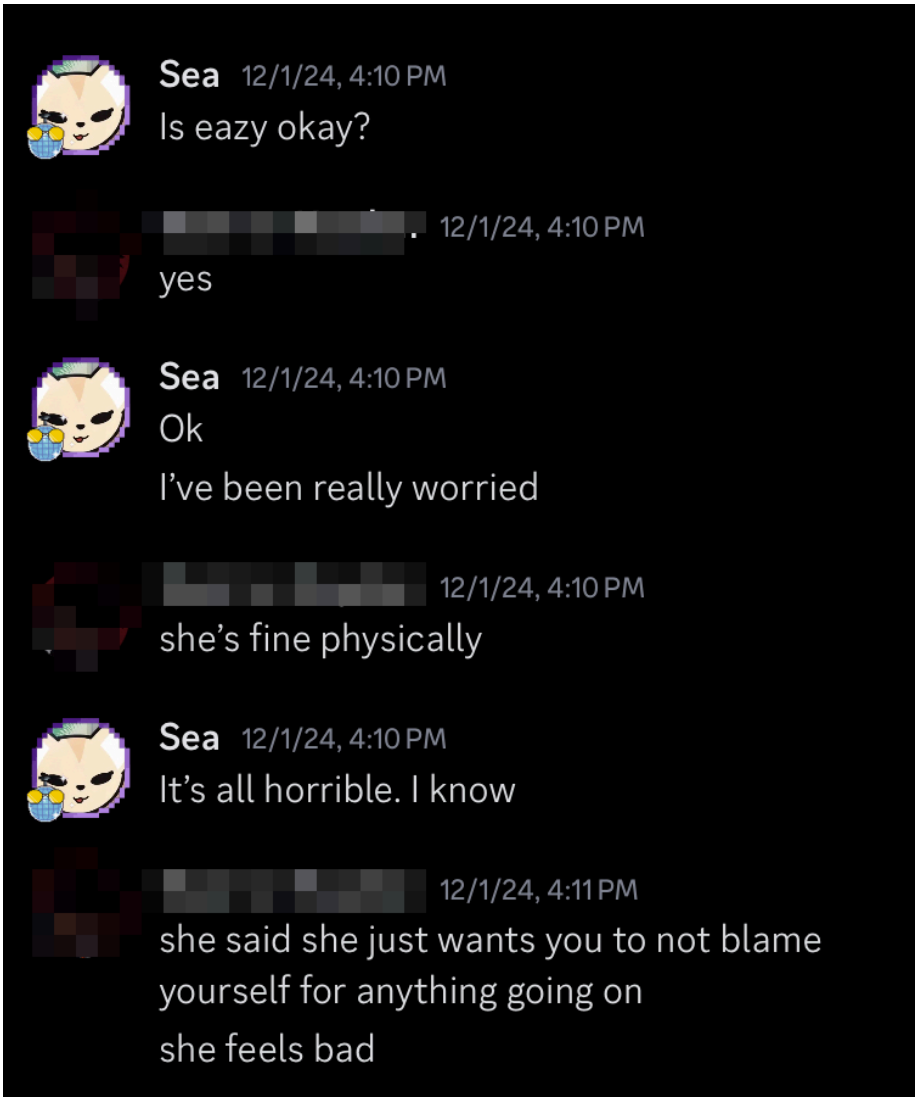
Yellow is Fennec. This was in his server.

Britt continued to post about Eazy for several weeks, referring to her as "green" or by her screen name. She assigned any negative ask that she considered to be from a black person to Eazy.



Eazy, breaking under the pressure of an older white woman with a large platform falsely accusing her of sexual harassment, made an attempt on her life.

To preface, Sea is me.



Sea 12/1/24, 4:10 PM
Is eazy okay?
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:10 PM
yes
Sea 12/1/24, 4:10 PM
Ok
I've been really worried
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:10 PM
she's fine physically
Sea 12/1/24, 4:10 PM
It's all horrible. I know
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:11 PM
she said she just wants you to not blame yourself for anything going on she feels bad

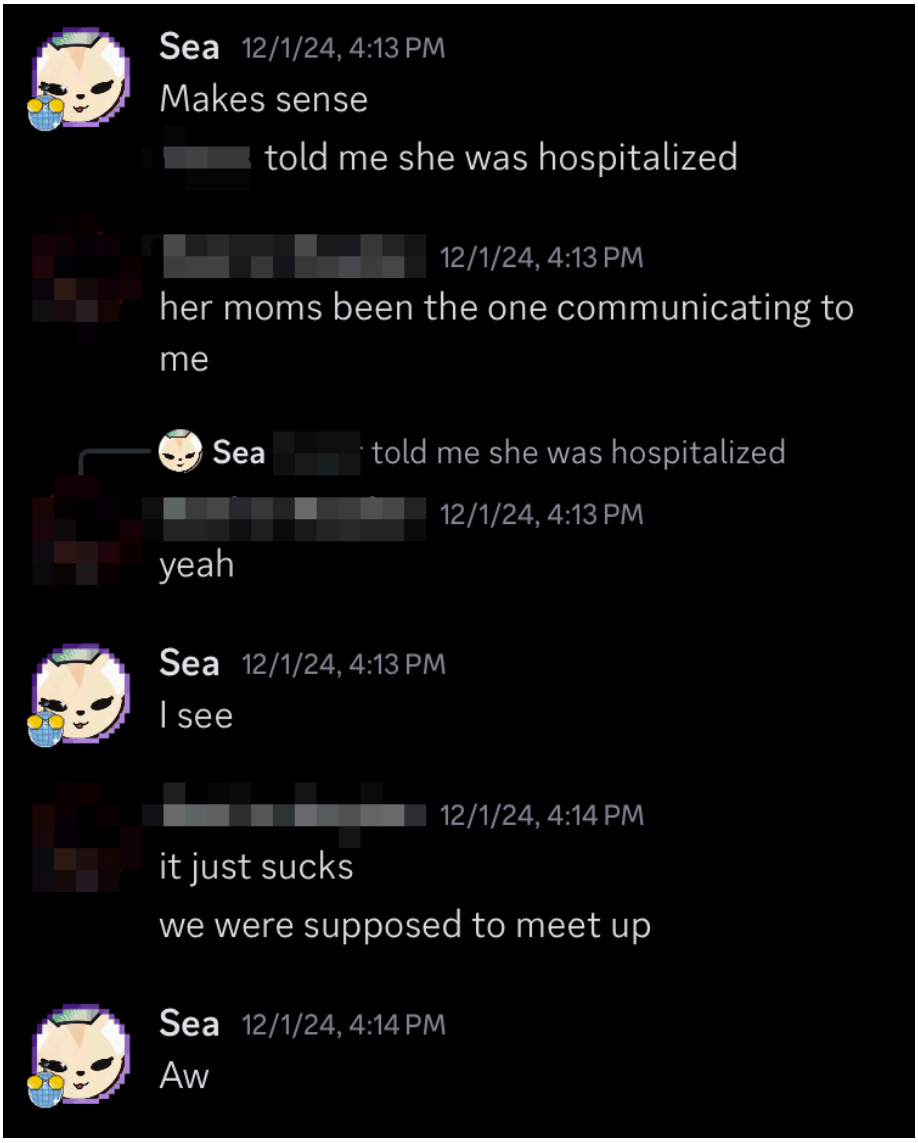
Sea 12/1/24, 4:11 PM
I dont want her to feel blamed either
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:11 PM
she said she doesn't trust anyone anymore because of this
Sea 12/1/24, 4:11 PM
I can understand why tbh
I feel similarly
I hope that she can at least feel safe enough to stick around with us
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:13 PM
yeah probably will
Sea 12/1/24, 4:13 PM
Okay
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:13 PM
she just can't go on the internet for a while and hasn't been able to



This is why I pulled the original doc. I didn't want anyone else to get hurt.

Eazy and the person in these messages are close online friends who had intended to meet each other's families in person for a vacation. That is why they were in close contact. This also adds validity to the claims made by the individual here.

[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:14 PM and now she's in the hospital bc she wants to die i feel so bad
Sea 12/1/24, 4:14 PM
I hate that this ruined so much
[redacted] 12/1/24, 4:15 PM
we both don't want u to feel like it was bc of the doc it's because britt sucks
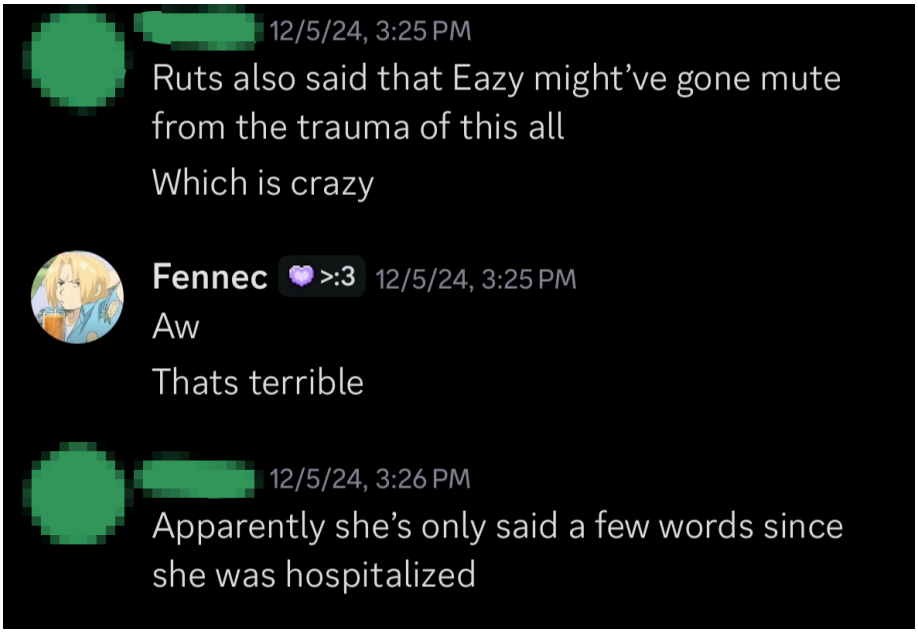
she already was feeling this way because of the stuff Britt was saying
Sea 12/1/24, 4:15 PM
Britt just cranked it up to 11 because she saw an angry mob and wanted to feed her ego
She can never say she believes victims again

I want to respect Eazy's privacy, so I won't go into the details of how, but the situation surrounding Britt and the hospitalization led directly to her being outed as trans to her transphobic family when they went through her phone. She was unsure of whether she would have a home at all following her two weeks of hospitalization.

Eazy's sibling (who goes by the name Rut, pronounced like "root") did reach out to Britt, but I don't have screenshots of that conversation. Britt is more than welcome to share them.

According to Eazy, her sibling has a cognitive disability that makes communicating difficult.

They also kept those of us close to Eazy online informed about how she was doing following her attempt on her life.



12/5/24, 3:25 PM
Ruts also said that Eazy might've gone mute from the trauma of this all
Which is crazy
Fennec

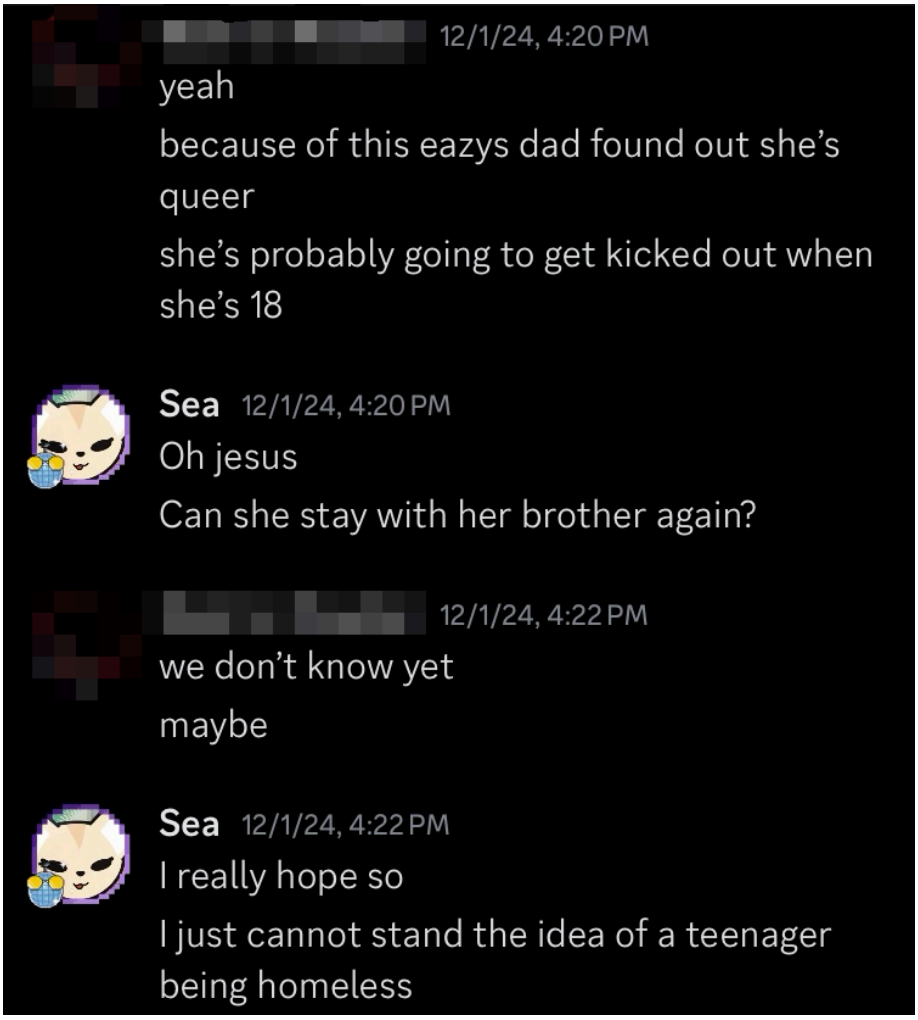
God, please, show the proof of that one because it's just Britt being bullied, harassed, and whisper campaigned about by someone who then pretended to be their own sister to guilt trip her about Eazy going to a mental hospital because Britt said "Please stop harassing me." and showed why they kept calling her racist which was then being downright mean and rude for no reason to her in a discord server.
The transphobia btw they changed their pronouns and she didn't just know instinctively without anyone telling her.

This is Sheev, someone in their 30's, asking for "proof" that a teenager attempted suicide.

This is a pretty classic cyber harassment tactic used to invalidate victims of said harassment.

Unfortunately, this attempt resulted in her transphobic family going through her phone to see what had driven her to this point and finding out that she was trans.



12/1/24, 4:20 PM
yeah because of this eazys dad found out she's queer she's probably going to get kicked out when she's 18
Sea 12/1/24, 4:20 PM
Oh jesus
Can she stay with her brother again?
12/1/24, 4:22 PM
we don't know yet maybe
Sea 12/1/24, 4:22 PM
I really hope so
I just cannot stand the idea of a teenager being homeless

For the record, she was able to find safety and support with her uncle. She is currently still living with him as of the writing of this doc and is safe and happy. That's all that matters to me, now.

Britt made a post about the accusation that she has bullied other trans women into attempting suicide.

Okay but, you're not making trans women kill themselves. You're just bringing attention to the predators in the community. What they do after that is on them. Is it tragic someone takes their life? Of course! But you are not responsible for their actions.
These people know that. They just need outsiders looking in to believe this is a bigotry issue so they can keep getting away with it.
At this point I genuinely wonder if some of them have managed to convince themselves that their only options are "normalize sexualizing kids so I can keep doing it" or "kms". The thought of a secret third option doesn't even enter into the equation because it's not what they want.

Even if the women she's referring to here are predatory, Britt's scope of her harassment is far greater than she cares to admit. None of these accusations applied to Eazy, and Britt still went after her anyway.

Look at the way Britt and Sheev/Tepes mocked Eazy's suicide attempt in a Discord server full of adults, claiming it wasn't real.

There are more “jokes” about the situation from these people, but I’m going to spare you.

The sheer glee coming from these messages about a teenager potentially making an attempt on their life speaks volumes. This is what these people think accountability is. These are the people chest beating about “saving children”? And we’re supposed to believe them?

Conclusion

The anti-Lily community has continuously shot itself in the foot and Lily's alleged victims by proxy because they've prioritizing farming the shock value of the allegations for attention over getting any of the victims actual justice.

One of the biggest concerns throughout any of this has not been media takes or petty grievances, but Lily's documented, repeatedly inappropriate interactions with young fans.

These people do not care about the safety of children. This is about satisfying bloodlust and pointing fingers at often vulnerable people without real evidence. And when they do have evidence, they mishandle it and obstruct justice.

They are a danger to any victims they come into contact with because they either tokenize their abuse, or weaponize their traumas against them out of pure spite. May the bridges they've burned set them on fire.

For anyone sitting on the fence about any of this within that community, ask yourself: does this undo what happened to you in the past? Does it soothe the pain and help you heal and move on, or are you constantly ripping open old wounds as "catharsis" or to "save" other people? Do you think the people pushing you to do this have good intentions and your well-being in mind?

Thank you for reading this document, and thank you again to everyone who helped make it possible.

Major Players

Major Players

This is a short summary of significant people and their backstories, in case you don't know who they are or forgot relevant details while working your way through.

Britt
aka britts-galaxy-brain, cybermagusnex, and angelwolfafterdark

A former friend of YouTube media commentator Lily Orchard, who put forward allegations of catfishing and sexual coercion against Lily. She was also a moderator for Courtney's original server.

She is the primary focus of this doc.

Lily Orchard
aka CD-Call

Lily has a lot of allegations against her from perpetrating COCSA against her younger sister to grooming actual minors in her audience to writing a massive My Little Pony fanfiction that gleefully tramples over as many taboo lines as possible. We don't have time for any of those here, but if you're interested in more details, Joon the King's video covers a lot of her history here.

Courtney Peet
aka Courtney Orchard, pleasetiemyshoes, pleasetiemyshoelaces

Courtney Peet is Lily's sister and has made public COCSA allegations against Lily. She is truly her own can of worms, with allegations of her own ranging from animal abuse to talking to a 13-year-old about her masturbation habits to posting thirst traps in her CSA survivors' server where minors had access to them.

More on that in Hidden Heroine's video linked here. Britt has attempted to dismiss this video as rehashed old material, but I can personally vouch that it contains server logs that weren't publicly available before its release.

Nicole
aka fennec-foxhound

Fennec-Foxhound is a former member of my server and friend of Britt. She went by Nicole during the time I knew her. She also went by Rathound in Sai Scribbles' Discord server. This is relevant solely for screenshots. She has put out the vast majority of the allegations against me and is covered in the sections where I defend myself.

Sheev
aka thetepes, Sheev Palpatine, Kazuhira Sheev

Sheev is a moderator of Sai Scribbles' Discord server and a current friend of Britt's. They come up several times throughout the doc as one of Britt's biggest defenders.

Patchwork Heart
aka Patch, Shiloh

Patch is one of Lily's victims. He alleged that Lily financially coerced him into drawing zoophilic artwork because he needed the financial help.

Patch is also an alleged victim of Zena and Poppy.

Patch released his own testimony against Lily here.

Dusk
aka NightWyld, Wyvern Tea

Dusk (originally Nightwyld) was 19 when she was a moderator in Zena and Poppy's Discord server, The Foundation. Dusk is an alleged victim of Zena and Poppy, and a witness for the last few months of Patch's actions within The Foundation.

I will link Dusk's personal statement on her experiences here.

Zena and Poppy

Zena and Poppy were a left wing political channel oriented towards queer and trans people with a focus on mental health. Their channel slowly shifted to focus more on community drama in its final year, and very intensely on personal conflicts in its last few months.

They have been accused of coercion, severe emotional abuse, sexual harassment, and cult-like behaviors in their community.

One of Poppy's exes put together a massive document of evidence against them, which streamer Luxander debuted and covered in this video.

Good luck on your journey through this doc. It's not safe to go alone. Take this.

Brittany Johnson	Ohmy	05:15
valkyrstudios	I've decided the Puppet is bisexual	05:16
Brittany Johnson	Not surprised. ;3	05:17
valkyrstudios	Why are you not surprised? XP	05:17
Brittany Johnson	Because of your raging crush on Anakin and your possible little crush on Josh.	05:19
valkyrstudios	In the case of Anakin, that was just me fanboying.	05:20
	In the case of Josh... yeah, you're right >.>
Brittany Johnson	x3	05:20
valkyrstudios	Although, despite that this is still one of my rules about fanart	05:21

Brittany Johnson	xD	05:23

Brittany Johnson	xD	05:23
valkyrstudios	Doesn't stop people, though	05:24
	I have bigger ones on you and Cassie, though XP	05:25

	Okay, I'm off to bed. Night	06:06
Brittany Johnson	Nighty night	06:07
valkyrstudios	So there's this cute drawing of the Puppet in summer wear, and it's super adorable http://i.imgur.com/vIuLyaJ.png And me, being the bored sod that I am, found out that if you tilt it ever so slightly, she looks like she's presenting http://i.imgur.com/6IoJwrw.png	22:41

Brittany Johnson	snickers	08:14
valkyrstudios	XD I wonder who she's bending over for	14:09
		22:17
Brittany Johnson	Heyo	22:24
valkyrstudios	^w^ How are you?	22:25
Brittany Johnson	Tired. Had crazy dreams today.	22:25
valkyrstudios	What about?	22:25
Brittany Johnson	I was walking around my old elementary school in one, can't remember much. The next one I was in my room watching some movie and it kept bleeding into reality. I had this tiny cup of sliced peaches and I picked it up and there were a couple of ants on it, so I started trying to flick them off and a couple of bugs fell off and left these black, stringy things in the air marking where they fell. There was this weird spider thing in a web near the floor that was white, black, and red. I took a picture of it with my phone, and of the black strings. Something put pressure on the bed next to me and I couldn't see anything, and something started holding me down and it felt like the spider was coming for me. I started screaming, but it was just in my head, I couldn't actually form the words. At one point I screamed "bones of the flesh!"	22:29
valkyrstudios	O.o	22:30
	You're right, that IS weird	22:31
Brittany Johnson	It was freaky..	22:31
valkyrstudios	I thought my nightmares were bizzare	22:31
Brittany Johnson	That's the most bizarre one I've had yet.	22:31
valkyrstudios	Hugs You gonna be alright?	22:32
Brittany Johnson	Yeah.	22:33

valkyrstudios	You know what? I think it's time we finally did that video on the Education System	00:08
Brittany Johnson	Seriously? O_O	00:08
valkyrstudios	Wow, that was fast	00:08
Brittany Johnson	I went to get food..and why are all those messages removed?	00:09
valkyrstudios	Because.	00:09
	Anyway, yeah, I think we should. I've been seeing more and more Tumblr posts and videos on the School System and I've been thinking "...These dipshits are spewing a fucking load."	00:09
Brittany Johnson	Yeah and with the system in my state dropping even lower than it was before...	00:10
valkyrstudios	Yeah, it's a multi-topic idea. One I think it's about time was done properly	00:11
Brittany Johnson	I'm down. What did you have in mind?	00:11
valkyrstudios	Well, I'm thinking this is going to be a long one with a long scripting and production time. I might take the angle I did with my "Best Villains" video and ask my viewers to submit a single grievance with the education system. It's a two-part video. The first is debunking the majority of "complaints" about the education system ("All they do is teach you how to memorize!" "There's too many tests!" "There's too much of a focus on demoralizing grades!") and the second is highlighting and analyzing the genuine failings (The lack of attention toward Student Morale, the bad priorities of the cirriculum in most districts, and Parents having far too much input).	00:15
Brittany Johnson	Actually...at least in my schools, the teaching how to memorize is pretty accurate. They literally just focus on teaching us how to remember the shit long enough to put it on a test.	00:16
	They rarely take the time to make sure we actually understand it.	00:16
valkyrstudios	The failing of that complaint is that the ability to commit a peice of information to memory is the single most important skill a person could possibly have	00:16
Brittany Johnson	True	00:17
valkyrstudios	You'll work to understand it if you care about it. If you don't care about the subject, you're still gaining valuable skills because of it.	00:17
	I got it, we'll do it as a Top Ten. The Top Ten Failings of the Education System	00:18
Brittany Johnson	Sounds like a plan. ^-^	00:19
valkyrstudios	You ever used Google Docs before?	00:20
Brittany Johnson	Nnnope.	00:20

Brittany Johnson	Nnnope.	00:20
valkyrstudios	It's effectively a way for two people to write on the same document	00:20
Brittany Johnson	Okay	00:21
	I can do that.	00:21
valkyrstudios	https://docs.google.com/document/d/1vy8lE1TrfYVgkerzxdFNKfQT-KRLDurq7D1gPFPNkms/edit	00:22
	How good is your microphone?	00:22
Brittany Johnson	You tell me. x_X Honestly I'd rather wait to record anything until my new laptop gets here. This one will lag.	00:23
valkyrstudios	Oh I know that.	00:23
	This will take a while to script	00:23
Brittany Johnson	Got ya.	00:23
	I didn't get a headset, so the mic will be the one that's built in.	00:24
valkyrstudios	When it comes time to record, get a mic	00:24
Brittany Johnson	I was planning to get one anyway so no prob. :3	00:25
valkyrstudios	Also, I did this http://jerry-peet-nsfw.tumblr.com/	00:25
Brittany Johnson	Ohhhhh my	00:26
valkyrstudios	It's a place for NSFW questions, questions about the Stockholm series, and NSFW fanart if any ever appears	00:26
Brittany Johnson	I like it. ^-^	00:27
valkyrstudios	So I have the script set up and ready to be formatted.	00:27
Brittany Johnson	Alright. I apologize in advance for any noobishness. I've never scripted anything.	00:28
valkyrstudios	My scripts are just really long essays. I can easily fix the formatting XP	00:28
	Are you coming in to the doc?	00:29
Brittany Johnson	I'm in	00:30
	Well..almost. It's trying to connect.	00:30
valkyrstudios	First thing's first is we're filling the list with entries. Then we'll flesh them out afterward.	00:30
Brittany Johnson	Are we staying general, or can we use some complaints specific to certain regions? Like the Southern U.S's tendency to try to shove creationism into science.	00:31
valkyrstudios	That can be part of the more general "cirriculum priorities"	00:31
Brittany Johnson	Incompetent Teachers.	00:33
	By that I mean teachers who regularly have well over half their classes failing (even the students who do well in all their other subjects) yet still manage to keep their jobs.	00:33
valkyrstudios	The problem with that assumption is that there can be a million different things leading to poor grades. I don't think it's fair to put a teacher's job on the line if students are failing, because that's a serious lack of job security.	00:35
	And there are a lot of teachers who simply don't have the time or resources to handle that issue

Brittany Johnson	That's true, and that's what frustrates me. We had several students trying to explain that their low grades were the fault of their teachers (my 6th grade science teacher and 10th grade English teacher being some examples) yet nobody would listen.	00:36
valkyrstudios	Here's a question I have for you: How many students would, if they could get away with it, blame their bad grades on their teacher? I know I would have	00:39
Brittany Johnson	I know..	00:40
valkyrstudios	The problem with judging the skill of a teacher is that it's very difficult to prove	00:41
Brittany Johnson	I'm assuming bullying would fall under student morale.	00:41
valkyrstudios	The only worthwhile example would be the exceedingly abusive teachers like this guy https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TwfYa-krjHc	00:42
	And they get fired very quickly
	Actually no. Bullying would fall under a different issue of the Catch 22 situation teachers are forced into	00:42
Brittany Johnson	Not being able to deal with the little shits because parents would complain?	00:43
valkyrstudios	Eeyup.	00:45
	In essence, the bullying issue deserves it's own spot	00:46
Brittany Johnson	Then there's also that situation that stunned my class. The day the vice principals went around and told us that if someone attacked us and we fought back, we were just as responsible because we "chose to engage them in a fight".	00:46
valkyrstudios	You told me that a long time ago	00:46
Brittany Johnson	Yes well it's still as baffling to me now as it was then.	00:46
valkyrstudios	Apparently "Self Defense" is lost on this vice principal. I had an idiot for a VP in High School as well	00:47
Brittany Johnson	We had two. And it wasn't them who were idiots, but the person above them.	00:47
valkyrstudios	I had Uncle Phil for a Principal	00:48
Brittany Johnson	XD I can just imagine.	00:48
valkyrstudios	Not angry, but black, deep voiced, and no-nonsense. So when he spoke, even calmly, you would shut up and listen	00:48
Brittany Johnson	Sounds pretty awesome. Did he use his powers responsibly?	00:49
valkyrstudios	Eeyup	00:50
	If I ever had an issue, I would look for him.	00:50
Brittany Johnson	The kind of person a principal should be.	00:50
	The one I had in high school would just blow us off.	00:51
	The VP I was assigned to was always a snob to me so I always went to the other one.	00:51
valkyrstudios	Funnily enough, I was assigned to one Vice Principal, but the stupid one seemed to commandeer my case because reasons.	00:52
Brittany Johnson	One VP was nice to the "good" kids and the "popular" crowd, and the other was nice to the outcasts and basically anyone who didn't fall into the "Christian All-American" crowd.	00:53
valkyrstudios	That's Texas for ya	00:53
Brittany Johnson	Of course I got the one who was nice to the good kids, so every time I'd have to deal with her she was a snide bitch.	00:54
	I was a "good kid", but I was openly gay and not Christian.	00:54
valkyrstudios	Openly Gay Christian sounds as inherenly suicidal as "Anti Feminist Woman"	00:55
Brittany Johnson	I know a few guys who are openly gay Christians...xD I don't get it, but eh.	00:56

valkyrstudios	I know a few women who are Anti-Feminists. Poe's Law: Reality is often so ridiculous it's hard to differentiate from Satire	00:57
Brittany Johnson	I have a chick on my fb who's anti-feminist.	00:57
	Unfortunately, the more I see tumblr-feminist nonsense, the more I can understand why female anti-feminists exist. -_-	00:58
valkyrstudios	There's a word for that, it's called "Generalization" Also, they're using the word "Anti-Feminst" laughably incorrectly	00:59
	Tumblr Feminists get more attention than they would otherwise get because of MRA's and Gamergaters cherry-picking them after deliberately looking for them. They make up about 0.0004% of pundits in regards to Feminism.	01:00
Brittany Johnson	Thank gods. -_-	01:00
valkyrstudios	Anybody who tries to "debunk" feminism with screenshots of somebody's Tumblr blog is an idiot	01:02
Brittany Johnson	My middle school principal was a pastor, and didn't let anybody celebrate Halloween that year. He tried to say it was because we were "too old" to dress up, but we knew the high school kids were doing it.	01:05
valkyrstudios	I don't know where that would fit, unless you want an entire segment reaffirming what the audience likely already knows: Conservatives suck balls (and deny it with homphobia)	01:06
Brittany Johnson	Maybe something about trying to force politics or religious beliefs into school systems?	01:07
	COUGHpledgeofallegiance	01:07
	Braaaainwashin'.	01:08
valkyrstudios	We're forced to stand for the National Anthem in Canada, I fail to see the issue	01:08
Brittany Johnson	National Anthem and PoA are different here.	01:08
valkyrstudios	I know. What's the point?	01:08
Brittany Johnson	Students are called out, punished, humiliated, ect. if they don't say it. Even if they stand, if they don't actively recite it they get called out for it.	01:09
	Some of them don't because it has "one nation under God" and it goes against their personal beliefs.	01:09
	And fucking history in general but that's another can of worms.	01:09
valkyrstudios	Okay. I'm gonna be really honest, but really harsh here.	01:11

> Some of them don't because it has "one nation under God" and it goes against their personal beliefs.
> — Brittany Johnson, 19.07.2015 01:11

Aw. Muffin.

When I was in Cub Scouts, I had to recite the words "I Promise To Love and Serve God" at one point. I didn't believe in God. I did it anyway and nothing horrible happened.

It's called paying Lip Service.

Maybe this is just me, but I consider that a Non-Issue. You aren't being brainwashed because you're forced to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. That's just paranoia.

Brittany Johnson	Eh, good point.	01:12
	Maybe I'm just getting sore about it since the PoA is used as an argument for people who think this is a "Christian nation".	01:13
valkyrstudios	Yeah, "In God We Trust" is on money. Let crazy people be crazy people. The Seperation of Church and State says otherwise.	01:15
Brittany Johnson	Sooo...any other ideas?	01:19
valkyrstudios	I'm trying to think of a genuine issue that can actually have a practical solution and I'm coming up blank, honestly.	01:20
	Wanna put it down for tonight?	01:20
Brittany Johnson	Yeah..I'm kinda drained tonight.	01:21
valkyrstudios		01:23
Brittany Johnson	snuggles	01:26
valkyrstudios	cuddles tightly	01:36
	I spent an hour and a half shaving last night DX	01:47
Brittany Johnson	Fun ain't it? x3	01:51
	I usually don't shave everything at once unless there's a chance someone is gonna see me naked that night.	01:51
valkyrstudios	I hate body hair. I hate it being on me, I hate how it feels, how dirty and grungy it looks... just UGH!	01:52
Brittany Johnson	Same. I hate how it makes my legs itch.	01:52
	But I'm lazy, it takes forever, and razors are expensive.	01:52
	Plus I have to wait until it gets to be a certain length. If I shave right as it starts coming back, I get razor bumps from hell.	01:52
valkyrstudios	Same here. I found moisterizer helps	01:54
	Well... I feel better now	02:10
Brittany Johnson	?	02:11
valkyrstudios	I just shaved my legs and groin. Just like last night, it's eased off a lot of the discomfort and lethargy I've been having the last few weeks	02:11
Brittany Johnson	It's amazing how much better you feel after a good shave.	02:12
	And now I feel better because I just remembered I have gardettos from last night. ^-^	02:12
valkyrstudios	Mmhmm.	02:13
	I can't find the Puppet's typical clothes anywhere (probably because it's summer and that stuff is winter garb). So I'm probably going to try and get ahold of her summer wear. Seems like it'd be fun, especially with how sweltering it gets in my apartment
Brittany Johnson	Well now I'm just pissed.	02:18
valkyrstudios	...I'm sorry?	02:18
Brittany Johnson	Not you.	02:18
valkyrstudios	When you do that, it's really confusing XP	02:18
Brittany Johnson	Apparently it's become okay yet again to just eat my shit without asking me or even letting me know you ate it.	02:18
valkyrstudios	Your parents?	02:18
Brittany Johnson	I had an ENTIRE BAG of gardettos that I bought last night, left them on the table with the intent to finish them today, and my mom ate them.	02:19
valkyrstudios	I always said this to my parents throughout my adolescence: If it's in the kitchen or dining area, it's up for grabs.	02:19
	Hence why I kept my snack foods in my bedroom

Brittany Johnson	I don't have my own bedroom right now. I use my siblings' room and there's literally no room in here to keep food and they know that. Plus any type of food left in here attracts ants.	02:20
valkyrstudios	Pats back I sowwy	02:20
Brittany Johnson	When I first moved back in, I kept my shit separate since I pay for my own groceries and people were surprisingly good about asking me. Now they just don't.	02:21
valkyrstudios	Cuddles I don't know what to tell you, sweetheart	02:23
	Ugh, I have to pay off a $150 Ambulance bill DX	02:30
Brittany Johnson	Ambulance bill..?	02:31
valkyrstudios	Yeah. A week ago I was having chest pains and called an ambulance	02:31
Brittany Johnson	Was it anything bad..?	02:31
valkyrstudios	Inflammation of chest tissue. Benign, but tends to make people who don't know better think they're having a heart attack	02:32
Brittany Johnson	What would cause the inflammation?	02:33
valkyrstudios	Stress	02:33
	I'm sorry, this was two weeks ago, not last week	02:34
Brittany Johnson	Ahh..	02:35
valkyrstudios	Yup	02:35
	Came as a surprise to me, honestly	02:35
	cuddles	02:42
Brittany Johnson	snuggles while nomming pringles	02:46
valkyrstudios	D'aaw ^w^	02:46
Brittany Johnson	They ate a bunch of my pringles too. -_- So I'm nomming some of theirs.	02:49
valkyrstudios	So nyah!	02:49
	Did you see my new video?	02:52
Brittany Johnson	Not yet. Link?	02:53
valkyrstudios	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z6OSPKWAqAo	02:53
Brittany Johnson	Welp now I really need to watch this season.	02:54
valkyrstudios	Yes you do	02:55
Brittany Johnson	XD You and I had the same reaction to Fluttershy's pet comment.	02:56
valkyrstudios	XD	02:58
Brittany Johnson	PRINCESS BIG MAC! XSD	02:58
	XD	02:58
	Almost reminds me of a way they could use "self-harm" in the context of a kids show.	03:00
valkyrstudios	Except this incarnation is 4 times as stupid and 60 times as reckless	03:00
Brittany Johnson	Exactly.	03:00
	In the words of Sassy Gay Friend, "WHAT WHAT WHAT WERE YOU DOING?!"	03:01

valkyrstudios	XD	03:01
	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=csuje1CWr8I	03:02
Brittany Johnson	Is youtube cutting out for you tonight?	03:04
valkyrstudios	Nope	03:04
	If I pause and resume a video it has to reload, but that's a minor issue	03:05
Brittany Johnson	It ust keeps stopping for me and I have to refresh the page.	03:05
valkyrstudios	I think it's a tad buggy	03:05
Brittany Johnson	Spike really has gotten the short end of the stick.	03:08
	Every episode featuring him in some significant way just has him fucking everything up in some form.	03:08
valkyrstudios	Not Inspiration Manifestation	03:09
Brittany Johnson	?	03:09
valkyrstudios	Or Lesson Zero. Or Equestria Girls. Or any episode where he's paired as the straight man to one of the Main Six	03:09
	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d6fxFjx29g0	03:10
	You'll love this	03:11
Brittany Johnson	I think you showed me this one. xD "AMURICA! Fuck yeah~!"	03:12
valkyrstudios	I haven't shown you any of my S5 videos before today	03:12
Brittany Johnson	Nooo you def showed me this one. The booty call comment made me giggle. x3	03:13
valkyrstudios	Oh ^w^	03:13
	I'm gonna run out for breakfast at McDonalds. You gonna be up much longer?	03:15
Brittany Johnson	Probably.	03:15
	"I'm not allowed to bake with friendship. Court order." XDDD	03:16
valkyrstudios	Okay, be back in about a half hour	03:16
	I can communicate with animals	03:53
Brittany Johnson	How'd you find that out?	03:54
valkyrstudios	There were three racoons crossing in front of the walkway to my building, and the stopped and arched their backs at me when I approached. I kinda waved my fingers in a "Go on" gesture and they relaxed and darted off around the corner of the building	03:54
Brittany Johnson	Animals sense shit.	03:55
	If you don't get nervous or scared or threatening, they don't see you as a threat.	03:56
	Or you used the force, one of the two.	03:56
valkyrstudios	Well I did stop because I didn't want to get mauled by a nervous racoon. In fact I stayed there for a bit to make sure they were gone ^_^;	03:56

Brittany Johnson	I have a story from last night. xP	03:57
valkyrstudios	You change topics with all the grace of a case of whiplash XD	03:57
	What is it?
Brittany Johnson	XD One of my talents.	03:57
	Anywho, so I left work early last night since I had personal time to spare and there's been fuck all to do ever since we cleaned the place out for Prime Day.	03:58
	This girl I've been hanging around showed up at lunch and took me to see her Creepy friends (she works at a haunted house).	03:58
	We eventually ended up at another girl's house and shared a couple of blunts. The younger sister of this girl was freaking omg gorgeous. Really adorable, perfect body, flirty, had this subtle way she'd look at you, ect. Like, damn. Well, we piled into this dude's car and took a trip to 7-11, and while we were standing in line I casually asked how old she was.	04:00
	She gave me that look and that slight shoulder twist and said, "I'm 15. ;3"	04:01
	In my head, there was an immediate cacophany of record scratches, screeching brakes, and large vehicles going in reverse.	04:01

	Also this face	04:02
Brittany Johnson	EXACTLY! XD This girl is the fucking poster child for jailbait. XD	04:02
	The girl that took me out said she had a similar experience with her, only it was at a pool party with alcohol involved and said jailbait was feeling all up on her chest before she realized how young she was. xD	04:03
valkyrstudios	This girl is evil	04:03
Brittany Johnson	I know! And she hangs out with the creepies since she works at the house too, so she seems really mature for a 15 year old.	04:03
valkyrstudios	What is it about minors that so many people find tempting?	04:04
Brittany Johnson	I normally don't find minors tempting at all. But if they're mature for their age, my eyes wander. -_-	04:04
	But I ain't touching them with a ten foot pole.	04:04
valkyrstudios	I know you wouldn't actually, but have you ever had that fantasy?	04:05
Brittany Johnson	Of?	04:05
	To me, a mature minor is just a person.	04:05
valkyrstudios	Never mind	04:05
Brittany Johnson	I haven't had any fantasies actually involving innocence and whatnot.	04:06
valkyrstudios	Alrighty then	04:06
Brittany Johnson	But now you've got me curious.	04:06
valkyrstudios	What?	04:06
Brittany Johnson	What were you getting at? x3	04:06
valkyrstudios	I meant have you ever had a fantasy about being with someone who was underage? That seems to be common these days.	04:06

Brittany Johnson	What were you getting at? x3	04:06
valkyrstudios	I meant have you ever had a fantasy about being with someone who was underage? That seems to be common these days.	04:06
Brittany Johnson	Psh dude I was a booty call for someone who was underage in high school.	04:07
	There was only a 3 year difference between us, though.	04:07
valkyrstudios	Oh my	04:08
Brittany Johnson	We got together when I was 18 and she was 15-16, and again when I was 19.	04:08
valkyrstudios	Well, hi there Stockholm!Maud XP	04:09
Brittany Johnson	XD	04:09
	I was underage when I dated Sean. He was 18, I was 16.	04:09
	I chased a 23 year old on Guild Wars when I was 16, but nothing ever came of it.	04:10
valkyrstudios	Looks like Texas just breeds Jailbait, doesn't it?	04:10
Brittany Johnson	I've been fucking with age gaps for a while.	04:10
	Which is why in some instances I find the current age laws annoying, but I completely understand why they need to be in place.	04:11
	The mature ones are rare.	04:11
valkyrstudios	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=53gUu-jN0Vo	04:11
Brittany Johnson	....I just realized how bad that first sentence sounds.	04:11
	Correction, I've been CHALLENGING age gaps for a while. xP	04:12
valkyrstudios	xP	04:12
	You've been fucking with the very bounds of reality, Miss Shemale Owl Wolf	04:12
Brittany Johnson	>//>; Reality is boring, so I create my own.	04:13
valkyrstudios	I like your reality ;3	04:14
Brittany Johnson	Mmmmhm. ;3	04:14
valkyrstudios	nuzzles	04:15

Brittany Johnson	Once I get my new compie, I may get back into SecondLife.	04:17
valkyrstudios	Ah	04:17
Brittany Johnson	I've had ideas kicking around in my head..	04:17
	There's a LOOOOT of horny furries on SL.	04:17
	Ones that would pay for a good time.	04:18
valkyrstudios	Moon Guard has them too	04:18
Brittany Johnson	Lindens have a higher value than IMVU creds.	04:18
	Yes, but it's not legal to cyber on WoW, nor is it legal to exchange gold for RL money.	04:18
	On SL, not only is it legal but encouraged.	04:18
	*exchanging money	04:19
valkyrstudios	Actually it is, you just have to keep it to private whispers.	04:19
	Also the WoW Token
Brittany Johnson	? What's the value of it in regards to US dollars?	04:19
	Another reason I'm looking into SL is because a lot of furry porn vids are made there, which would easily get me a decent customer base.	04:20
valkyrstudios	$20 to buy an in-game token that you can sell on the Auction House for around 20-25k Gold.	04:20
	You can't reverse the transaction to turn gold into money	04:21
Brittany Johnson	That's what I'm wanting to do, though.	04:21
valkyrstudios	Then forget Moon Guard XD	04:21
Brittany Johnson	Plus I'm not keen on the idea of any WoW rep I may get being "Goldshire furry whore". XD	04:22
valkyrstudios	That's why there's "Seperate Characters"	04:22
Brittany Johnson	Eeyep.	04:22
valkyrstudios	I'll be honest, I like the Moon Guard Inn. At least there's people there. The rest of the world is phased out and empty.	04:22
	Sure those people are dancing naked on tables and pretending to be wolves in real life, but at least that's kinda funny	04:23
Brittany Johnson	xD I actually really want to visit Moon Guard at some point.	04:24
valkyrstudios	Of course you do XD	04:24
Brittany Johnson	You know I do. XD	04:24
valkyrstudios	I know you do xP	04:25
Brittany Johnson	As for the SL thing, I already know of a couple of names I could look into to get some videos out after a while. I'll just have to get used to cybering gay dudes and hopefully get some lesbians or at least female avvies coming my way. xP	04:26
valkyrstudios	This all really flies over my head	04:26
Brittany Johnson	Basically, I'm working on a business model to become a successful virtual whore. My av in world would be the form I fuck you with.	04:27
	Hermaphrodite wolf owl.	04:27
valkyrstudios	Yeah, I get that. It's just I know nothing about Second Life	04:27
Brittany Johnson	It's literally just a 3D virtual world that's completely created by the players.	04:28
	Lindens and RL currency are exchanged regularly, and some people even manage to make some spending money creating shit or offering services.	04:28
valkyrstudios	Okay	04:29
Brittany Johnson	http://yiffy.cz/tube/aAzF6/ Example of the vids I'm talking about..	04:30
valkyrstudios	I'm not clicking that	04:31

valkyrstudios	I'm not clicking that	04:31
Brittany Johnson	Didn't figure you would.	04:31
valkyrstudios	http://jerry-peet.tumblr.com/post/124474794765/if-all-the-valkyr-had-disney-songs-as-their	04:41
Brittany Johnson	Nice	04:45
valkyrstudios	Even though I said it was suited to Phyaun, I kinda wanna do a Siege-themed version of My Lullaby for Asy	04:49
Brittany Johnson	I didn't realize I was the inspiration for the glass of water title..xD	04:54
valkyrstudios	xP	04:54
Brittany Johnson	And I'm still convinced you're a big glass of Jerry. x3	04:55
valkyrstudios	Wouldn't that be "Glass of Lily" now?	04:55
Brittany Johnson	Yes it would! ^-^	04:56
	I know someone who was diagnosed with Aspergers, but judging from what she's told me about her helicopter family, I really doubt she has it. They have literally sat around and talked about how she'll never be able to function on her own and shit, even though she has the capability to if she can get away from them.	05:02
valkyrstudios	Same here	05:03
Brittany Johnson	I did know a guy in high school that actually had it. He was super quiet, had really terrible memory, didn't understand basic social cues, you could just tell something was off about him. He's super nice, but has an actual issue with functioning in social interactions.	05:05
valkyrstudios	Poor kid	05:05
Brittany Johnson	Yeah..I felt bad for him. I ended up being partners with him for a scene in theatre once, but unfortunately he didn't have the capability to remember the scene.	05:06
	Oh yes, stick your fingers all in those pages.	05:07
valkyrstudios	???	05:07
Brittany Johnson	Those suggestive pictures of the books you commented on. xP	05:08
valkyrstudios	Oh yeah XD	05:08
Brittany Johnson	And lol at the person making fun of sapiosexuals. -_-	05:08
valkyrstudios	Just going through my entire blog, eh? XD	05:09
Brittany Johnson	Do I consider it a legit sexuality? Nah, but being attracted to intelligence should be a good thing.	05:09
valkyrstudios		05:15
	http://jerry-peet.tumblr.com/post/124037168760/theres-a-bigass-tree-in-my-garrison-is-the	05:18
Brittany Johnson	I just saw that. XD	05:19
valkyrstudios	^w^	05:22
Brittany Johnson	I threw you an ask.	05:22
valkyrstudios	I answered it	05:24
Brittany Johnson	I asked an old roommate of mine about her hair once, since I didn't have any black friends growing up and I'm genuinely curious about how their hair is different than mine.	05:27
valkyrstudios	You mean "Why do Black people have 'sheep's wool' hair?"	05:28
Brittany Johnson	It just baffles me since people want to be understood, yet get angry if anyone asks them questions to try and understand (given the questions aren't actually offensive).	05:28
	No, I literally asked how her hair was different.	05:28

valkyrstudios	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=umDs2qaB-Kc	05:29
Brittany Johnson	I don't really understand why people think the physical differences between humans is "racist". Different races have different physical makeups. How is that a bad thing?	05:30
valkyrstudios	The way you ask it. I equate that sort of thing to opening a door and whacking somebody with it on the other side.	05:31
	If you didn't mean it to be racist, then apologize. That's how accidents work.
Brittany Johnson	I did, profusely.	05:31
valkyrstudios	There you go	05:31
Brittany Johnson	And yes, the entirety of that video is racist.	05:31
	I don't ask about cultural stereotypes. What makes me curious is the PHYSICAL differences.	05:32
	Hell I have a woman at work that cracked a joke about how she hated me and another chick since we can put our hair up in a hat and just let it down at the end of the night.	05:33
valkyrstudios	Let me put it bluntly.	05:36
	You have an abrasive and often rude and inconsiderate personality and you don't realize that you rub people the wrong way. And you either don't or cannot recognize that certain topics are very uncomfortable for some people and that it doesn't matter what your intentions are.
	Also, talking about the physical differences of a race sets off a massive red-flag in most people's minds because 99 times out of 100 it's an attempt to thinly veil something that's actually racist.
	Have you ever seen somebody use "Sexual Dimorphism" to attempt to explain why jobs like Construction, Police, Military and Industrial work are too difficult for women? Despite women being in those fields and exceling?
	Same basic principle.
Brittany Johnson	....	05:38
	I didn't realize I was rude or abrasive.	05:39
valkyrstudios	You can be	05:39
Brittany Johnson	Well that's depressing as fuck. That's something I never ever wanted to be.	05:41
valkyrstudios	I don't think you even realize that you do it. It's a bunch of little things, and really only one big issue in the last few months that I can really recall.	05:41
Brittany Johnson	How did I go from being a shy doormat to rude and abrasive..? Maybe that's why I've been feeling so off and anxious lately..	05:45
valkyrstudios	You were never a shy doormat.	05:45
	At least not as long as I've known you	05:45
Brittany Johnson	You never met me in person, either.	05:45
valkyrstudios	That's true. But the internet has no consequences, so you see what people are REALLY like	05:46
Brittany Johnson	True.	05:46
valkyrstudios	I see the rude when you're interacting with others, but I only see the inconsiderate with me	05:48
Brittany Johnson	Examples?	05:49
valkyrstudios	The little ones primarily are when you suddenly change the topic when I'm trying to talk to you, and when you vanish and go completely silent in the middle of a conversation for 30-60 minutes	05:50

Brittany Johnson	I end up going silent when I'm socially tired, which lately has been happening rather often, or if the conversation has hit a snag and I have no idea how to proceed other than change topics.	05:51
valkyrstudios	Here's the thing, you need to say that. Even a simple "Be back in a bit" would suffice.	05:52
Brittany Johnson	Okay	05:52
valkyrstudios	And in the case of changing topics, the way you do it makes it seem like what I've just said to you has gone in one ear and out the other. As if I've just been completely ignored and disregarded.	05:54
	Those are minor issues, and both of them have only been a serious problem once. But minor issues build up and wear on a person	05:55
Brittany Johnson	I don't ignore anything you say.	05:55
valkyrstudios	That's what it looks like	05:55
Brittany Johnson	The changing topics rapidly is just how I am..even in person. My mind runs through topics rather quickly, so if something pops up, I feel I have to say it before I forget.	05:56
valkyrstudios	That's what inconsiderate means. You do things in a very impolite way when there's polite way to do it	05:56
Brittany Johnson	It can also be a defense mechanism, like if the conversation snags or if I get afraid I said the wrong things.	05:56
valkyrstudios	> That's what inconsiderate means. You do things in a very impolite way when there's polite way to do it > — Jerry Peet, 19.07.2015 05:58	05:56
Brittany Johnson	Okay then what would be the polite way to do that?	05:57
valkyrstudios	A very simple aknowledgement before you change the subject	05:58
	You know how sometimes I respond to something simply with "Ah" or "Alright then"? That's because I have nothing to build on, and it would be rude to simply shove on through	05:59
Brittany Johnson	I see.	05:59
	And when I'm interacting with others?	06:01
valkyrstudios	You're very pushy, and you can't recognize that this puts people off and doesn't help when you're trying to help somebody. There's a case to be made for being blunt, but you aren't blunt, you're aggressive. Prime example: Haily. Aggressively hounding her at every possible opprotunity about how she was a closet gay and in an abusive relationship did nothing but alienate her and send and already repressed woman further into repression. Meanwhile, I took a more light hearted approach and spoke to her in a very gentle way. Giving her what I beleived to be true (She's gay and in an abusive marriage). And because I wasn't assaulting her with "proof" she felt she could confide in me. I didn't sugarcoat anything, but I didn't add insult to injury either.	06:05
Brittany Johnson	I got that way with her for the same reasons you eventually get blunt and aggressive with people. I had known her for about 3 years prior to getting to that point and had been nothing but gentle with her that entire time.	06:07
valkyrstudios	Haily was a case where that simply wasn't going to work.	06:07
Brittany Johnson	Eventually I got the impression that she was feeding off the attention and gave up, then an innocent baby became involved and yes I flew off the handle at her.	06:08

valkyrstudios	Here's the thing: You don't give somebody in an abusive relationship reason to isolate themselves further.	06:09
	I remember Haily told me that her manchild husband wanted her to stop talking to me, and Haily said flat out "No!" because I was somebody she could confide in.
	You don't have that restraint. When you get passionate about something, you charge. Like the Juggarnaut.
	The reasons why are irrelevant. It just doesn't work most of the time.	06:10
Brittany Johnson	When someone continues to come to me about the same issue, yet hasn't put any effort into fixing said issue, eventually I give up trying.	06:11
	I see your point, I do.	06:11
valkyrstudios	> eventually I give up trying > — Brittany Johnson, 19.07.2015 06:13	06:11
	That only works if you actually do it.
	You're like that guy on a forum who says "I'm done" and is then posing again five minutes later.	06:12
Brittany Johnson	And no, I shouldn't have blown up on her like I did. But when an innocent child is at risk for being massively fucked because of your dumbass decisions, that hits a nerve.	06:12
valkyrstudios	That's neither here nor there. As I said, the "Why" doesn't matter.	06:12
Brittany Johnson	You know I'm not black and white like that. The "why" is everything to me.	06:13
valkyrstudios	Maybe to you. But justifications for why you do something doesn't matter when what you're doing isn't working.	06:15
	"Insanity: doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results." - Albert Einstein
Brittany Johnson	Hang on	06:16
	Painful air pocket just popped in my ribs.	06:17
valkyrstudios	O.o	06:17
	Are you gonna be okay?!	06:18
Brittany Johnson	Y'know when you get those sharp, stabbing pains under your ribcage? Well this one wouldn't loosen. xP Yeah I'm fine now.	06:18
	And yes, I know what you mean.	06:18
valkyrstudios	Now I'm wondering if I should tell you about the big one or not...	06:18
Brittany Johnson	...	06:20
	Is it something I need to hear after what I've already heard?	06:20
valkyrstudios	It's sort of a bigger, more serious version of the previous two	06:21
	Mind you, I didn't lay all that out to make you feel bad. I laid all that out to get you to think more carefully about how your behavior affects others	06:21
Brittany Johnson	I know...I've just always been paranoid with how others see me and I know I've become sharper.	06:22
valkyrstudios	So do you want to hear it?	06:22
Brittany Johnson	Might as well.	06:22

valkyrstudios	This was shortly before I had that big meltdown that ended with me deleting my facebook page and all my skype contacts sans Nintendogal. I'd been going through a few weeks of a low mood and increasing discontent. There were about a dozen instances where I tried to talk to you about it. And every single time you either went offline instantly, didn't respond, or changed the subject to those damn cats. Now in a mundane conversation that's annoying, but bearable to an extent. When I was actively seeking the comfort and help of my best friend, this was downright infuriating. Especially when it happened every time I tried to bring it up. I started getting the feeling that you just didn't care and would rather talk about yourself (or more accurately, those fucking cats). I really grew to loathe those cats because of this, now that I think about it. There was one instance where you changed the subject to them, and I just got up from my desk and went to my bedroom to sob. Anyway, after all that happened and we made up a few months later, I just decided it wasn't worth it to talk to you about my stress until after the fact. And I started talking to Cassie alone about the things that were bothering me.	06:27
Brittany Johnson	...I didn't know.	06:28
	And to be honest, I've gotten to the point that I feel like I walk on eggshells with you when you get like that. You've taken it out on me and said some pretty harsh things in those states so I get nervous and have no idea what to say...	06:29
valkyrstudios	Honestly, Brittany, I don't care what the reason is	06:29
	You can give all the explainations you want, but the fact of the matter is that I came to the conclusion that I just can't talk to you about anything serious or heavy. Even when I was ready to admit I was trans, I talked about it with Cassie and then told you three weeks later.	06:30
Brittany Johnson	...	06:30
	I'm gonna sign off for a bit.	06:31
	And I'm sorry.	06:31
valkyrstudios	Cya	06:31

valkyrstudios		00:45
Brittany Johnson	Heyo	00:46
valkyrstudios	How're you doing?	00:47
Brittany Johnson	Alright. Got a bit of rebalancing in this weekend. Got to hang with my ladies.	00:48
	Just wish these stress dreams would stop.	00:48
valkyrstudios	What was it this time?	00:48
Brittany Johnson	I can't even remember all of it. I think I was in some sort of maze, and there was shit in it that was after me.	00:49
valkyrstudios	I think that's just an average, ordinary, everyday nightmare	00:49
Brittany Johnson	Yeah but whenever I have a string of dreams like that, it's due to anxiety or stress.	00:50
valkyrstudios		00:51
	Poor Britt	00:51
	You wanna talk about it?	00:52
Brittany Johnson	The only thing I can figure is the anxiety caused by talking to a potential romantic partner again.	00:55
	That's the only thing that's changed significantly since they started happening.	00:55
valkyrstudios	You know, most girls start fantasizing and writing silly things when they have a crush. Not have night terrors XP	00:55
Brittany Johnson	I used to be that way. xP I think that's another part of what's freaking me out. I'm not having the reaction I usually have.	00:57
valkyrstudios	Probably because most of your relationships have ended badly because you always stick it in the crazy XP	00:57
	You're having the natural response to repetition
	Congratulations, you're completely sane ^w^	00:57
Brittany Johnson	I know it's because of past experience, especially the recent ones, but what do you mean by natural response to repetition?	00:59
valkyrstudios	When a mouse presses a button that shocks him, he learns not to press that button.	00:59
Brittany Johnson	Yeah...and it makes me sad. I was always terrified of becoming jaded toward that kind of thing.	01:00
valkyrstudios	Poor sweetie	01:00
	Like I said. The solution is to find someone you KNOW isn't nuts in the head. You do this by befriending somebody. Yes you risk being put in the metaphorical friendzone (I have no other word for it) but such is life.	01:01
Brittany Johnson	That's pretty much what Lacey and I are doing.	01:02
	I'm still extremely wary, since I don't fully know what her intentions are, and I think she knows that. She's very subtle.	01:03
	She does stuff like drive way out of her way to see me on days she doesn't have to, she's introduced me to her friends, her dogs, texts me every chance she gets, ect. But it's slow. It's both making me a bit more comfortable and making me nervous at the same time, if that makes sense.	01:04

valkyrstudios	Well I wouldn't be too concerned with her texting you a lot. I text you a lot and I'm not creepy (shut up, I'm not!)	01:08
	She's excited to see you. That's the case with most new friends. In a couple of months, when she's used to you, she'll probably ease off on the throttle.
	It's when that initial "fire" in both a friendship and a relationship dies off that you'll know if it's one that lasts.	01:08
Brittany Johnson	That's just it, though. The "fire" hasn't really even started. At least not with me. I'm keeping it cool until I know I can trust her.	01:09
valkyrstudios	New friendships have a fire to them at the start as well. That's what's happening now.	01:10
Brittany Johnson	Eh, there's a spark. But I wouldn't even say there's a platonic fire right now.	01:11
valkyrstudios	It's a metaphor, you know what I mean	01:12
Brittany Johnson	I know.	01:12
	I've just got such different feelings about it this time. I'm harder, less willing to open up or even let an attraction of any sort form on the chance she isn't interested or leads me on or something.	01:13
valkyrstudios	You can't stop an attraction from forming. If that were possible, I wouldn't be immensely infatuated with two of my best friends and my favorite Youtuber	01:17
Brittany Johnson	I know I can't, and I'm not trying to. It's just not forming due to the fear.	01:20
valkyrstudios	You need to really stop being so paranoid and making your emotions sound more in-control than they actually are. You create a mental placebo for yourself doing that.	01:22
Brittany Johnson	What do you mean?	01:23
valkyrstudios	How honest do we wanna get?	01:23
Brittany Johnson	Don't be a dick about it?	01:24
valkyrstudios	You like to do this thing where you personify your emotions. You make them sound like forces within your brain, rather than responses or impulses. I get it's a decent way to explain them to others, but it also gives the subtle impression to oneself that things like fear are controlling forces or seperate entities, rather than your brain warning you of potential danger. So what starts out as some harmless melodrama turns into being more panicked by things like fear and anger than you really ought to be.	01:26
Brittany Johnson	...Forces = responses and impulses. They enact a force on my emotions, and I don't like to just ignore the root of what's causing that fear or anger. Finding the root is the only way I've found to be able to effectively deal with shit so it doesn't have as much control over how I deal with things.	01:29
	If people ignore the cause, it just sits there and gets progressively worse.	01:29
valkyrstudios	No, what I'm saying is that your emotions are your brain saying "Proceed with caution." The Fight or Flight response is your brain saying "BAIL OUT! ABORT!" You have this very mystical way of looking at your own psychology. And the problem is twofold. 1. You are too close to you to analyze yourself fairly. 2. A lot of the mystical things you like to use to explain your issues simply don't exist. You frequently make a mountain out of a molehill. And because you make your problems sound bigger than they really are, you worry more. And the cycle perpetuates until you start having nightmares. You view people as "potential partner" rather than "new friend." You have that preoccupation with romance that a lot of teenage boys have, where they like the idea of having a girlfriend, then they get one and realize it isn't as heavenly as it sounds and bail.	01:33
	This message has been removed.	01:33
	I will assume that was a disconnect rather than a ragequit	01:41

Brittany Johnson	Don't worry about it tonight.	02:43
Jerry Peet	No, you do it now, you don't do it ever.	02:44
	Are you fucking serious?!	02:45
	You're going to pull this contrary bullshit now? You came on to talk to me and now you won't fucking do it?!	02:46
	This message has been removed.	02:46
	You have one more fucking chance. And if you pull this bullshit one more time, our friendship is over. I don't have the years required nor the patience to indulge this melodramatic crap!	02:48
	You don't get to run and hide under the covers every time something gets a little bit difficult	02:49

Brittany Johnson — 19:53

I've been spending quite a bit of time in between other shit thinking about how I wanted to approach this, and convincing myself to quit avoiding it. You crossed a line. Several, in fact. When I first approached you and said I wanted to talk, I had every intention of bringing up some things that had been bothering me in a civil manner so we could talk and work through it. When you told me you were going to sleep soon, I wanted to postpone because I wanted to have enough time to talk all this out and not have it be a rushed thing. You didn't want to listen to that, and instead tried to strong arm me into having a heart-to-heart with a sharp time limit right then and there. Which, incidentally, is similar to one of the original issues I wanted to discuss with you. So rather than getting into an argument with you since you were already getting testy with me, I backed out with the intent to try and approach you again at a later date when we had both calmed down and I had convinced myself (again) to attempt to talk with you.

Fast forward a week and a half - two weeks or so later, I sign back into Skype to talk to someone else and give a shot at talking to you. I was met with a barrage of angry, hurtful, petty messages leading up to a DEADLINE that I was to meet if I wanted our friendship to continue. Now let me go back and read through some of that.

How dare you compare me to Tara. How DARE you insinuate that I am anything like that abusive excuse for a person. Do you even realize that you just compared me to someone who was arrested for CHILD PORN and ABUSE OF CHILDREN? Do you have ANY idea how much of a slap in the face that was? But oh no, the slapping continued when you blatantly disregarded my mental state and made fun of my spiritual beliefs in the same sentence. This had NOTHING TO DO with my spiritual and energetic shit, and EVERYTHING TO DO with the fact that you have had me walking on eggshells around you for so long that I am SCARED to bring shit up to you! I brushed it off for the first few years because I knew you were going through a lot of rough shit, but lately it's gotten worse. You wanna know the reason I still haven't gotten a WoW account? It's because you BADGERED me. You refused to let it go. You refused to wait. You tried to verbally force me into downloading it on my shit laptop, when I KNEW it wouldn't even be worth playing because of the lag. You kept on and on and on. While I was trying to learn some things about the game prior to actually playing, all you could do was make little nags at me about how I was essentially being stupid for not just downloading the game when YOU wanted me to. On top of that, when I told you I prefer playing alone for the first few levels so I can get a feel of the game and not be carried through it, you straight up DID say I was stupid for playing that way and that I was "missing out" for not teaming up immediately.

Your respect for me has dwindled and I'm not sure why or if you even realize it. You have made me feel stupid for still having the desire for relationships, as if me getting n hurt in the past was my fault for even WANTING relationships as opposed to the people I got with being pricks. You wanna know the reason I've gotten cold and defensive toward you when you have your breakdowns and I KNOW I should be being supportive? Again, it's because I'm terrified of you taking it out on me like you have in the past. You get straight up CRUEL to me when you're in those states even if I am trying to be supportive, and I can't handle shit like that anymore. I'm not a punching bag nor will I be treated like one any longer.

I'm tired of you making fun of me. I'm tired of you thinking you know more than I do about my own fucking life. I'm tired of you thinking that just because you're one of the people I USED to come to for support, that means you get to assume you know better than I do about every little detail, even something as petty as my computer. And if you're really gonna sit there and disrespect my spiritual beliefs AND my anxieties, then have the nerve to put a timer on how long I have to crawl back and beg you to be my friend again...well frankly, fuck you. We may've been friends for years now, but I'll be damned if I let someone treat me like this again.

If YOU want to continue to have me in your life, YOU can come fucking talk to me. Good luck with your girl, and your channel.

Britt posts graphic depiction of CP

Remember, Britt has insisted that minors should have access to her blog and that it's important for minors to see what she's posting. When she says that it's important for minors to be able to see her posts, keep in mind that that includes this post.

Anyway, here's Britt explicitly describing the contents of the folder instead of handing it in to the cops and letting them do it.

I went back and looked at the screenshots on the Google Drive of the accounts, and have made a short list of pics she favorited that are flagged for possibly being CSEM based, or whose artists have been under investigation for CSEM or child sexual abuse, along with a brief description. Please note that unlike the original Sankaku anon who compiled everything, my ability to stomach this is actually kind of limited, so I may have missed something. I'm probably not going to go back to check, because it makes me sick to look at for too long. I also don't have an account these days so unlike the original anon who found this stuff, I can't check to see if it's still up or check artist credit for things so I only listed things whose artists I know definitively.

TRIGGER WARNING: Rape, CSEM, CSA, discussion of actual sexual abuse by adults to minors, BDSM elements, incest, and arguably prostitution of a minor by adults.

By account:

Ebaratara:
She has 3D pics and videos from Drax (who also goes by Lasto), who is a photorealistic artist specializing in shota and loli under the age of 10, as well as sholicon (children performing sexual acts on one another). The most instantly identifiable as his were a video of a prepubescent girl performing oral sex on a boy her age and a series of pictures of a prepubescent boy blindfolded and chained up to a bed being groped by a grown man who is touching himself who then strips the boy naked. These are both 3D, as is all his art. Drax was charged with sexually assaulting a minor in 2019. The case was settled out of court for an undisclosed sum.

She has a video of Spike from MLP being raped and crying. One of the animators, Amri, is currently awaiting trial for violating his native Estonia's Child Protection Act, Section 33, which states it is illegal to have sex with a child, put them into prostitution or make CSEM/own CSEM of a child. The video features Spike crying, shaking his head no, his assailant chuckling, and an unconscious Twilight Sparkle nearby.

She favorited a 3D painting by artist Masked of a young boy giving oral sex to a grown man. This is particularly disturbing because Masked is in prison for having sex with a neighbor's son, who he used to make the CSEM he used as references, though he was able to only get charged for CSEM possession/distribution because the boy's lawyer was not able to prove in a court of law that Masked had made the boy give him oral sex. However, in light of that being the exact sex act his victim repeatedly mentioned, having an image of that sex act in her favorites becomes even more unsettling, as that has an extremely high chance of being based on CSEM of that child. Going off of what was stated by the mods of ShotaWorld - another site I really don't recommend anyone look at - Masked's victim was between 5 and 8 when he was assaulted.

Flagged in yellow, meaning it was being reviewed for being possibly CSEM based, is a video by artist Sandsuna of a seductive tomboyish girl seducing and having sex with a man who appears to be in his 30s. Sandsuna is an artist who makes lolicon and shotacon animations. They have never been formally charged with anything, but their art regularly gets flagged due to how realistic the physics and proportions in the animations are.

Alchorative:
I couldn't find the Google Drive for Alchorative, but from what I can tell that was her shoving the old favorites onto another account, so we can assume it was the same. The original Sankaku anon detailed all the artists Lily had marked as favorite artists on there here, so I'll link that: https://www.tumblr.com/opinated-user/699499327392972800/anon-who-found-ebarataras-sankaku-account-here

Of note is that since that post was made, Kaneda has been charged with using her son to make reference material, and has also been charged with allowing a man to have intercural sex with her son in exchange for money, who was 2 at the time that took place. She is awaiting trial in Japan.

SpiritusKhayaamAliana:
Drax (Lasto) is in her favorited artists again.

SpiritusKhayaamAliana:
Drax (Lasto) is in her favorited artists again.

The same Sandsuna video showed up of a seductive loli who gets a grown man to give in and sleep with her. Unflagged but also Sandsuna are pictures of seductive shotas seducing grown men, seductive tomboyish/short haired girls having sex with their brothers/men clearly related to them, and prepubescent boys masturbating.

Art of Genshin Impact character Venti is flagged and in her favorites, and was in the favorites for her ElethynAscentia account, too. It's not CSEM based, it's adult porn pic referenced (the artist provided Sankaku with the references), it just gets flagged regularly for the realistic texturing of the genitalia and semen being paired with a character who is a GNC child.

Highlighted red, meaning slated for deletion/was actually found to be based on CSEM/is highly suspected of being based on CSEM is a 3D, photorealistic pic of a man who has just finished having sex with and pulled out of a toddler.

Also hightlighted red: a 3D video of a young girl in lingerie having sex with a grown man.

Third highlighted red: a video of a grown woman having sex with a child. I can't tell from the thumbnail if the child is a boy or girl or what kind of sex they're having.

Fourth highlighted red: a video of a grown man raping a drugged boy, who is his son. I recognize the thumbnail because this artist has been booted off of Fanbox, Pixiv and ShotaWorld and the fandom for Captain Spirit hates them. Captain Spirit is canonically 8-10 years old. I can't tell if it's the full video, which featured both oral and anal rape, or if it's the shorter one that's purely anal.

Flagged in yellow is art of a boy being gangraped by 9 or 10 men (it's hard to tell from the thumbnail). It's not 3D but the body of the boy is extremely realistic looking.

Fifth flagged in red: a 3D video of a young child in a school uniform having sex on a desk. She looks distraught, possibly crying.

Sixth flagged in red: a 3D image of two girls, one on her back with her legs spread, naked from the waist down, and one, young enough to be in diapers, curled up in the fetal position beside her.

Flagged in yellow: video by Lesdias, an artist who has been cleared of CSEM charges but consistently gets hit with them due to his 3D videos being so realistic. (He uses images of people with dwarfism for his art. Your opinion may vary on if that makes it better considering his art removes adult breasts and features, but at least he is not in fact using CSEM that we know of.) The video is of a prepubescent girl being raped by two grown men.

The Spike rape video is there again.

ElethynAscentia:

Flagged in yellow: a 3D picture of a boy from behind, presenting his genitalia in disturbingly clear detail.

Flagged in yellow: a pic that's a closeup of a man anally penetrating a boy he's holding in his lap. The shading, muscle and hair textures are incredibly realistic.

Flagged in yellow: a pic that's a closeup of a young girl's genitalia from behind.

Flagged in yellow: a video of a man forcibly spreading a young girl's anus open. It looks like it hurts; the nails of his fingers are digging into the skin hard enough to begin to bruise, and she has wet herself.

The aforementioned Spike rape video shows up again.

Not flagged, but worth noting are four videos by Anaru, who is under investigation right now for CSEM possession, though she hasn't been charged with anything. Three of the videos are of grown women (one is Elsa) performing oral sex on young boys. The fourth, which triggered the investigation into Anaru, is of a drugged child being anally raped by a grown man, who films himself doing it.

Flagged in red: the infamous 3D Kaneda video she used her two year old son to produce. Judging by the date in the screenshots it might have been from when the one with audio was circulating. Kaneda used her son's crying for the audio, then cut it when people started questioning how realistic it sounded and the fact that you can hear the microphone being moved/background sounds.

If I missed anything I'm sorry but I'm not going back to double check, I'm 100% going to need a very strong drink, this was a miserable experience. But that's it, that's a list of flagged images, flagged videos and artists who we know Lily looked at.

It's kind of funny how every pro-Lily person who comes onto these blogs is firmly of the idea that fiction affects reality, but they support someone who looks at this kind of fiction, made by these kinds of people. And by funny I mean incredibly alarming and I might be sick if I think about it for too long.

I...fucking hell...

To note, Lily has directly and via her Tara Callie account publicly and privately expressed her interest in rape, lolicon, and small children. Lily has written a multi-part series and a short containing graphic scenes involving young children and young teens. Every single one of those accounts have usernames that are unique to Lily (Ebaratara being a combination of her two sockpuppet accounts, Alchorative being the pen name of the Tara Callie account, ElethynAscentia being a combination of the character she stole from Lizzy and one of her most well-known OCs, and SpiritusKhayamAliana being a reference to one of her fanfics and her most recent main OC). The contents of these favorites line up with things Lily has either obsessed over, or has admitted to enjoying.

Lily Orchard is a predator...

Britt Vs. Eazy

This is a continuation of the section regarding Britt being kicked from my server. These are the screenshots of the final argument. Some of you may disagree with the criticisms that Britt gets here, but keep in mind that the issue with this conversation isn't about who's right; it's about how Britt handled the concerns of this traumatized young adult.

Bruh wtf did I find 💀

Does anyone know if joon can be trusted with this shit?

Genuinely asking here

Deleted User 10/2/24, 2:47 PM

Jooon mainly does documentry style videos its less tea and more just, going over a situation and presenting plainly he tends to keep opinions out of videos which is mainly why this is going to be much worse for lily then someone like lazy beadhead or any tea channel covering her because it eliminates her bias defense more a youtuber history video then anything if that makes sense? (edited)

First of fucking all, I am queer and had to grow my ass up as a masc woman in an extremely religious environment so don't you dare start telling me I don't know shit about queer issues. Second of all, this whole conversation, I've been trying to understand your fear and perspective about this situation and I never once denied it's a problem and a possibility. Your point jumped from fear that Joon himself wasn't going to be tactful about it and cause problems, which I tried to soothe that fear since I spoke to the guy and I know how he feels about everything and how he wants to be delicate about things. That's something I brought up to him. Then it jumped to fear that people who make vids after him are going to cause a problem, which I outright said is a valid concern and also not something I want to happen. Then you accused me of denying it, which I never did.

You're the one getting defensive and throwing a lot of fuckin' ignorant shit around about me personally right now, and accusing me of shit I haven't done. I backed out because I was under the impression we were having a discussion about the future potential fallout of this shit and you decided to escalate to 100 when it never needed to go there. So you keep running your mouth if you want to, but don't sit there and make ignorant ass statements about me or my personal life like you fuckin' know me.

Because it is virtually impossible to stop it when a few hundred thousand people are going to be informed of this. It's not something I want, it's something I have no control over.

Nicole has tried to claim I manipulated the rest of my server into believing that what she and Britt were doing was racist...in a space made up almost entirely of POC.

We have three possible scenarios, here:

1. I’m an expert at manipulation.
2. Everyone in my Discord server is just unbelievably gullible.
3. The POC in my server had several bad experiences on their own and independently came to the conclusion that racism was afoot.

Literally the night before this happened I was in a voice call with Fennec and a few others. We were perfectly friendly and civil and doing a drawing game together. I thought of them as good friends.
They showed no sign of having any issue with us until after this ban. They never came to talk to us about any grievances they had with us beforehand. Fennec and Red saw this argument happening and used it as an excuse to get rid of people they didn't like. And then when other people started asking questions, Fennec painted the narrative that we were racist Karens beating down on a POC minor.

[Post]

But since the claim here is that I “painted a narrative when people started asking questions”, let’s see what the reaction from the server was, shall we?

There's more clowning, but it just feels mean. There's no reason to harp on it more than I already have.

Only one person left because of Britt and Nicole's kicking. The rest welcomed it. I of course feel that this could have been handled better by myself and my moderating team, and we decided to approach things differently moving forward from the incident.

Thanks for reading this section, I appreciate it. Have a sleepy fenk.

The Silly Stuff

The Silly Stuff

This tab is dedicated to things I wouldn't consider serious enough to actually be part of the rest of the document, so it's lovingly nestled into a section I'm dubbing "The Silly Stuff". The point is largely to illustrate how childish these people really are. It's also kind of like dessert for anyone that's actually sat down and read the whole thing.

The Bingo Card

While in my very own private server, I made a bingo card of things I was anxious about Courtney doing in retaliation following the release of the doc.

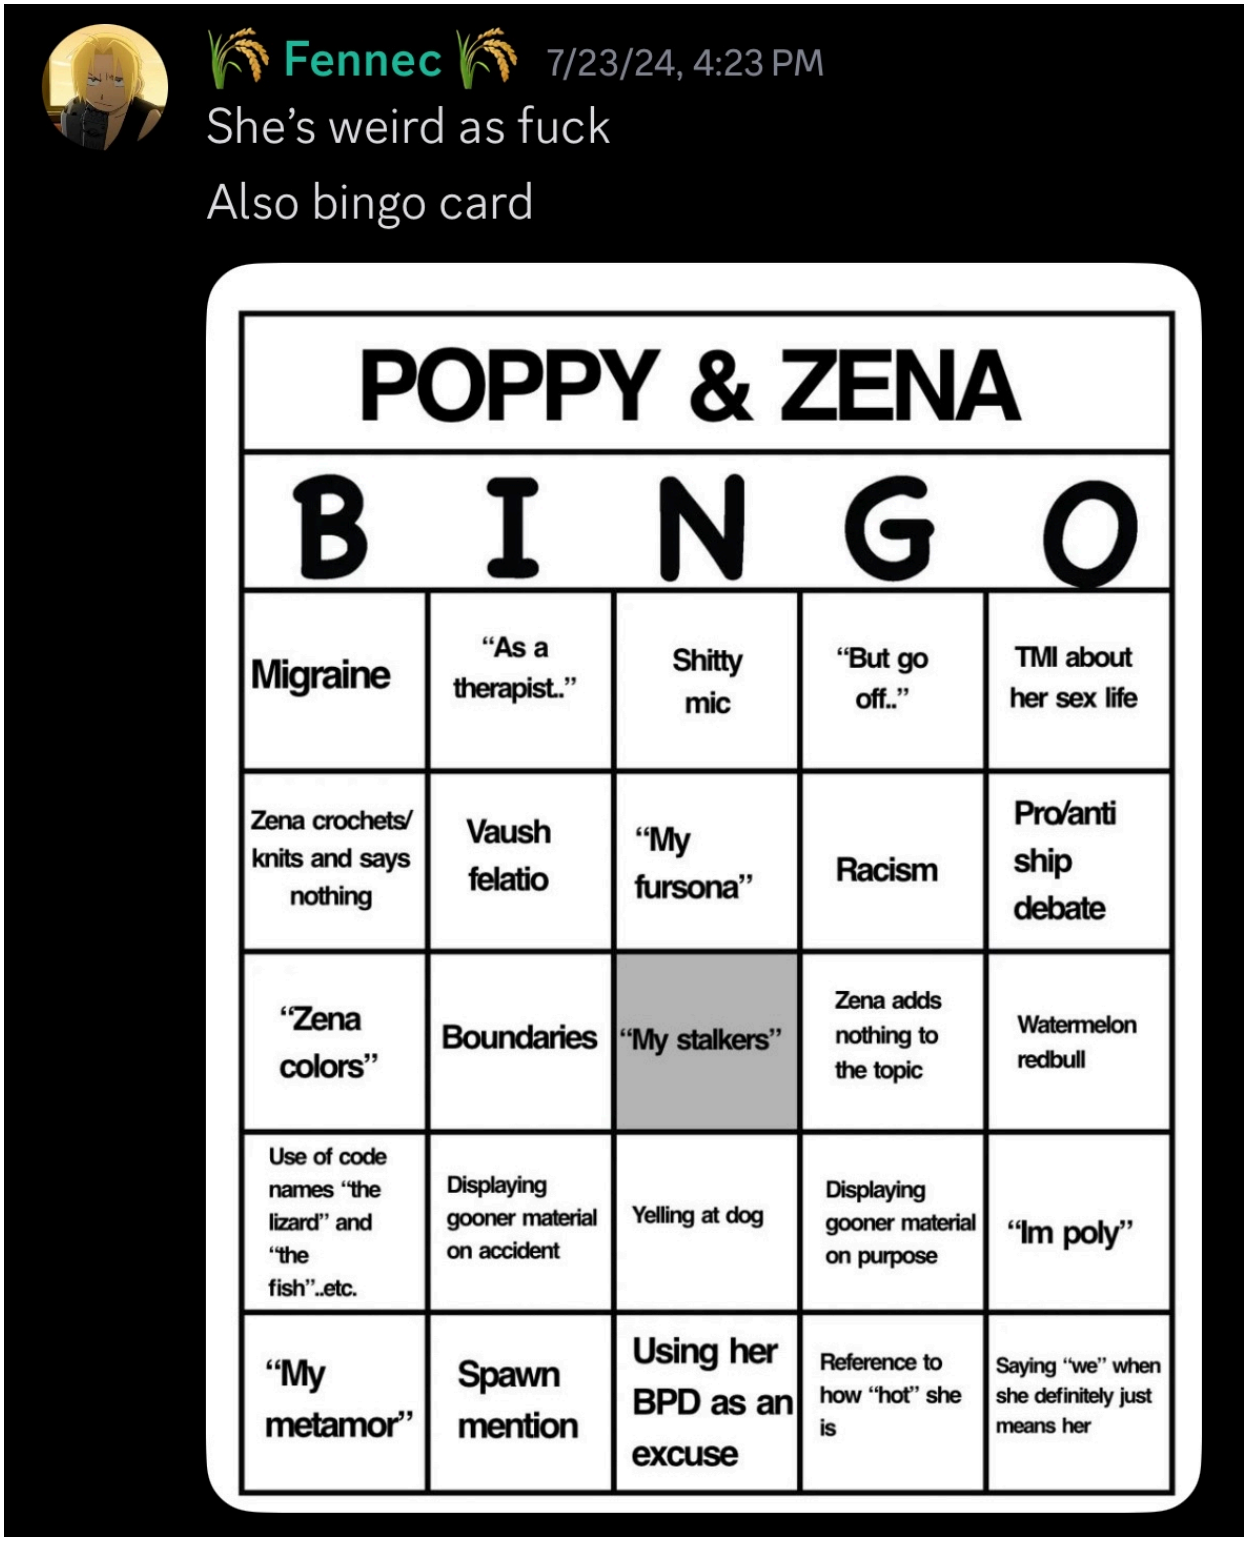
Worthy of note, none of the things described are pleasant outcomes. The point is that Courtney is very predictable in the way that she exercises her power over others. Namely, weaponizing people's personal traumas and identities. Why would anyone be excited about any of these things happening to them? The joke is that she's actually awful.

This is not the only bingo card that was made in my server. We made one for Poppy and Zena as well.

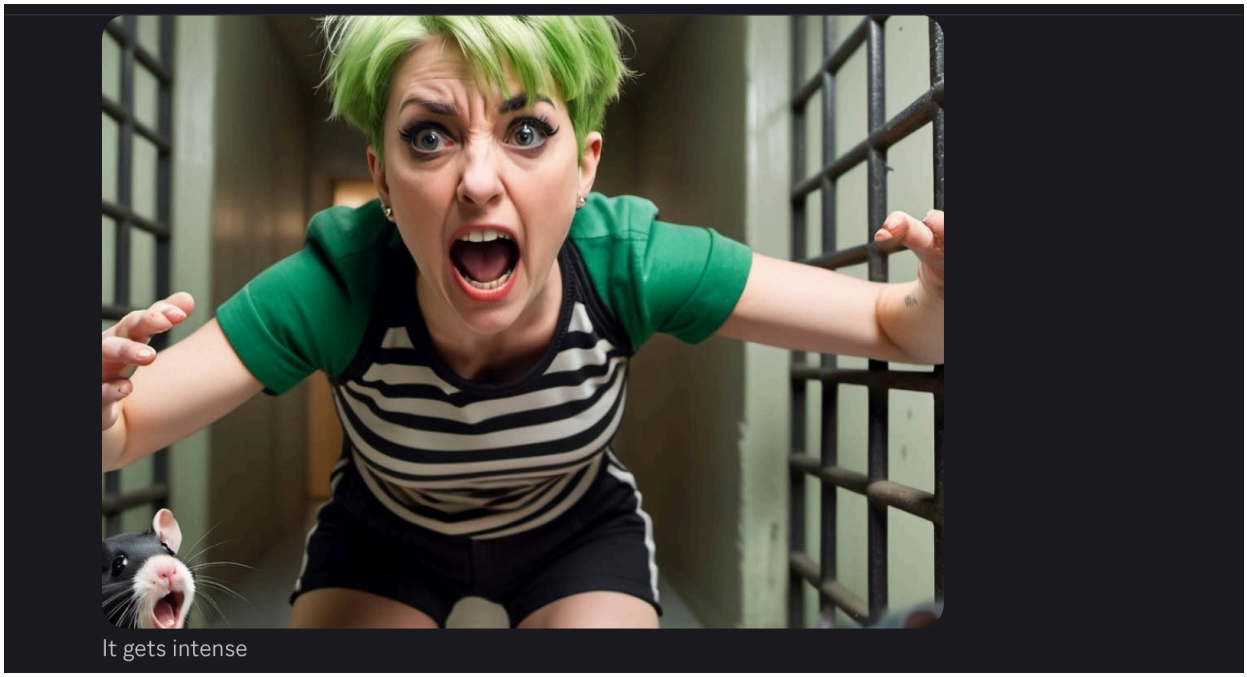


I'm gonna be honest, I think this one is worse than the Courtney one because it is thoroughly bitch-eating-crackers levels of petty.

Of course, Nicole can't really say much about bitch-eating-crackers. She did, after all, AI-generate several images of Courtney in prison. For those who are not aware, Felina is Nicole's pet rodent.

Nicole DRAW 9/30/24, 9:25 PM

Guys here's my fanfiction about Courtney and AI Felina working together



This is just absurd. The part of this that really gets me is how much it actually looks like Courtney.

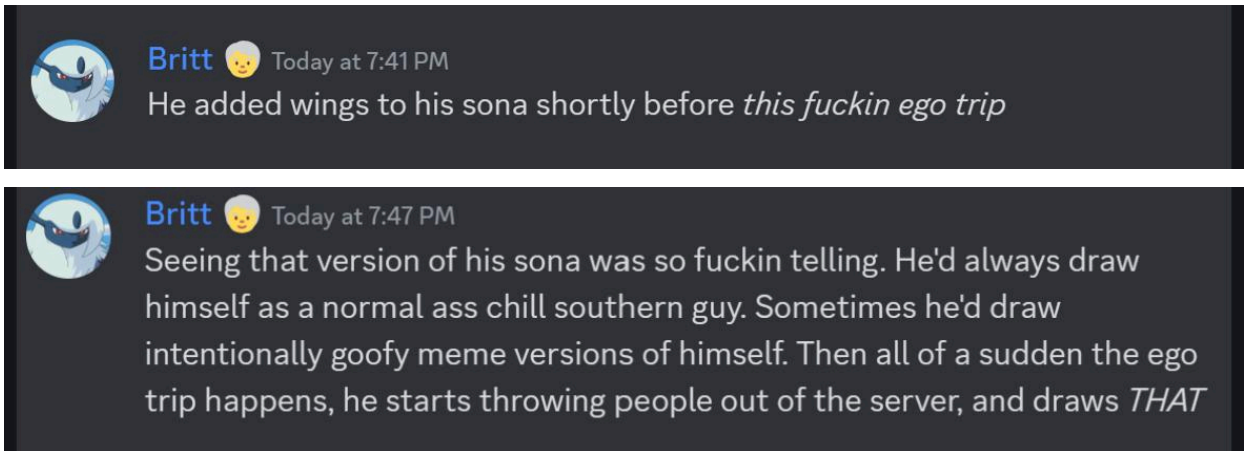
Also, I just love that the hamster-rat is also yelling.

The Furry Wars

There's been some discussion surrounding a particular art piece I made awhile back.

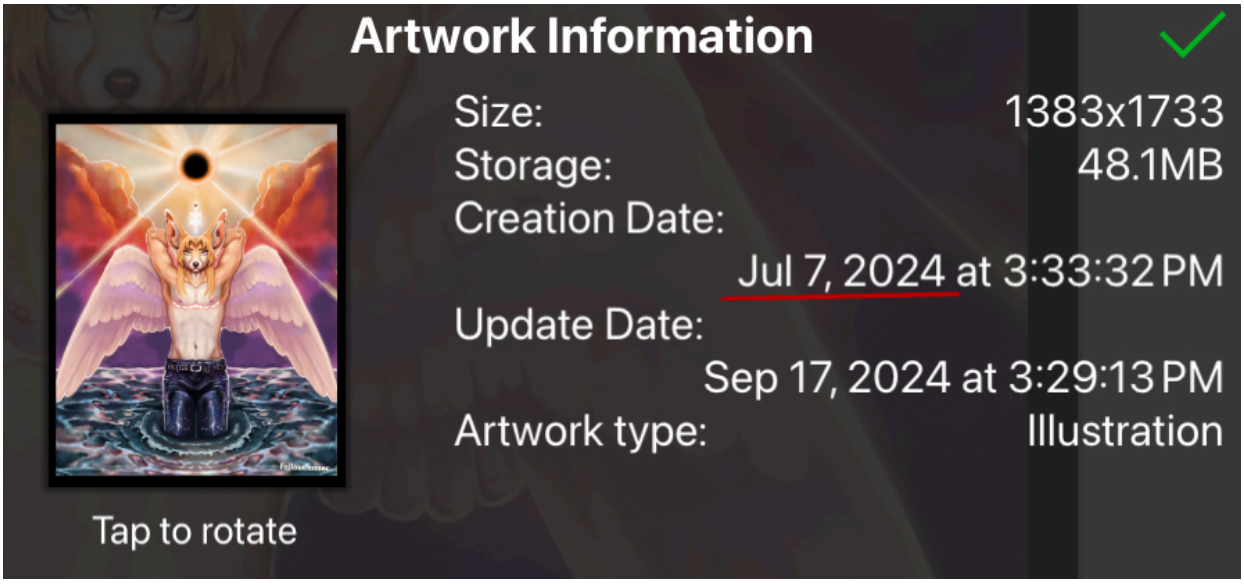
I want to start by saying I... don't really like this drawing. I think it's too detailed and it ruins the focal point. The colors were a neat idea, but it's not a satisfactory execution of what I was trying to accomplish. That being said...

Britt seems to think this piece was about her, somehow.

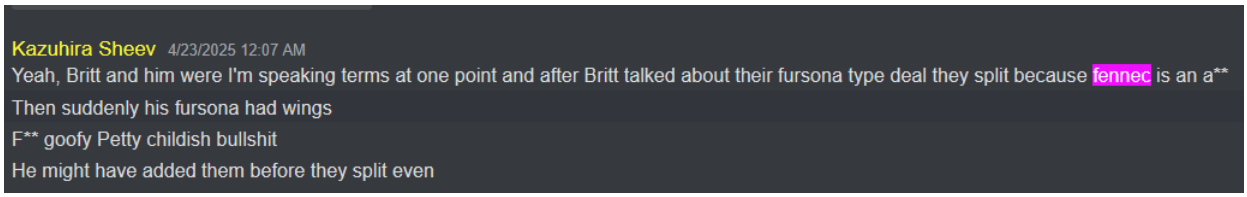


Britt Today at 7:41 PM
He added wings to his sona shortly before this fuckin ego trip
Britt Today at 7:47 PM
Seeing that version of his sona was so fuckin telling. He'd always draw himself as a normal ass chill southern guy. Sometimes he'd draw intentionally goofy meme versions of himself. Then all of a sudden the ego trip happens, he starts throwing people out of the server, and draws THAT

The funny thing is, I started this drawing far before Britt was ever even aware of it.



Thus, the assertion that it was “to spite Britt” began.



Kazuhira Sheev 4/23/2025 12:07 AM
Yeah, Britt and him were I'm speaking terms at one point and after Britt talked about their fursona type deal they split because fennec is an a
Then suddenly his fursona had wings
F goofy Petty childish bullshit
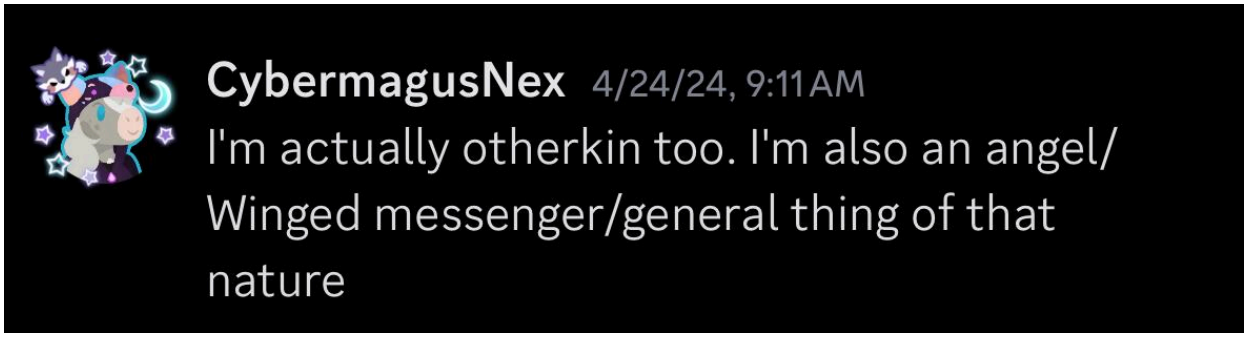
He might have added them before they split even

I think this may actually be the dumbest thing these people have accused me of. I felt brain cells die because of it. This is the most DeviantArt-ass middle-schooler shit I’ve ever seen from a thirty-something year old.

The wings were never a permanent staple of the character, I just thought they would look cool for this piece. The reason that Britt thinks I “stole” this design from her is because her previous fursona was a wolf with wings, an extremely common edge-lord fursona. Well, calling it a fursona is an over-simplification. She spiritually identifies as Angel-Wolf-Godkin (hence the “angel wolf” part of her nsfw username).



While I don’t want to mock anyone’s beliefs, I do find it interesting that she would say someone depicting themselves similarly is “ego-tripping.” The idea that she kins herself as a divine entity that’s specifically a “messenger” is very telling about how she sees herself in all of this.

This is also not the first time I had depicted the character with wings.

[And look who reblogged it!]

This situation is deeply unserious and very funny to me.

This is one of my more recent pieces of the same character.

Look Ma, no wings! He is once again, just some guy. Which is accurate to how I see myself.

Well, I hope you enjoyed this section. It's a lot more chill than the rest of the doc and you all deserved some lighter material to take the edge off.

Thanks for reading.
